The Savings Bank and Its Practical Work William Henry Kniffin,1913 Beyond the passbook relationship: Assessing preferences for contracts among cotton and tea farmers and companies in Malawi Ochieng, Dennis O., While contract farming provides opportunities to link smallholder farmers to markets its sustainability depends on how the interests of both farmers and buyers are addressed Previous studies analyze farmers preferences for contracts but buyers preferences for contracts and design attributes are hardly examined This Working Paper contributes to the knowledge gap by analyzing farmers and buyers preferences for contracts and design attributes and the similarities and differences in preferences using a discrete choice experiment with 505 cotton farmers and 512 tea farmers in southern Malawi Using a mixed logit model the author examines farmers and buyers preferences and estimate farmers willingness to pay for improvement of contract attributes Results show that both farmers and buyers have positive preferences for contracts in general and for many design attributes The author however observes clear differences in preference for payment mode where farmers prefer spot payments while buyers prefer delayed payments Further while both parties prefer better quality products there are no standardized grading systems for the two crops in Malawi Consequently buyers are skeptical of farmers ability to produce quality products while farmers are distrustful of buyers grading systems Even though buyers are open to offer contracts that provide inputs or insurance to farmers there are no information sharing platforms to guide in contracting farmers thus exposing buyers to risks of contract default The author also finds that farmers prefer contracts that address their social needs as seen in their choice of contracts with funeral expenses insurance Such attributes could strengthen the relationship between farmers and buying companies Sustainable contract schemes require designing contracts that are acceptable to both farmers and buyers by balancing risks between the parties Successful contract relationships have to build business relationships and foster mutual trust by developing standardized grading systems and information sharing platforms for buyers and farmers to guide selection into the schemes To minimize side selling companies can advance cash credit to liquidity constrained farmers but this must be accompanied by stronger contract enforcement mechanisms

The Value of Employment for People with Disabilities Around the World Renáta Tichá,Brian Abery,Jan Šiška,2024-07-03 Receiving education and training that lead to a meaningful job having a career and being a valued contributor to a professional environment is taken for granted by many Historically however people with disabilities have had limited opportunities to engage in employment due to discrimination ableism and low expectations despite the fact that employment is a basic human and civil right This book is intended to build awareness and inspire action on the part of chief executive officers human resource managers and supervisory personnel to facilitate employment opportunities for people with disabilities It will be of interest to policy makers and other professionals who support people with disabilities as part of their responsibilities in labor and social service ministries vocational rehabilitation service providers and employment service providers The book is written by authors with backgrounds in a variety of disciplines related to the employment of people with disabilities across North America Europe Asia Africa and Australia Reports of Cases Decided in the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of the State of New York New York (State). Supreme Court. Appellate Division, Marcus Tullius Hun, Jerome B. Fisher, Austin B. Griffin, Edward Jordan Dimock, Louis J. Rezzemini, Leland F. Coss, James M. Flavin, 1996 House documents , 1889 The Fur-seal and Other Fisheries of Alaska United States. Congress. House. Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, 1889 Annual Report of the Board of Directors Iowa State Agricultural Society, 1891 Force Majeure and Hardship Under General Contract Principles Christoph Brunner, 2009-01-01 Lawyers involved in international commercial transactions know well that unforeseen events affecting the performance of a party often arise Not surprisingly exemptions for non performance are dealt with in a significant number of arbitral awards This very useful book thoroughly analyzes contemporary approaches particularly as manifested in case law to the scope and content of the principles of exemption for non performance which are commonly referred to as force majeure and hardship The author shows that the general principles of law approach addresses this concern most effectively Generally accepted and understood by the business world at large this approach encompasses principles of international commercial contracts derived from a variety of legal systems It s most important restatements are found in the 1980 United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods CISG and the UNIDROIT Principles of International Commercial Contracts UPICC Establishing specific standards and case groups for the exemptions under review the analysis treats such recurring elements as the following contractual risk allocations unforeseeability of an impediment impediments beyond the typical sphere of risk and control of the obligor responsibility for third parties subcontractors suppliers legal impediments acts of public authority and effect of mandatory rules involvement of states or state enterprises interpretation of force majeure and hardship clauses hardship threshold test frustration of purpose irreconcilable differences comparison with exemptions under domestic legal systems impossibility of performance frustration of contract impracticability The book is a major contribution to the development of the use of general principles of law in international commercial arbitration It may be used as a comprehensive commentary on the force majeure and hardship provisions of the UPICC as well as on Art 79 of the CISG In addition as an insightful investigation into the fundamental question of the limits of the principle of sanctity of contracts this book is sure to capture the attention of business lawyers and interested academics everywhere The Code of Federal Regulations of the United States of America , 1997 The Code of Federal Regulations is the codification of the general and permanent rules published in the Federal Register by the executive departments and agencies of the Federal Government The Northeastern Reporter , 1912 Supreme Court Appellate Division Fourth

Department , A Treatise on the Law of Banks and Banking Thomas Johnson Michie,1913 Terror Capitalism Darren Byler,2021-11-02 In Terror Capitalism anthropologist Darren Byler theorizes the contemporary Chinese colonization of the Uyghur Muslim minority group in the northwest autonomous region of Xinjiang He shows that the mass detention of over one million Uyghurs in reeducation camps is part of processes of resource extraction in Uyghur lands that have led to what he calls terror capitalism a configuration of ethnoracialization surveillance and mass detention that in this case promotes settler colonialism Drawing on ethnographic fieldwork in the regional capital r mchi Byler shows how media infrastructures the state s enforcement of Chinese cultural values and the influx of Han Chinese settlers contribute to Uyghur dispossession and their expulsion from the city He particularly attends to the experiences of young Uyghur men who are the primary target of state violence and how they develop masculinities and homosocial friendships to protect themselves against gendered ethnoracial and economic violence By tracing the political and economic stakes of Uyghur colonization Byler demonstrates that state directed capitalist dispossession is coconstructed with a colonial relation of domination The Encyclopedic Digest of Alabama Reports Thomas Johnson Michie,1919 Income Tax Regulations, Final and Proposed Under Internal Revenue Code Commerce Clearing House,1991 New York Digest ,1915
