Y. Okosun,2017-12-27

Presidential Conflict in Côte d'Ivoire Governance Political Power and Social Justice explores the 2011-2012 presidential conflict in Côte d'Ivoire focusing on the conflict's impact on governance political power civil society security and social justice. The book examines the ways in which dictatorial governance detracts from democratic and civil society aspiration the intersection of power based conflict and its impact on citizens and their security and the role ethnic sentiments and negotiation play in de-emphasizing the humanity of non-favored groups. Moreover the presidents conflicting perspectives on the nature of governance and political power marginalized concerns specifically regarding the significance of democracy civil society and social justice. Despite President Laurent Gbagbo's challenge and demand for democracy his presidency was unable to avoid morphing into dictatorial and autocratic governance. Autocracy and dictatorship had already inseeded Côte d'Ivoire during the thirty years of President Félix Houphouët-Boigny's benign dictatorship. It is within this rigidity that Gbagbo a product of Ivorian socio-political history socialized in dictatorial ethnic and elite sentiments constructed his version of autocracy and dictatorship and refused to yield power to a new president-elect Alassane Ouattara triggering a national presidential conflict. This analysis of the presidential conflict is an effort to forestall future similar issues around the globe but specifically in poor and developing nations from destabilization and violence. The book concludes with an African Conflict Transformation model constructed as a consultative option for political conflict mitigation purposes.

Poverty: Essays In Applied International Trade Analysis L. Alan Winters, 2015-03-26 Non Tariff Barriers Regionalism and Poverty is a collection of key articles in three important areas of applied international trade research measuring non-tariff barriers and their effects the consequences of regional trading arrangements especially on the countries excluded from them and the connection between international trade and poverty. Drawing from 30 years of research and experience L. Alan Winters illustrates the development of techniques of this field and his continued commitment to answering real policy questions at the times at which they are debated. The collection shows the ways in which economic and econometric analysis can be used to answer real world problems rigorously in the area of international trade and trade policy. Readers will find that some of the research included is of current methodological relevance and some of more historical significance. This volume is invaluable to anyone who is keen on developing their knowledge on trade policy regionalism or poverty three pressing issues in today's globalized world.
