Stilwell's conduct in the CBI theater a failure to understand the American political context in which he operated Stilwell advocated for a transactional military and political relationship despite clear indications that President Roosevelt other political leaders and the American public at large desired a long term cooperative relationship In this context of deep and widespread public support for forging a close and lasting alliance with China Stilwell's proposals to make military aid and American support on a quid pro quo basis was an isolated position that inevitably ran into staunch opposition The result was a dangerous disconnect between American military operations and national policy Setzekorn who is fluent in Chinese relied on a wide variety of sources when writing this penetrating account of the U S military's time in the CBI theater including Chinese and Japanese language archival material The declassification of numerous U S government sources over the past fifteen years also enables Setzekorn to make a full assessment and analysis of World War II era strategic thinking and military policy

Stilwell and Mountbatten in Burma Jonathan Templin Ritter, 2017-04-15 Stilwell and Mountbatten in Burma explores the relationship between American General Joseph Vinegar Joe Stilwell and British Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten in the China Burma India Theater CBI and the South East Asia Command SEAC between October 1943 and October 1944 within the wider context of Anglo American relations during World War II Using original material from both British and American archives Jonathan Templin Ritter discusses the military political and diplomatic aspects of Anglo American cooperation the personalities involved and where British and American policies both converged and diverged over Southeast Asia Although much has been written about CBI Stilwell and China and Mountbatten no published comparison study has focused on the relationship between the two men during the twelve month period in which their careers overlapped This book bridges the gap in the literature between Mountbatten's earlier naval career and his later role as the last Viceroy of British India It also presents original archival material that explains why Stilwell was so anti British including his 1935 memorandum titled The British and his original margin notes to Mountbatten's farewell letter to him in 1944 Finally it presents other original archival material that refutes previous books that have accused Stilwell of needlessly sacrificing the lives of his men during the 1944 North Burma Campaign merely out of hatred for the British
