Generalist Practice in Larger Settings Thomas M. Meenaghan, W. Eugene Gibbons, 2000 Generalist Practice in Larger Settings, Second Edition Professor Emeritus in the Ehrenkranz School of Social Work Thomas M Meenaghan, Thomas M. Meenaghan, W. Eugene Gibbons, John G. McNutt, 2005-06 Throughout the book the authors help students logically develop practice with appropriate theoretical underpinnings and show them how they can be significant actors in larger systems The authors chose to stress the use of the generalist model with larger systems and create an overarching integrated social work theory In addition they integrate possible practice responses with selected relevant human behavior knowledge The authors stress critical thinking and problem solving which should help practitioners engage in relevant and accountable practices The authors believe that when social workers feel comfortable and capable doing macropractice they will then possess the necessary skills to help the community become empowered This affordably priced core paperback is structured to be supplemented by additional readings and a teacher's own thoughts and social work experiences Empowering Workers and Clients for Organizational Change Marcia B. Cohen, Cheryl A. Hyde, 2013-08-01 Marcia B Cohen and Cheryl A Hyde's book Empowering Workers and Clients for Organizational Change prepares students to successfully engage in organizational change practice The editors focus on low power actors students line staff volunteers clients social workers who can utilize their experience and knowledge gained from client and community interaction to initiate broad scale change These workers are often the most informed about the clients needs and are well positioned to collaborate with clients constituents supervisors and managers in ways that can empower everyone The contributing authors provide extensive case examples of real life organizational change instituted by low power actors that demonstrate the theories discussed throughout the book They then go on to discuss strategies to assess the structural characteristics of agencies organizational culture and empowerment This book also covers present force field analysis as an assessment framework to help promote change within human service agencies at the client service level Human Behavior and the Social Environment, Macro Level Katherine S. Van Wormer, Fred H. Besthorn, Thomas Keefe, 2007 Each person is a unique individual yet we all are also defined by groups those we belong to and those we are excluded from voluntarily or involuntarily In the second half of the Human Behavior and the Social Environment sequence Katherine van Wormer Fred Besthorn and Thomas Keefe take a stimulating new approach to exploring this macro view of humanity and demonstrating how each component of society from the single person to the sprawling organization is part of a dynamic whole Their collaboration has produced a remarkable volume that will help students recognize and consider interactions between and among individuals and social systems and thereby develop into truly effective social workers Outlines theoretical concepts and practice implications in each chapter Highlights the importance of the natural environment and ecology the community of the earth to human and group behavior Sets forth a refined understanding of the role of spirituality the community of faith in people's lives Focuses on evidence based theory and research Teaches from a global cross cultural perspective highlighting themes of empowerment and social justice Features dynamic readings and personal narratives that highlight each chapter's topic Accompanied by an online instructor's manual with Power Points for lecture presentations chapter summaries key terms suggested classroom activities and a test bank with essay and multiple choice questions Also available is a companion volume Human Behavior and the Social Environment Micro Level which offers an eye opening view of how biological psychological and cultural forces influence individuals behavior

Integrative Practice in and for Larger Systems

Harold E. Briggs, Verlea G. Briggs, Adam C. Briggs, 2019-07-02 Successful integrative practice begins at the nexus of intrapersonal and interpersonal levels of macro practice and requires a nuanced sensitivity to both Integrative Practice in and for Larger Systems guides readers through the development of a cohesive practice model to transform the management of community agencies Specifically the new model emphasizes accountability and awareness to the covert aspects of organizational culture and politics that underwrite effective service delivery The book also addresses a broad scope of issues that require thoughtful consideration including policy evaluations interagency community based practice innovation implementation across larger systems direct service program management and program and organization development Written from the vantage point of administering and managing community agency based practice using evidence informed approaches the text is an essential resource for students seeking to learn both agency and interagency management practices

Participation in Community Work Anne Karin Larsen, Vishanthie Sewpaul, Grete Oline Hole, 2013-09-11 Participation is a key community work method and this text written by an international selection of authors covers innovative approaches in community based education and practice Including real life case studies of participatory practice it offers new definitions of community work organisation and development and will challenge and inspire all those involved in community work practice and research Divided into four parts Participation in Community Work begins by exploring theoretical aspects of participation and the co construction of knowledge including the ethics of participation The second part focuses on the potential of participatory learning and action research with chapters presenting key techniques followed by case studies The third part looks at power and participation addressing issues of inclusivity capacity and democracy building and giving examples from a range of research and field projects Finally the fourth part begins the discussion of new and emerging challenges for community work globally This unique book is suitable for students researchers and practitioners interested in participation and community development from a range of disciplines including community work itself through social work and youth work to health promotion

Using Evidence in Social Work Practice Harold E. Briggs, Harold Eugene Briggs, Tina L. Rzepnicki, 2004 This comprehensive text is designed to provoke discussion Part I raises questions about the ethics the nature of evidence and the role of theory in evidence based practice Chapters in the second part serve as models for developing practice aimed at addressing particular problems and client populations Part III raises practical issues in implementation Critical thinking is stressed throughout the collection
