The Janus Face of International Politics Willem Gravett, 2023-11-25 This work investigates the Janus face of international relations refracted through the prism of the duality of Jan Christian Smuts as it manifested in his contribution to the League of Nations and his struggle against the emerging peace treaty A predominant characteristic of international relations is its requirement to face two different ways at the same time its Janus face States profess their adherence to lofty ideals for humanity alongside the pursuit of their own immediate self interest This phenomenon in the behaviour of states has been referred to as the distance between vision and reality and the gap between rhetoric and reality International relations is and is likely to remain suspended between these two extremes on the one hand the pursuit of utopian ideals for the world and on the other a defence of narrow self interest often prompted by the dictates of the realpolitik of the moment How then are the values that underlie the founding of the first cornerstone of the current international order the League of Nations to be understood An under explored case study in understanding the complex framework of international relations is that of the visionary and controversial South African Jan Christian Smuts 1870 1950 On the one hand Smuts was one of the principal authors of the Covenant of the League of Nations and the person directly responsible for the recognition of human rights as a founding value of the Charter of the United Nations On the other the Premier of racially segregated South Africa

General View of the Political History of Europe Ernest Lavisse,1891 General Catalog University of Missouri,1913 The Germanic Origin of New England Towns Herbert Baxter Adams,1884 Methods of Historical Study Herbert Baxter Adams,1884 Studies in Universities and World Affairs ,1957 Hearings, Reports and Prints of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs (1789-1975),1974 Constitutionalizing World Politics Karolina M. Milewicz,2020-07-23 The elusive ideal of a world constitution is unlikely to be realized any time soon yet important steps in that direction are happening in world politics Milewicz argues that international constitutionalization has gathered steam as an unintended by product of international treaty making in the post war period This process is driven by the logic of democratic power whereby states that are both democratic and powerful democratic powers are the strongest promoters of rule based cooperation Not realizing the inadvertent and long term effects of the specialized rules they design states fall into a constitutionalization trap that is hard to escape as it conforms with their interests and values Milewicz s analysis will appeal to students and scholars of International Relations and International Law interested in international cooperation as well as institutional and constitutional theory and practice Announcements and General Information Virginia Junior College,1922 Ethics and International Politics Luigi Bonanate,1995 In this study of an issue that has moved to the forefront of international relations Luigi Bonanate challenges the realist argument that relations between states are essentially amoral and governed exclusively by considerations of power and self interest He argues instead for the possibility of a moral theory of international life and in doing so lays a foundation for making moral assessments of international politics

Engineers in Japan and Britain Kevin McCormick,2013-02-01 Engineers are a key occupational group in the transformation of the modern world Contrasts between Japans economic miracle and Britains relative economic decline have often been linked to differences in education training and employment of engineers Yet such views have often rested on little more than colourful anecdotes and selective statistics Using careful and systematic comparisons Kevin McCormick locates the differences between rhetoric and reality to dismiss both the inflated claims of the 1980s and the excessive detracting of the 1990s with Japans prolonged recession Institute of Pacific Relations United States.
