Generational Equity Debate:

The Generational Equity Debate John Williamson, John B. Williamson, Diane M. Watts-Roy, Eric R. Kingson, 1999 Contains 13 essays which discuss social security and Medicare policies and the equitable distribution of social benefits across generations Debates the existence of a crisis and examines proposals for the reform of social security financing Aging, Society and the Life Course Leslie A. Morgan, 2007 As our aging population grows ever larger it is increasingly important to understand how adults age and what we can do to provide up to date care to ensure their well being as an integral part of society Leslie Morgan and Suzanne Kunkel understand that this phenomenon is about much more than just the physical or biological aspects of growing older and have put together a comprehensive text on the impact of society and sociology on the aging process Use this text to explore the diversity of the aging population and dispel the major stereotypes surrounding the elderly Learn about aging through all the layers of social context from family life to politics and economics And through this approach come to see how aging is more than just an individual process it is a process that effects the direction of our society as a whole For the Student Web sites of interest and key terms defined at the end of each chapter Real life stories and essays on love sex music medicine and crime For the Professor Assignment ready reading in a One Chapter a Week format Questions for discussion and review at each chapter end Applying Theory sections place the lesson of each chapter in a clear real world setting Instructor s Guide Now Available An Instructor s Manual for this textbook is available for those professors who have adopted Aging Society and the Life Course Third Edition and can verify a bookstore order of 7 or more copies Please email our Marketing Department at marketing.springerpub.com if you have adopted this text as you will need a password to download the guide Please provide the name and telephone number of the bookstore that ordered the textbooks A print version of the Instructor s Manual is also available Handbook of Fiscal Policy Jack Rabin, 2001-12-19 Providing forty articles written by experts this book explores the development of government spending and revenue policymaking the legacy of John Maynard Keynes taxes and tax policies government budgeting and accounting and government debt management Topics include the implications of the federal balanced budget amendment factors that affect implementation of fiscal policies the relationship between tax assessment and economic prosperity and debt management strategies by government institutions It covers the role of government in formulating economic policies for growth and full employment and reviews issues associated with the implementation of fiscal policies Aging Harry R. Moody, 2006-01-13 Welcome to the world s most unique and dynamic textbook on aging Widely praised and adopted in previous editions the Fifth Edition of Aging once again presents key issues in an engaging and accessible fashion Organized unlike any other traditional textbook author Harry R Moody presents basic concepts followed by controversies supported by carefully chosen adapted readings The result is the most captivating introduction to gerontology available today Policy Debates as Dynamic Networks Philip Leifeld, 2016-04-08 Policy debates between political actors can facilitate strain or change the direction of future policy making However existing measurement approaches do not tap the full potential of discursive institutionalist explanations of policy outcomes Based on social network analysis of political discourse this book develops a formal methodology for the dynamic analysis of political discourse using text data As a showcase the German politics of old age security in the 1990s are analyzed in this book in detail The literature offers several ideational explanations for the 2001 Riester reform a major policy innovation that breaks with previous incrementalist descriptions of pension policy making This book is an attempt to overcome the methodological limitations of policy network analysis and operationalize the relational elements hidden in political debates

From Nursing Homes to Home Care Marie E Cowart, Jill Quadagno, 2013-11-26 Older people who would prefer to stay in their homes and states whose funds are being depleted by the rising costs of Medicaid payments to nursing homes find the current system of long term care unsatisfactory From Nursing Homes to Home Care arms educators policymakers public health professionals gerontologists and advocacy groups with the information they need to participate knowledgeably in the debate about aging and long term care needs The book shows readers where things are where they are going and where they need to be in changing the system of long term care From Nursing Homes to Home Care evaluates future needs for long term care by analyzing on going systems and assessing key features of proposed long term programs in the context of population aging Readers gain a thoughtful analysis of the complex dimensions of making future long term care policy and program decisions as they read about patterns of demographic aging disability and health needs intersections of formal and informal care including intergenerational equity issues long term care services needs and accessibility planning for funding quality assurance and range of services implications of shifts from the current system to a system of home and community based services Chapters in From Nursing Homes to Home Care express the collective thinking of leaders in long term care policy and research Contributors address implications for changing the current system in relation to the emerging needs of the aging population and use this as a basis for examining alternative decisions Information in the book helps readers determine how to best blend formal and informal services how to assure quality of care and quality of life in long term care policy how to finance devised programs which health needs to address and whether to use regulatory or competitive approaches Professionals educators and students and policymakers at all levels learn about factors to consider in policy planning and decision making including features of aging baby boomers trends in the growth of the aged population newly emerging trends in morbidity disability and mortality and their effect on the demand for long term care in the short and long term access issues from the perspective of the historical evolution of publicly funded long term care services the distribution of formal and informal systems of care utilization patterns of the minority and poor how to pay for care how to design an appropriate mix of services how to maintain quality with efficiency and how to mesh services with social and family values From Nursing Homes to Home Care is an invaluable resource in evaluating and advocating policy changes and decisions for an improved long term care system

Aging, Society, and the Life Course, Fourth Edition Leslie A.

Morgan, Suzanne Kunkel, 2011-03-15 Doody's Score 91 4 Stars This book's unfading preoccupation with social context social processes and social structures distinguishes itself and greatly contributes to the discourse in gerontology The Gerontologist This is a comprehensive textbook for both undergraduate and graduate level courses detailing the impact of societal forces on the aging process The book focuses on the diversity of the older population examining it from micro macro perspectives in order to understand aging and the life course as social phenomena This latest edition examines significant changes in the field of social gerontology such as the paradigms of aging and the life course the baby boomer cohorts as they approach retirement and later life the growing interest in global aging and civic engagement This text encourages students to examine aging from personal familial community societal and global perspectives including both the positive and negative realities of aging Key Features Provides websites of interest at the end of each chapter Presents provocative essays on love sex music medicine and crime to further expand on chapter contents Provides review questions and key terms as study guides at the end of each chapter

The Changing Contract across Generations Vern L. Bengtson, W. Andrew Achenbaum, 2024-11-01 Generational conflict has attracted considerable attention in the media and within academic circles during the past decade At the center of this collection of papers analyzing various facets of that conflict lie complex issues of generational equity issues that will remain important for the framing of public policy during the 1990s What do the young and the middle aged owe the elderly In discharging that debt to what extent are they able to provide for their own old age in a climate of changing notions of welfare What light do the longer perspectives of history shed on these issues What role do kinship gender and economic status play The papers commissioned by Bengtson and Achenbaum are intended to give greater analytic rigor to current debates The volume is interdisciplinary not only by theoretical intent but by the practical imperatives of gerontology More than a dozen sociologists economists historians demographers and policy analysts discuss the meanings and ambiguities that are inherent in terms such as generation equity compact contract and conflict in order to assess how relations between the age groups seem to vary from one sociohistorical context to the next This distinguished group of contributors raises comparative issues throughout assessing variations in generational ties by gender race class and geographic location Several project the extent to which recent changes in the political economy public philosophy and demographic structure of most modern societies presage greater conflicts or greater consensus in family members relationships and social ties

Mentoring Across Generations Andrea S. Taylor, Jeanette Bressler, 2012-12-06 Currently blame for the difficulties facing youth is too often laid on one particular segment of the community whether parents school personnel or the children themselves However the problems of today's young people are problems for all generations In response the past decade has seen unparalleled proliferation of planned mentoring initiatives Across Ages the multi faceted and multigenerational intervention described in this volume uses older adult volunteers as mentors for young people By acting as advocates challengers nurturers role models and friends older mentors help children develop the awareness self confidence and skills they need to overcome overwhelming obstacles Across Ages is cost effective and feasible even where resources are fairly limited Although designed as a school based model this program can easily be adopted to other settings Each of the four major program components mentoring community service life skills instruction and family support is described in step by step detail Global Aging and Challenges to Families Vern Bengtson, 2018-01-16 The recent explosion in population ageing across the globe represents one of the most remarkable demographic changes in human history Population ageing will profoundly affect families Who will care for the growing numbers of tomorrows very old members of societies Will it be state governments The aged themselves Their families The purpose of this book is to examine consequences of global aging for families and intergenerational support and for nations as they plan for the future Global Aging and Its Challenge to Families Vern L. Bengtson, Ariela Lowenstein, The recent explosion in population aging across the globe represents one of the most remarkable demographic changes in human history There is much concern about population aging and its consequences for nations for governments and for individuals It has often been noted that population aging will inevitably affect the economic stability of most countries and the policies of most state governments What is less obvious but equally important is that population aging will profoundly affect families Who will care for the growing numbers of tomorrow s very old members of societies Will it be state governments The aged themselves Their families The purpose of this volume is to examine consequences of global aging for families and intergenerational support and for nations as they plan for the future Four remarkable social changes during the past fifty years are highlighted 1 Extension of the life course A generation has been added to the average span of life over the past century 2 Changes in the age structures of nations Most nations today have many more elders and many fewer children than fifty years ago 3 Changes in family structures and relationships Some of these differences are the result of trends in family structure notably higher divorce rates and the higher incidence of childbearing to single parents 4 Changes in governmental responsibilities In the last decade governmental responsibility appears to have slowed or reversed as states reduce welfare expenditures How will families respond to twenty first century problems associated with population aging Will families indeed be important in the twenty first century or will kinship and the obligations across generations become increasingly irrelevant replaced by personal communities This volume goes a considerable distance to answer these critical issues for the twenty first century Vern L Bengtson is an AARP University Chair in Gerontology and Professor of Sociology University of Southern California Ariela Lowenstein is associate professor and head Department of Aging Studies University of Haifa Israel Ageism Tay McNamara, John Williamson, 2019-05-24 Ageism Past Present and Future presents perspectives for understanding ageism and puts ageism in the context of specific social institutions McNamara and Williamson uniquely provide a number of complementary ways to understand ageism including social and psychological theories of ageism economic development ageism as frame or lens and ageism at the intersection of various social categories such as gender and race They then put ageism in the context of mass media health care employment and public policy This short text is an ideal addition to courses on sociology of aging social policy and social problems

Fiscal Tiers (Routledge Revivals) David King, 2016-02-05 First published in 1984 This book brings together and develops the economic theory relating to the design and operation of systems of non central government positing major developments in several areas It considers what functions systems most suitably perform in non central governments and their appropriate size and structure How these authorities might finance themselves by taxes charges or loans is analysed in detail It also examines the use of grants by higher tiers of government and how such programmes should be designed Concentrating on contemporary economic concerns it relates the theory to practice in countries such as Australia Canada West Germany the UK and USA

Challenges of Aging C. Torp, 2015-06-15 Population ageing is among the most important developments of our time This book explores the profound challenges faced by an aging world Leading experts from diverse disciplines describe the fundamental impact demographic aging has on pension systems on the concepts of retirement and old age and on the balance of generational justice

Age Discrimination John Macnicol, 2006-01-12 Age discrimination is a highly topical issue in all industrialised societies against a background of concerns about shortening working lives and ageing populations in the future Based upon detailed research and adopting an interdisciplinary approach this unique study traces the history of the age discrimination debate in Britain and the USA since the 1930s It critically analyses the concepts of ageism in social relations and age discrimination in employment Case studies on generational equity and health care rationing by age are followed by an analysis of the British government's initiatives against age discrimination in employment The book then traces the history of the debate on health status and old age addressing the question of whether working capacity has improved sufficiently to justify calls to delay retirement and extend working lives It concludes with a detailed examination of the origins and subsequent working of the USA's 1967 Age Discrimination in Employment Act

Long Lives Are for the Rich Jan Baars, 2023-07-26 Long Lives Are for the Rich is the title of a silent ominous program that affects the lives of millions of people In all developed countries disadvantaged and especially poor people die much earlier than the most advantaged During these shorter lives they suffer ten to twenty years longer from disabilities or chronic disease This does not happen accidentally health inequalities including those between healthy and unhealthy life styles are mainly caused by social inequalities that are reproduced over the life course This crucial function of the life course has become painfully visible during its neoliberal reorganization since the early 1980s Studies about aging over the life course from birth to death show the inhumane consequences as people get older In spite of the enormous wealth that has been piled up in the US for a dwindling percentage of the population there has been growing public indifference about the needs of those in jobs with low pay and high stress but also about citizens from a broad middle class who can hardly afford high quality education or healthcare However this ominous program affects all recent mortality rates show that all Americans including the rich are unhealthier and dying earlier than citizens of other developed countries Moreover the underlying social inequalities are tearing the population apart with nasty consequences for all citizens including the rich Although the public awareness of the consequences has been growing neoliberal policies remain tempting for the economic and political elites of the developed world because of the enormous wealth that is flowing to the top All this poses urgent questions of social justice Unfortunately the predominant studies of social justice along the life course help to reproduce these inequalities by neglecting them This book analyzes the main dynamics of social inequality over the life course and proposes a theory of social justice that sketches a way forward for a country that is willing to invest in its greatest resource the creative potential of its population

Parent-child Relations Throughout Life Karl Pillemer, Kathleen McCartney, 2013-09-05 The study of parent child relationships has long been of interest to behavioral scientists both for its theoretical importance and for its practice and policy implications There are however certain limitations to the knowledge in this area First research on parents and children is spread throughout a number of disciplines and as a consequence is not well integrated Further there has been little dialogue among researchers concerned with parents of young children and those interested in middle aged and elderly parents and their offspring The present volume predicates the notion that there is considerable similarity in the issues explored by researchers on different points of the life course Contributions by leading scholars in psychology sociology and anthropology are organized into four sections each of which contains a treatment of at least two stages in the life course The sections cover attachment in early childhood and in later life life course transitions relationships within families and the influence of social structural factors on parent child relations Although the chapters make important contributions to basic research and theory many also deal with issues of public concern such as day care maternal employment gay and lesbian relationships and care of the elderly

The Oxford Handbook of German Politics Klaus Larres, Holger Moroff, Ruth Wittlinger, 2022 Few countries have caused or experienced more calamities in the 20th century than Germany This handbook provides a comprehensive overview of some of the major issues of German domestic politics economics foreign policy and culture by leading experts in their respective fields

Baby Boomers and Generational Conflict Jennie Bristow, 2015-05-12 The dominant cultural script is that the Baby Boomers have had it all thereby depriving younger generations of the opportunity to create a life for themselves Bristow provides a critical account of this discourse by locating the problematisation of the Baby Boomers within a wider ambivalence about the legacy of the Sixties

Handbook of Theories of Aging Merrill Silverstein, Vern L. Bengtson, Vern L. Bengtson, PhD, Norella Putney, Daphna Gans, 2008-10-27 The field of gerontology has often been criticized for being data rich but theory poor The editors of this book address this issue by stressing the importance of theory in gerontology While the previous edition focused on multidisciplinary approaches to aging theory this new edition provides cross disciplinary integrative explanations of aging theory The contributors of this text have reached beyond traditional disciplinary boundaries to partner with researchers in adjacent fields in studying aging and age related phenomena This edition of the Handbook consists of 39 chapters written by 67 internationally recognized experts in the field of aging It is organized in seven sections reflecting the major theoretical developments in gerontology over the past 10 years Special Features Comprehensive coverage of aging theory focusing on the biological psychological and social aspects of aging A section dedicated to discussing how aging theory informs public policy A concluding chapter summarizing the major themes of aging and offering predictions about the future of theory development Required reading for graduate students and post doctoral fellows this textbook represents the current status of theoretical development in the study of aging
