GENERIC BIFURCATION FROM SYMMETRIC FIXED POINTS OF INVOLUTORY AREA PRESERVING MAPS

RUSSELL RIMMER

This thesis discusses the existence and bifurcation of periodic solutions in the class of conservative Hamiltonian systems with two degrees of freedom which admit a symmetry property. In particular, the three body problem, Stürmer's problem and Hill's equations are of this type. Associated with a periodic solution of such a system is a family of  $C^\infty$  area preserving maps of the plane into itself (which are derived from a certain Poincaré map). When the periodic solution is symmetric, the author has shown that this family of maps may be constructed so that each member of the family is involutory.

Now a "symmetric" fixed point of this family of maps corresponds to a symmetric periodic solution of the original Hamiltonian system. Hence, generic bifurcations from the symmetric periodic solutions of conservative systems may be studied by locating fixed points of families of involutory area preserving maps. If  $\phi$  is such a family of maps, and  $u$  is the symmetric fixed point of  $\phi_e$  such that the multipliers of  $\phi_e$  at  $u$  are 1, then the bifurcation behaviour is surprising (see [1]). For generically, either  $(u, e)$  can be embedded in a locally unique curve of symmetric fixed points (see Figure 1 (a)), or there are two curves of asymmetric fixed points bifurcating from  $(u, e)$  (see Figure 1 (b)).

Proof of this generic result involves the construction of generic bifurcations from critical points of  $C^\infty$  real valued functions, using the
