

MONITORING GLOBAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRESS

Projections show that the global poverty rate may have fallen to single digits in 2015. Yet, the number of poor remains high.

While income poverty fell rapidly during the MDG-era, a large unfinished agenda remains for the SDGs with respect to non-income goals.

An increasing share of the world's poor reside in Sub-Saharan Africa, requiring increased focus on this continent.

In most countries, income growth of the bottom 40% has been positive – accelerated growth is needed to meet poverty and shared prosperity objectives.

The 2009 crisis led to a sharp fall in growth but less so for low-income countries which, since 2009, have enjoyed the fastest growth.

While in some high-income countries the bottom 40 percent is middle class, in low-income countries they are extremely poor, pointing to different policy challenges in different settings.

Global Monitoring Report:

Global Monitoring Report 2013 World Bank, International Monetary Fund, 2013-05-02 Global Monitoring Report GMR 2013 provides an annual assessment of progress towards the Millennium Development Goals MDGs and addresses this year's theme of rural urban dynamics and the MDGs Global Monitoring Report 2004 ,2004-01-01 References pp 217 228

Global Monitoring Report 2007 International Monetary Fund, 2007 The 2007 Global Monitoring Report on the Millennium Development Goals MDGs assesses the contributions of developing countries developed countries and international financial institutions toward meeting universally agreed development commitments Fourth in a series of annual reports leading up to 2015 this year's report reviews key developments of the past year emerging priorities and provides a detailed region by region picture of performance in the developing regions of the world drawing on indicators for poverty education gender equality health and other goals Subtitled Confronting the Challenges of Gender Equality and Fragile States this year's report highlights two key thematic areas gender equality and empowerment of women the third MDG and the special problems of fragile states where extreme poverty is increasingly concentrated The report which is jointly issued by the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund argues that gender equality and the empowerment of women are central to the development agenda This is because gender equality makes good economic sense and because it helps advance the other development goals including education nutrition and reducing child mortality Rapid progress has been made in some areas such as achieving educational parity for girls in primary and secondary school in most countries But in many other dimensions including political representation and participation in nonagricultural employment performance still falls short Better monitoring and efforts at mainstreaming gender equality requires realistic goals strong leadership technical expertise and financing Global Monitoring Report 2015/2016 World Bank; International Monetary Fund, 2015-11-02 The Global Monitoring Report 2015 2016 produced by the World Bank Group in partnership with the International Monetary Fund comes at an inflection point in both the setting of global development goals and the demographic trends affecting those goals This year marks the end of the Millennium Development Goals MDGs and the launching of the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs while the World Bank Group has in parallel articulated the twin goals of sustainably ending extreme poverty and sharing prosperity This report presents the latest global poverty numbers based on the 2011 purchasing power parity PPP data and examines the pace of development progress through the lens of the evolving global development goals The special theme of this year's report examines the complex interaction between demographic change and development With the number of children approaching a global ceiling of two billion the world's population is growing slower It is also aging faster with the share of people of working age starting a decline in 2013 But the direction and pace of these trends vary starkly across countries with sizeable demographic disparities between centers of global poverty marked by high fertility and drivers of global growth marked by rapid aging These demographic disparities are expected to deeply affect the pursuit of the post

2015 agenda accentuating existing challenges and creating new opportunities Global Monitoring Report 2009 World Bank,2009-04-27 A Development Emergency the title of this year s Global Monitoring Report the sixth in an annual series could not be more apt The global economic crisis the most severe since the Great Depression is rapidly turning into a human and development crisis No region is immune The poor countries are especially vulnerable as they have the least cushion to withstand events The crisis coming on the heels of the food and fuel crises poses serious threats to their hard won gains in boosting economic growth and reducing poverty It is pushing millions back into poverty and putting at risk the very survival of many The prospect of reaching the Millennium Development Goals MDGs by 2015 already a cause for serious concern now looks even more distant A global crisis requires a global response The crisis began in the financial markets of developed countries so the first order of business must be to stabilize these markets and counter the recession that the financial turmoil has triggered At the same time strong and urgent actions are needed to counter the impact of the crisis on developing countries and help them restore strong growth while protecting the poor Global Monitoring Report 2009 prepared jointly by the staff of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund provides a development perspective on the global economic crisis It assesses the impact on developing countries their growth poverty reduction and other MDGs And it sets out priorities for policy response both by developing countries themselves and by the international community The report also focuses on the ways in which the private sector can be better mobilized in support of development goals especially in the aftermath of the crisis Tracking universal health coverage: 2021 global monitoring report World Health Organization,The World Bank,2021-12-12 Global Monitoring Report 2007 World Bank Publications,2007-01-01 The 2007 Global Monitoring Report on the Millennium Development Goals MDGs assesses the contributions of developing countries developed countries and international financial institutions toward meeting universally agreed development commitments Fourth in a series of annual reports leading up to 2015 this year s report reviews key developments of the past year emerging priorities and provides a detailed region by region picture of performance in the developing regions of the world drawing on indicators for poverty education gender equality health and other goals Subtitled Confronting the Challenges of Gender Equality and Fragile States this year s report highlights two key thematic areas gender equality and empowerment of women the third MDG and the special problems of fragile states where extreme poverty is increasingly concentrated The report which is jointly issued by the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund argues that gender equality and the empowerment of women are central to the development agenda This is because gender equality makes good economic sense and because it helps advance the other development goals including education nutrition and reducing child mortality Rapid progress has been made in some areas such as achieving educational parity for girls in primary and secondary school in most countries But in many other dimensions including political representation and participation in nonagricultural employment performance still falls short Better monitoring and efforts at mainstreaming gender equality requires realistic goals strong leadership technical expertise and financing Global Monitoring Report 2012 World Bank, International Monetary Fund, 2012-04-24 This year's report summarizes the short and long term impact of food prices on several MDGs explores future trends and review policy responses from domestic policies such as social safety nets nutritional programs and agricultural policies to regional trade policies to support by the international community Global Monitoring Report

2008 World Bank, 2008-04-14 Global Monitoring Report 2008 the fifth in an annual series is essential reading for those who wish to follow the global development agenda and debate in 2008 The year marks the midpoint toward the 2015 deadline for achieving the Millennium Development Goals MDGs It is also an important year to work toward a consensus on how the world is going to respond to the challenge of climate change building on the foundation laid at the Bali climate change conference in December 2007 The report spans this agenda It provides a comprehensive assessment of progress toward the MDGs and related policies and actions It addresses the challenge of climate change and environmental sustainability and assesses its implications for development The report's assessment of MDGs at midpoint presents a mixed picture one of both significant progress and formidable challenges The first MDG reducing extreme poverty by half is likely to be met at the global level thanks to a remarkable surge in global economic growth over the past decade But on current trends the human development MDGs are unlikely to be met Prospects are gravest for the goals of reducing child and maternal mortality but shortfalls are also likely in the primary school completion nutrition and sanitation MDGs The potential effects of climate change compound the challenge of achieving the development goals and sustaining progress The report's messages are clear urgent action is needed to help the world get back on track to achieve the MDGs and urgent action is also needed to combat climate change that threatens the well being of all countries but particularly of poor countries and poor people The goals of development and environmental sustainability are closely related and the paths to those goals have important synergies
