Dismantlement and Destruction of Chemical, Nuclear and Conventional Weapons N. Schulte, 2013-04-17 The end of the Cold War opened unprecedented opportunities for reductions in weapons of mass destruction With these opportunities came new challenges both scientific and political Traditionally approached by different groups the scientific technical and political challenges are inextricably intertwined Agreements to dismantle and destroy chemical nuclear and conventional weapons after having been negotiated via diplomatic channels require the expertise of scientists associated with their development to determine the safest and most environmentally sound methods of destruction It is in this context that representatives from sixteen countries and five international organizations were convened jointly by NATO the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Federal Republic of Germany and the State Government of North Rhine Westphalia 19 21 May 1996 in a meeting near Bonn to take stock of worldwide efforts to destroy and dismantle chemical nuclear and conventional weapons remaining after the end of the Cold War NATO support was provided under the auspices of the NATO Science Committee s Panel on Disarmament Technologies The conference brought together the major actors involved in the dismantlement and destruction of chemical nuclear and conventional weapons highlighted the substantial accomplishments achieved in this area and pinpointed the remaining technical obstacles still to be overcome It also underlined the critical importance of transparency data exchange and verification as indispensable preconditions for disarmament and cooperative security

Averting Disaster: Science For Peace In A Perilous Age - The Erice International Seminars On Nuclear War And Planetary Emergencies: From 1981 To 2008 William A Barletta, Henning Wegener, 2009-07-20 This is a book of testimonials from participants to the famous Erice International Seminars on Nuclear War and Planetary Emergencies The Erice International Seminars with their multidisciplinary scientific audiences have addressed since 1981 a long list of planetary problems and emergencies This book describes one of the most exciting intellectual and political ventures of the later part of the 20th century of the decades of the Cold War a period of bristling East West tension with the omnipresent possibility that its management might get out of hand and a war of unimaginable proportion and potential damage eruption The Erice International Seminars held in an idyllic setting of a small location in Western Sicily were the attempt to stem these perilous tides and to put science at the service of political problem solving in a new open and interdisciplinary approach aimed at the highest scientific level Thousands of top level scientists the best in their respective fields among them many Nobel Prize laureates have participated in the Seminars and their interdisciplinary working groups as well as the Permanent Monitoring Panels and have helped to generate a steady and influential flow of scientific insight United in their work in a unique community of knowledge wisdom and shared values these eminent scientists testify today the importance and the impact of the Erice International Seminars during the last 28 years
