Globalistics and Globalization Studies: Aspects & Dimensions of Global Views Arkadi D. Ursul, Endre Kiss, Alexander N. Chumakov, Olga G. Leonova, Tu Weiming, Peter G. Kirchsclaeger, Anthony Howell, Hae Kim, Jim Sheffield, 2014-04-30. Nowadays globalization processes have become all embracing. But at the same time, despite the ever increasing flow of publications on globalization, our understanding and knowledge of it still leaves much to be desired. Especially it concerns the global processes in general of which globalization is a part. We also need to systematize our ideas about globalization and Global Studies to somehow fit the realities. In particular, this concerns the education process because the current state of education will determine the way people will perceive reality in the forthcoming decades. This yearbook aims at contributing to the solution of these important tasks. It is the third in the series of yearbooks titled Globalistics and Globalization Studies. This year it has the following subtitle: Aspects Dimensions of Global Views. Its authors consider globalization and Global Studies in different dimensions and aspects: philosophical, methodological and pedagogical in terms of various processes, problems and perspectives. Of course to some extent this means that this yearbook presents rather diverse materials. But globalization itself is very diverse. And its comprehension may proceed in the framework of different theoretical approaches and points of view. In the present yearbook one can find perceptions of globalization and Global Studies by a number of scholars from different countries of the world and learn rather peculiar visions of globalization by the Russian scientists and educators. The yearbook will be interesting to a wide range of researchers, teachers, students and all those who pay attention to global issues.

Europe in the World Luiza Bialasiewicz, 2016-04-22. This edited volume provides an innovative contribution to the debate on contemporary European geopolitics by tracing some of the new political geographies and geographical imaginations emergent within and made possible by the EU's actions in the international arena. Drawing on case studies that range from the Arctic to East Africa, the nine empirical chapters provide a critical geopolitical reading of the ways in which particular places, countries and regions are brought into the EU's orbit and the ways in which they are made to work for EU rope. The analyses look at how the spaces of EU ropean power and actorness are narrated and created but also at how EU rope's discursive and material strategies of incorporation are differently appropriated by local and regional elites from the southern shores of the Mediterranean to Eastern Europe and the Balkans. The question of EU border management is a particularly important concern of several contributions highlighting some of the ways in which the Union's border work is actively re-making the European space STI Review, Volume 1999 Issue 1 Special Issue on The Global Research Village
