The Ghetto Ray Hutchison, 2018-04-19 This book discusses more general consideration of marginalized urban spaces and peoples around the globe It considers the question Is the formation and later dissolution of the Jewish ghetto an appropriate model for understanding the experience of other ethnic or racial populations Getting by in Europe's Urban Labour Markets Inge van Nieuwenhuyze, 2009-01-01 A thesis that examines two major social changes experienced by European cities post industrial economic restructuring and new immigration flows It also discusses the link between both these social changes with a variety of theoretical approaches and in many descriptive contributions The Next Generation Richard Alba, Mary C. Waters, 2011-04-04 The Next Generation brings together top immigration scholars to explore how the integration of immigrants affects the generations that come after The original essays explore the early beginnings of the second generation in the United States and Western Europe showing that variations in second generation trajectories are of the utmost importance for the future for they will determine the degree to which contemporary immigration will produce either durable ethno racial cleavages or mainstream integration

Gentrification in a Global Context Rowland Atkinson, Gary Bridge, 2004-12-10 The Gentrification in a Global Perspective brings together the most recent theoretical and empirical research on gentrification at a global scale

Rationalizing Migration Decisions A K M Ahsan Ullah, 2016-04-08 While decisions for working overseas are often based on expectations and promises of better jobs opportunities economic gains and eventually a better future such assumptions may not always be realized Focusing on the question of why migrants despite not realizing their earlier aspirations continue to remain as migrants rather than return home this book provides a unified understanding of the rationalization of the migration decision making It does so by empirically situating the study in the experiences of Bangladeshi migrant workers in Hong Kong and Malaysia

Global Changes in Asylum Regimes D. Joly, 2002-11-22 This book examines convergent trends in asylum regimes around the world It covers the main regions of the world where asylum is a critical problem Europe Africa and Central America It also looks at the major issues human rights non governmental organisation involvement gender return comprehensive policy European Union harmonisation international intervention and temporary protection

On the Line Vanesa Ribas, 2016 How does one put into words the rage that workers feel when supervisors threaten to replace them with workers who will not go to the bathroom in the course of a fourteen hour day of hard labor even if it means wetting themselves on the line From the Preface In this gutsy eye opening examination of the lives of workers in the New South Vanesa Ribas working alongside mostly Latino a and native born African American laborers for sixteen months takes us inside the contemporary American slaughterhouse Ribas a native Spanish speaker occupies an insider outsider status there enabling her to capture vividly the oppressive exploitation experienced by her fellow workers She showcases the particular vulnerabilities faced by immigrant workers a constant looming threat of deportation reluctance to seek medical attention and family separation as she also illuminates how workers find connection and moments of pleasure during their grueling shifts Bringing to the fore the words ideas and struggles of the workers themselves On The Line underlines how deep racial tensions permeate the factory as an overwhelmingly minority workforce is subject to white dominance Compulsively readable this extraordinary ethnography makes a powerful case for greater labor protection especially for our nation s most vulnerable workers

Getting by in Europe's Urban Labour Markets Inge Nieuwenhuyze, 2025-10-01 This book examines two major social changes experienced by European cities in the last two decades post industrial economic restructuring and new immigration flows The link between both has been extensively discussed throughout a variety of theoretical approaches and in numerous descriptive contributions Adding to those studies this research focuses on three elements of migratory experience that have been relatively neglected thus far

a dynamic view of changes over time the influence of national welfare and legislation frameworks and the importance of support mechanisms outside the labour market The material underpinning the arguments is the qualitative life course analysis of 81 in depth interviews with Senegambian migrants living in Antwerp and Barcelona

The Economic Geography of the UK Neil Coe, Andrew Jones, 2010-08-24 With the UK still facing the repercussions of the 2007 economic downturn Coe and Jones text is a timely engaging discussion of the key issues facing the UK economy from a purely geographical perspective written by some of the leading academics in the field With pedagogical features to facilitate learning including further reading and chapter aims the text explores the complex connections that constitute the UK economy including the city and finance the uneven development of the UK the UK economy s links to the European Union and its wider ties to the global economy Written for geography students studying modules on economic geography and the human geography of the UK the text is a vibrantly written easy to understand analysis of the current and future challenges that face the contemporary UK economy Includes a preface by Doreen Massey

Odmalm, 2005-10-26 Comparing differences in migrant political participation the author discusses the influence that institutions have on opportunities and constraints for migrants political engagement The book adopts a multi country comparative approach highlighting three areas where institutions influence the scope for migrant actors in Sweden the Netherlands France Germany and the UK Strategies adopted by organized migrant interests in response to specific political structures The role of identity and its relevance in explaining varying political participation Institutional effects on the relationship between migrant organizations and political parties

New World Cities John Tutino, Martin V. Melosi, 2019-02-20 For millennia urban centers were pivots of power and trade that ruled and linked rural majorities After 1950 explosive urbanization led to unprecedented urban majorities around the world That transformation inextricably tied to rising globalization changed almost everything for nearly everybody production politics and daily lives In this book seven eminent scholars look at the similar but nevertheless divergent courses taken by Mexico City Rio de Janeiro Buenos Aires Montreal Los Angeles and Houston in the twentieth century attending to the challenges of rapid growth the gains and limits of popular politics and the profound local effects of a swiftly modernizing globalizing economy By exploring the rise of these six cities across five nations New World Cities investigates the complexities of power and prosperity difficulty and desperation while reckoning with the social cultural and ethnic dynamics that mark all metropolitan areas Contributors Michèle Dagenais Mark Healey Martin V Melosi Bryan McCann Joseph A Pratt George J Sanchez and John Tutino

Migration, Citizenship and Identity Stephen Castles, 2017-06-30 Stephen Castles provides a deeper understanding of recent migration crises in this fascinating and highly topical work The book links theory and methodology to real world migration experiences with a truly global perspective and in depth analysis of the links between economics migration and asylum and refugee issues

Migration, Citizenship, and the European Welfare State Carl-Ulrik Schierup, Peo Hansen, Stephen

Castles, 2006-03-16 This book provides a major new examination of the current dilemmas of liberal anti racist policies in European societies linking two discourses that are normally quite separate in social science immigration and ethnic relations research on the one hand and the political economy of the welfare state on the other The authors rephrase Gunnar Myrdal s questions in An American Dilemma with reference to Europe s current dual crisis that of the established welfare state facing a declining capacity to maintain equity and that of the nation state unable to accommodate incremental ethnic diversity They compare developments across the European Union with the contemporary US experience of poverty race and class They highlight the major moral political dilemma emerging across the EU out of the discord between declared ideals of citizenship and actual exclusion from civil political and social rights Pursuing this overall European predicament the authors provide a critical scrutiny of the EU s growing policy involvement in the fields of international migration integration discrimination and racism They relate current policy issues to overall processes of economic integration and efforts to develop a European social dimension Drawing on case study analysis of migration the changing welfare state and labour markets in the UK Germany Italy and Sweden the book charts the immense variety of Europe s social and political landscape Trends of divergence and convergence between single countries are related to the European Union s emerging policies for diversity and social inclusion It is among other things the plurality of national histories and contemporary trajectories that makes the European Union s predicament of migration welfare and citizenship different from the American experience These reasons also account in part for why it is exceedingly difficult to advance concerted and consistent approaches to one of the most pressing policy issues of our time Very few of the existing sociological texts which compare different European societies on specific topics are accessible to a broad range of scholars and students The European Societies series will help to fill this gap in the literature and attempt to answer questions such as Is there really such a thing as a European model of society Do the economic and political integration processes of the European Union also imply convergence in more general aspects of social life such as family or religious behaviour What do the societies of Western Europe have in common with those further to the East This series will cover the main social institutions although not every author will cover the full range of European countries As well as surveying existing knowledge in a manner useful to students each book will also seek to contribute to our growing knowledge of what remains in many respects a sociologically unknown continent The series editor is Colin Crouch

Organizing the Transnational Luin Goldring, Sailaja Krishnamurti, 2011-11-01 Growing recognition of transnational practices and identities is changing the way scholars and activists ask questions about migration Organizing the Transnational articulates a multi level cultural politics of transnationalism to frame contemporary analyses of immigration and diasporas With chapters by academics and activists working from diverse perspectives the volume moves beyond the conventional focus on states and migrants to consider a wide array of institutions actors and forms of mobilization that shape transnational engagements and communities Its unique approach will inform the work of researchers practitioners and activists interested in the dynamics of transnational social spaces Advancing Multiculturalism, Post 7/7 John Eade, 2009-03-26 Multiculturalism still matters and is even more important after 7 7 than it was before The political discourse and rhetoric of integration sits uncomfortably alongside both multicultural realities e g the civil disturbances in Birmingham England October 2005 Paris France November 2005 and Sydney Australia December 2005 and social scientific notions of where multiculturalism positions itself domestically and internationally This edited collection is intended to be a major contribution to studies of multiculturalism examining the historical background and anthropological context alongside more contemporary applied social policy perspectives In this volume we argue that a multicultural perspective is as relevant and important both socially and politically in a post 7 7 world Within a post 7 7 context there are contributors within this edited collection who argue for both integrationist and multicultural approaches The volume acknowledges both concepts and encourages the reader to increase understandings of both arguments and position her himself within the debates

Global Cities At Work Jane Wills, Kavita Datta, Yara Evans, Joanna Herbert, Jon May, Cathy McIlwaine, 2009-12-31 This book is about the people who always get taken for granted The people who clean our offices and trains care for our elders and change the sheets on the bed Global Cities at Work draws on testimony collected from more than 800 foreign born workers employed in low paid jobs in London during the early years of the twenty first century This book breaks new ground in linking London s new migrant division of labour to the twin processes of subcontracting and increased international migration that have been central to contemporary processes of globalisation It also raises the level of debate about migrant labour encouraging us to look behind the headlines The authors ask us to take a politically informed view of our urban labour markets and to prioritise the issue of poverty in underemployed communities
