Globalizing South China:

Globalizing South China Carolyn Cartier, 2011-07-26 This insightful account demonstrates that capitalism in China has a history and a geography and combines perspectives from both to demonstrate that regional economic restructuring in South China is far from an economic miracle. The Dark Side of Globalisation Leila Simona Talani, Roberto Roccu, 2019-03-28 Firmly rooted in the International Political Economy (IPE) tradition, this book addresses the negative consequences of globalisation, what is termed here the dark side of globalisation. It explores different definitions of globalisation, whether the globalisation we have seen since the 1970s is substantially new and to what extent it can be governed. Building on these foundations, the work assesses the prospects for de-globalisation. By focusing on this dark side of globalisation, the authors show how the global economic crisis and its various local and sectorial manifestations intensified rather than generated existing trends. This scholarship provides an account of the current predicament that is both more complex and more persuasive than the opposition between globalisation and de-globalisation.

Decolonising Geography? Disciplinary Histories and the End of the British Empire in Africa, 1948-1998 Ruth Craggs, Hannah Neate, 2023-10-02
DECOLONISING GEOGRAPHY This book presents an extraordinarily sensitive account of geography's histories in five African countries subjected to British colonial rule. Craggs and Neate draw together political and imaginative processes of decolonisation through an innovative biographical approach that humanizes and enlivens the story of our academic discipline. It will be an invaluable resource for those seeking a deeper understanding of decolonisation, its recent trajectories and far-reaching implications on the African continent. Shari Daya, Affiliate Associate Professor in Environmental and Geographical Science, University of Cape Town. By placing the experiences, ideas and practices of African geographers in the center of their analyses, Craggs and Neate provide an unprecedented account of historical and contemporary decolonizing struggles within Geography and the academy. This book should be required reading for all those looking to decolonize the discipline and dislodge it from its Global North histories, institutions and ideologies. Mona Domosh, Professor of Geography, The Joan P and Edward J Foley Jr 1933 Professor, Dartmouth College. This meticulous work explores how colonialism, decolonization and postcolonialism shaped African geography and geographers. It sheds light on efforts to Africanize the discipline, a process which I was both witness to and a participant in. Stanley Okafor, Professor of Geography, Retired, University of Ibadan. How did a generation of academic geographers engage with constitutional decolonisation during the end of the British empire in Africa? In Decolonising Geography: Disciplinary Histories and the End of the British Empire in Africa, 1948-1998, Ruth Craggs and Hannah Neate explore how the teaching, research, administration and activism of geographers in Africa shaped the discipline and the post colonial geopolitics of the continent The authors follow the professional lives of individual geographers to provide fresh insights into decolonisation in the former British Empire in Africa drawing from extensive archival research and more than 40 oral history interviews with geographers in Ghana Nigeria South Africa Tanzania and the UK Decolonising Geography is a must read for any reader in the UK and Africa with an interest in the relationships between geography and decolonisation

Contestations Over Gender in Asia Lyn Parker, Laura Dales, Chie Ikeya, 2017-10-02 This book brings together the work of scholars from around the world in a consideration of how gender is contested in various parts of Asia in China India Indonesia Japan and the Philippines Part I of this collection explores notions of agency in relation to women's domestic and everyday lives While agency is one of the key terms in contemporary social science scholarship on women in Asia recently has focussed on women's political activism Women's private lives have been neglected in this new scholarship This volume has a special focus on women's relational and emotional lives domestic practices marriage singlehood and maternity Papers consider how women negotiate enhanced space and reputations challenging negative representations and entrenched models of intra family and intimate relations There is also a warning about too free feminist expectations of agency and the repercussions of the exercise of agency The three essays in Part II examine the historical construction of masculinities in colonial and postcolonial South and Southeast Asia and the ways that manhood is interpreted experienced and performed in daily life in the past and in present times They highlight the centrality and continued relevance of masculinity to analyses of empire and nation and underscore the highly gendered and hetero sexualized nature of political military and economic institutions Collectively the essays explore a wide range of competing articulations and experiences of gender within Asia emphasising the historical and contemporary plurality and variability of femininity and masculinity and the dynamic and intersectional nature of gender identities and relations This book was published as a special issue of Asian Studies Review

Service Industries and Asia Pacific Cities Peter W. Daniels, Kong Chong Ho, Thomas A. Hutton, Tom Hutton, 2005-04 During the second half of the twentieth century development in the Asia Pacific region has been dominated by industrialization However at the beginning of the twenty first century services in particular finance information and creative services have become deeply embedded in the processes of urban growth In Asia Pacific the rise of service industries has led to national modernization programmes and globalization strategies Services are also driving change in the internal form of city regions and are being actively deployed as instruments of metropolitan reconfiguration and land use changes These changes have created problems such as social polarization and the displacement of traditional industries and residential districts Also there are tensions between local and global processes in the development of service industries and between the imperatives of competitive advantage and sustainable development

Service Industries and Asia Pacific Cities brings together a multi disciplinary team of experts to explore and illustrate the theoretical conceptual and practical issues arising from the transformation of Asia Pacific cities by service industries

Geopolitics and the Event Alan Ingram, 2019-08-19 An original exploration of the 2003 Iraq war and geopolitics more broadly through the prism of art Offers a reappraisal of one of the most contentious and consequential events of the early twenty first century Advances an original perspective on Britain's role in the 2003 invasion and subsequent occupation of Iraq Maps out new ways of thinking about geopolitical events through art Examines the work of artists curators and activists in light of Britain's role as a colonial power in Iraq and the importance of oil Reflects on the significance limits and dilemmas of art as a form of critical intervention Questions the implications of art in colonialism and modernity Developmentalist Cities? Interrogating Urban Developmentalism in East Asia, 2018-11-26 Developmentalist Cities addresses the missing urban story in research on East Asian developmentalism and the missing developmentalist story in studies of East Asian urbanization It does so by promoting inter disciplinary research into the subject of urban developmentalism a term that editors Jamie Doucette and Bae Gyoonyoung Park use to highlight the particular nature of the urban as a site of and for developmentalist intervention The contributors to this volume deepen this concept by examining the legacy of how Cold War and post Cold War geopolitical economy spaces of exception from special zones to industrial districts and diverse forms of expertise have helped produce urban space in East Asia Contributors Carolyn Cartier Christina Kim Chilcote Young Jin Choi Jamie Doucette Eli Friedman Jim Glassman Heidi Gottfried Laam Hae Jinn yuh Hsu Iam Chong Ip Jin Bum Jang Soo Hyun Kim Jana M Kleibert Kah Wee Lee Seung Ook Lee Christina Moon Bae Gyoonyoung Park Hyun Bang Shin Spatial Politics David Featherstone, Joe Painter, 2012-11-05 This critical engagement with Doreen Massey's ground breaking work in geographic theory and its relationship to politics features specially commissioned essays from former students and colleagues as well as the artists political figures and activists whose thinking she has helped to shape It seeks to mark and take forward her compelling contributions to geographical theorizing and political debate High profile contributors include Lawrence Grossberg Chantal Mouffe Jamie Peck and Jane Wills The global reach and significance of Massey's work recommends this volume to a diverse readership Provides an agenda for work on spatial politics and critical geography Sets out the contours of a human geography informed by Doreen Massey's work

Hong Kong Culture Kam Louie, 2010-06-01 Does Hong Kong culture still matter This informative and interdisciplinary volume proves unmistakably so It stands as an essential Hong Kong reader a rich resource not only for those specialized in Hong Kong culture and history but also for students teachers and researchers interested in cosmopolitanism postcolonial conditions as well as cultural globalization Laikwan Pang The Chinese University of Hong Kong A very timely ambitious and fascinating book The essays are based on solid research and full of theoretical or analytical insights illustrating the complexity of social and cultural life in Hong Kong In addition to offering excellent essays on Hong Kong cinema the book also surveys alternative performance art and documentary which are undoubtedly the least researched aspects of Hong Kong's cultural scene Law Wing Sang Lingnan University Hong Kong as a world city draws on a rich variety of foundational texts in film fiction architecture and other forms of visual culture The city has been a cultural fault line for centuries a translation space where Chinese-ness is interpreted for Westerners and Western-ness is translated for Chinese Though constantly refreshed by its Chinese roots and global influences this hub of Cantonese culture has flourished along cosmopolitan lines to build a modern outward looking character Successfully managing this perpetual instability helps make Hong Kong a postmodern stepping stone city and helps make its citizens such prosperous and durable survivors in the modern world This volume of essays engages many fields of cultural achievement Several pieces discuss the tensions of English closely associated with a colonial past yet undeniably the key to Hong Kong's future Hong Kong provides a vital point of contact where cultures truly meet and a cosmopolitan traveler can feel at home and leave a sturdy mark Contributors include John Carroll Carolyn Cartier David Clarke Elaine Ho Douglas Kerr Michael Ingham C J W L Wee Chu Yiu Wai Gina Marchetti Esther M K Cheung Pheng Cheah Chris Berry and Giorgio Biancorosso Kam Louie is dean of the Faculty of Arts at the University of Hong Kong

Disposable Women and Other Myths of Global Capitalism Melissa Wright, 2013-01-11 Everyday around the world women who work in the Third World factories of global firms face the idea that they are disposable Melissa W Wright explains how this notion proliferates both within and beyond factory walls through the telling of a simple story the myth of the disposable Third World woman This myth explains how young women workers around the world eventually turn into living forms of waste Disposable Women and Other Myths of Global Capitalism follows this myth inside the global factories and surrounding cities in northern Mexico and in southern China illustrating the crucial role the tale plays in maintaining not just the constant flow of global capital but the present regime of transnational capitalism The author also investigates how women challenge the story and its meaning for workers in global firms These innovative responses illustrate how a politics for confronting global capitalism must include the many creative ways that working people resist its dehumanizing effects

Megacities Frauke Kraas, Surinder Aggarwal, Martin Coy, Günter Mertins, 2013-07-12 As urbanization continues and even accelerates scientists estimate that by 2015 the world will have up to 60 megacities urban areas with more than five million inhabitants With the irresistible economic attractions of urban centers particularly in developing countries making the influx of citizens unstoppable many of humankind's coming social economic and political dramas will be played out in megacities This book shows how geographers and Earth scientists are contributing to a better understanding of megacities The contributors analyze the impact of socio economic and political activities on environmental change and vice versa and identify solutions to the worst problems They propose ways of improving the management of megacities and achieving a greater degree of sustainability in their development The goals of wise use of human and natural resources risk reduction both social and environmental and quality of life enhancement are agreed upon But as this text proves the means of achieving these ends are varied Hence chapters cover an array of topics from health management in Indian megacities to planning in New York to transport solutions for the chronically traffic choked Bangkok Authors cover the impact of climate change on megacities as well as less tangible issues such as socio political fragmentation in the urban areas of Rio de Janeiro This exploration of some of the most crucial issues that we face as a species sets out research that is of the utmost importance with the potential to contribute substantially to global justice and peace and thereby prosperity

Urbanizing China in War and Peace Toby Lincoln, 2015-05-31 Urbanizing China in War and Peace rewrites the history of rural urban relations in the first half of the twentieth century by arguing that urbanization is a total societal transformation and as important a factor as revolution nationalism or modernity in the history of modern China Linking the global and the local in space and time China's urbanization was not only driven by industrial capitalism and the expansion of the state but also shaped how these forces influenced daily life in the city and the countryside Although the conflict that beset China after the Japanese invasion in 1937 affected the development of cities towns and villages it did not derail previous changes To truly understand how China has emerged as the world's largest urban society we must consider such continuities across the first half of the twentieth century during periods of war as well as peace The book focuses on Wuxi a city that lies a hundred miles to the west of Shanghai In the early twentieth century local industrialists were responsible for it quickly becoming the largest industrial city in China outside treaty ports They built factories roads and other infrastructure outside the old city walls and in surrounding towns and villages Chapters examine the county's transformation as recorded in guidebooks and travel magazines of the time and the role of the state in the early 1920s and into the Nanjing Decade when new administrative laws led to the continued expansion of the city under both municipal and county officials They explore the revival of the silk industry during the Japanese occupation and the industry's role in driving urbanization as well as efforts by Chinese leaders to carry out prewar development plans despite lockdowns and qingxiang clean the countryside campaigns In the midst of the barbed wire and watch towers plans to shape the built environment in Wuxi County and the region as a whole persisted and were carried out Ambitious and well researched Urbanizing China in War and Peace will appeal to scholars and students of Chinese urban history the Anti Japanese War of Resistance and the Republican period Its engagement with issues of urbanization in general will interest urban historians of other times and places

Global Asian City Francis L. Collins, 2018-07-23 Global Asian City provides a unique theoretical framework for studying the growth of cities and migration focused on the notion of desire as a major driver of international migration to Asian cities Draws on more than 120 interviews of emigrants to Seoul including migrant workers from Indonesia Philippines

Thailand and Vietnam English teachers from Australia Canada New Zealand South Africa UK and USA and international students at two elite Korean universities Features a comparative account of different migrant populations and the ways in which national migration systems and urban processes create differences between these groups Focuses on the causes of international migrant to Seoul South Korea and reveals how migration has transformed the city and nation especially in the last two decades

A Brief History of Neoliberalism David Harvey, 2007-01-04 Neoliberalism the doctrine that market exchange is an ethic in itself capable of acting as a guide for all human action has become dominant in both thought and practice throughout much of the world since 1970 or so Its spread has depended upon a reconstitution of state powers such that privatization finance and market processes are emphasized State interventions in the economy are minimized while the obligations of the state to provide for the welfare of its citizens are diminished David Harvey author of The New Imperialism and The Condition of Postmodernity here tells the political economic story of where neoliberalization came from and how it proliferated on the world stage While Thatcher and Reagan are often cited as primary authors of this neoliberal turn Harvey shows how a complex of forces from Chile to China and from New York City to Mexico City have also played their part In addition he explores the continuities and contrasts between neoliberalism of the Clinton sort and the recent turn towards neoconservative imperialism of George W Bush Finally through critical engagement with this history Harvey constructs a framework not only for analyzing the political and economic dangers that now surround us but also for assessing the prospects for the more socially just alternatives being advocated by many oppositional movements

World Orders, Development and Transformation E. Sahle, 2010-05-21 The book examines how hegemonic development ideas and practices emerged in the context of the changing world order post 1945 and how this transformation was characterized by neoliberalism and securitization of development and security Sahle also explores the rise of China and the start of Obama's presidency
