Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on District of Columbia Appropriations,2002     What Works in Foster Care? Peter J. Pecora,2010 The Northwest Foster Care Alumni Study found that quality foster care services for children pay big dividends when they grow up Key investments in highly trained staff low caseloads and robust complementary services can dramatically reduce rates of mental disorders and substance abuse This book offers a model foster care programme     Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff,Staff Bowker, Ed,2004     Tracking Adult Literacy and Numeracy Skills Stephen Reder,John Bynner,2008-09-16 Understanding the origins of poor literacy and numeracy skills in adulthood and how to improve them is of major importance when society places a high premium on proficiency in these basic skills This edited collection brings together the results of recent longitudinal studies that greatly extend our knowledge of what works in raising skill levels as well as the social and economic returns to improvement Many fundamental research questions in adult education involve change over time how adults learn how program participation influences their acquisition of skills and knowledge and how their educational development interacts with their social and economic performance Although a growing number of longitudinal studies in adult basic education have recently been completed this book is the first systematic compilation of findings and methods Triangulating findings from different methodological perspectives and research designs and across countries this text produces convergence on key conclusions about the role of basic skills in the modern life course and the most effective ways of enhancing them     School Dropout and Completion Stephen Lamb,Eifred Markussen,Richard Teese,Nina Sandberg,John Polesel,2010-11-29 School dropout remains a persistent and critical issue in many school systems so much so that it is sometimes referred to as a crisis Populations across the globe have come to depend on success at school for establishing careers and gaining access to post school qualifications Yet large numbers of young people are excluded from the advantages that successful completion of school brings and as a result are subjected to consequences such as higher likelihood of unemployment lower earnings greater dependence on welfare and poorer physical health and well being Over recent decades most western nations have stepped up their efforts to reduce drop out and raise school completion rates while maintaining high standards How school systems have approached this and how successful they are varies This book compares the various approaches by evaluating their impact on rates of dropout and completion Case studies of national systems are used to highlight the different approaches including institutional arrangements and the various alternative secondary school programs and their outcomes The evaluation is based on several key questions What are the main approaches How do they work For whom do they work And how successful are they in promoting high rates of completion and equivalent outcomes for all This book examines the nature of the dropout problem in advanced industrialized countries with the goal of developing a broader international understanding that can feed into public policy to help improve completion rates worldwide
