Gemini 4 Spacewalk Mission:

The Gemini 4 Spacewalk Mission Carl R. Green, 2004 Describes the Gemini 4 mission in 1965 when astronauts Edward White and James McDivitt carried out the first extravehicular activity in the United States manned space program

Spacewalk Carl R. Green, 2012-07-01 Gemini 4 pilot Ed White could see Hawaii California Texas and Florida Millions of Americans had seen these places before but White had a unique view He looked at them while walking in space One hundred miles above Earth and moving freely outside the Gemini 4 spacecraft White saw these states as tiny stepping stones The first American spacewalk was a monumental achievement and it helped push the space program toward its ultimate goal of landing men on the Moon From the brave astronauts to the technology that made it possible author Carl R Green explores the astounding Gemini 4 mission

The Gemini IV Mission Helen Zelon, 2001-12-15 In this book students will blast off with astronauts Edward White and James McDivitt as they make their way to space in 1965

Gemini 4 Steve Whitfield, 2011 The highlight of Gemini 4 was America's first EVA or space walk performed by astronaut Ed White which allowed the US to catch up with the Soviet Union who had already performed the world's first space walk White's EVA was so successful that he had to be ordered back into the Gemini capsule after its completion

Gemini 4 David J. Shayler, 2018-12-18 The flight of Gemini 4 in June 1965 was conducted barely four years after the first Americans flew in space It was a bold step by NASA to accomplish the first American spacewalk and to extend the U S flight duration record to four days This would be double the experience gained from the six Mercury missions combined This daring mission was the first to be directed from the new Mission Control at the Manned Spacecraft Center near Houston Texas It also revealed that Working outside the spacecraft would require further study Developing the techniques to rendezvous with another object in space would not be as straightforward as NASA had hoped Living in a small spacecraft for several days was a challenging but necessary step in the quest for even longer flights Despite the risks the gamble that astronauts Jim McDivitt and Ed White undertook paid off Gemini 4 gave NASA the confidence to attempt an even longer flight the next time That next mission would simulate the planned eight day duration of an Apollo lunar voyage Its story is recounted in the next title in this series Gemini 5 Eight Days in Space or Bust

Reaching for the Moon Roger D. Launius, 2019-06-25 Fifty years after the Moon landing, a new history of the space race explores the lives of both Soviet and American engineers. At the dawn of the space age, technological breakthroughs in Earth orbit flight were both breathtaking feats of ingenuity and disturbances to a delicate global balance of power. In this short book, aerospace historian Roger D. Launius concisely and engagingly explores the driving force of this era: the race to the Moon. Beginning with the launch of Sputnik 1 in October 1957 and closing with the end of the Apollo program in 1972, Launius examines how early space exploration blurred the lines between military and civilian activities and how key actions led to space firsts as well as crushing failures. Launius places American and Soviet programs on equal footing, following American aerospace engineers Wernher von Braun and Robert Gilruth, their Soviet counterparts Sergei Korolev and Valentin Glushko, and astronaut Buzz Aldrin and cosmonaut Alexei Leonov to highlight key actions that led to various successes, failures, and ultimately the
