Gender, Communication, and the Leadership Gap Carolyn M. Cunningham, Heather M. Crandall, Alexa M. Dare, 2017-09-01 Gender Communication and the Leadership Gap is the sixth volume in the Women and Leadership Research Theory and Practice series This cross disciplinary series from the International Leadership Association enhances leadership knowledge and improves leadership development of women around the world The purpose of this volume is to highlight connections between the fields of communication and leadership to help address the problem of underrepresentation of women in leadership Readers will profit from the accessible writing style as they encounter cutting edge scholarship on gender and leadership Chapters of note cover microaggressions authentic leadership courageous leadership inclusive leadership implicit bias career barriers and levers impression management and the visual rhetoric of famous women leaders Because women in leadership positions occupy a contested landscape one goal of this collection is to clarify the contradictory communication dynamics that occur in everyday interactions in national and international contexts and when leadership is digital Another goal is to illuminate the complexities of leadership identity intersectionality and perceptions that become obstacles on the path to leadership The renowned thinkers and scholars in this volume hail from both Leadership and Communication disciplines The book begins with Sally Helgesen and Brenda J Allen Helgesen co author of The Female Vision Women's Real Power at Work discusses the two fold challenge women face as they struggle to articulate their visions Her chapter offers six practices women can use to relieve this struggle Allen author of the groundbreaking book Difference Matters Communicating Social Identity discusses the implications of how inclusive leadership matters to women and what it means to think about women as people who embody both dominant and non dominant social identity categories She then offers practical communication strategies and an intersectional ethic to the six signature traits of highly inclusive leaders Each chapter includes practical solutions from a communication and leadership perspective that all readers can employ to advance the work of equality Some solutions will be of use in organizational contexts such as leadership development and training initiatives or tools to change organizational culture Some solutions will be of use to individuals such as how to identify and respond productively to micro aggressions or how to be cautious rather than optimistic about practicing authentic leadership The writing in this volume also reflects a range of styles from in depth scholarship that produces new knowledge to shorter forums that feature interesting ideas worth considering Communicating Gender Diversity Victoria Pruin

DeFrancisco,Victoria Leto DeFrancisco,Catherine Helen Palczewski,2007-06-21 The purpose behind Communicating Gender Diversity A Critical Approach is not to provide any final conclusions about communicating gender Because gender is a constantly evolving concept both in terms of individuals gender identity development and the larger culture s predominant notions of gender such absolute claims are not possible Instead the intent is to better equip readers with tools with which they can examine and make sense of the intersections of communication and gender The text covers the variety of ways in which communication of and about gender and sex enables and constrains people s intersectional identities The authors believe people are social actors and as such create meaning through their symbolic interactions Thus the book s emphasis is not on how gender influences communication but on how communication constitutes gender They also believe that people are capable of being self reflective about communication processes and creative in generating new ways to play with symbols
