Gender And Home Based Employment:

Gender and Home-based Employment Charles B. Hennon, Suzanne Loker, Rosemary Adams Walker, Home-Based Employment and Family Life Ramona Z. Heck, Alma J. Owen, Barbara R. Rowe, 1995-04-25 This book is about families who combine home life and income producing work under the same roof Based on 899 homeworking households in nine states the analysis presents detailed information about individual worker and household characteristics work characteristics for both business owners and wage workers family functioning types management behavior and adjustment strategies used in family life the community context and the home based employment experience over an extended period of time This is the first publication of a serious longitudinal study of the phenomenon of working from home with historical considerations of how and why so many people are choosing this option It points to the significantly positive impact at home workers are having on their families their neighborhoods and their communities Handbook on Gender and Public Sector Employment Hazel Conley, Paula Koskinen Sandberg, 2023-05-09 This incisive Handbook offers a timely and critical analysis of the gendered nature of public sector employment Bringing together key theoretical conceptual and empirical research from around the world Hazel Conley and Paula Koskinen Sandberg examine the ways in which female public sector workers experience intersectional discrimination in the workplace Gender, Unpaid Work and Care in India Ellina Samantroy, Subhalakshmi Nandi, 2022-05-09 This book explores the paradox of women s paid and unpaid work in India It examines key themes including historical discourses macroeconomic policies employment trends issues of tribal areas public services and infrastructure climate change and gendered migration and vulnerability of girl children It highlights the play of gender norms resource rights identities and agency in women s work Building on feminist theoretical frameworks and empirical analyses from microstudies the volume offers fresh perspectives for research and policy on women s work in the Global South A timely intervention this multidisciplinary book will be useful to scholars and researchers of political economy labour studies women s gender studies public policy economics development studies sociology South Asian studies and Global South studies It will interest planners policymakers gender advocates civil society organisations human rights bodies and international organisations working towards ensuring gender equality and women s rights Female Voices from the Worksite Marquita R. Walker, 2020-11-24 This collection analyzes women s narratives on the workplace These narratives speak to the daily struggles women face in the workforce such as inflexible and long work hours masculine workplace cultures employers stereotypical attitudes and the absence of work life balance initiatives Viewed from a sociological perspective the authors emphasize the reoccurring themes of devaluation exploitation and dehumanization of female workers resulting from unconscious or implicit bias and which directly impacts women s quality of life Changes in Work and Family Life in Japan Under COVID-19 Shigeki Matsuda, Hirohisa Takenoshita, 2023-09-21 This book describes how the COVID 19 pandemic has affected the way of work the division of household labor and family formation in Japan One of the characteristics of Japanese employment practices is a stable employer employment relationship and seniority based wage system In return long working hours especially for men who are called salarymen salaried workers or company men are required The pandemic has led to an expansion of telework and has reduced their working hours which has made them return to their homes to work In contrast non regular employees who are mostly women has become more unstable in employment and their incomes fell This tendency has become even stronger under the pandemic Compared with conditions in Western countries in Japan wives have a greater responsibility for domestic chores In the pandemic as children s classes shifted to online and childcare support facilities were temporarily closed the burden of housework and child rearing increased for wives However husbands who worked from home shared a part of the housework and popular home delivery services helped to reduce the burdens on wives Japan is one of the developed countries with low fertility rates Under the pandemic many Japanese postponed starting a family which further shrank the country s birthrate There was a remarkably significant tendency to postpone having children among economically disadvantaged and socially isolated families This book provides a portrait of Japan s experience regarding the notable impacts of the pandemic on work and family life The New Era Of Home-based Work Kathleen Christensen,2019-07-11 This book focuses on the causes and consequences of paid white collar work in the home including work that is professional managerial clerical technical and sales It is directed to audiences concerned with both the policy issues and the research challenges reused by working at home Informal Women Workers in the Global South Jayati Ghosh,2021-01-28 Formalising employment is a desirable policy goal but how it is done matters greatly especially for women workers Indeed formalisation policies that do not recognise gendered realities and prevailing socio economic conditions may be less effective and even counterproductive This book examines the varying trajectories of formalisation and their impact on women workers in five developing countries in Asia and Africa India Thailand South Africa Ghana and Morocco They range from low to middle income countries which are integrated into global financial and goods markets to differing degrees and have varying labour market and macroeconomic conditions The case studies using macro and survey data as well as in depth analysis of particular sectors provide interesting and sometimes surprising insights Despite some limited successes in providing social protection benefits to some informal workers most formalisation policies have not really improved the working conditions of women workers In many cases that is because the policies are gender blind and insensitive to the specific needs of women workers The impact of formalisation policies on women in developing countries is relatively under researched This book provides new evidence that will be applicable across a wide range of developing country contexts and will be of interest to policymakers feminist economists and students of economics labour gender and development studies public policy politics and sociology Automation of America's Offices, 1985-2000 ,1985 The Changing Status of Women in West Bengal, 1970-2000 Jasodhara Bagchi,Sarmistha Dutta Gupta,2005-01-24 This important and comprehensive volume vividly depicts the current status of women and girls in West

Bengal The analysis has been conducted in the framework of the socio economic and politico cultural ambience that has characterized the state in recent decades The contributors highlight both areas of strength and vulnerability and clearly demonstrate that the status of women cannot be conceived as monolithic or static it has many facets and is in a state of constant flux The analysis of macro data is supported by revealing micro studies based on field surveys and an examination of cultural trends

Key Issues in Women's Work Catherine Hakim, 2016-09-17 Women's employment is one of the most widely discussed and often misunderstood issues of modern society Are women today oppressed or do they have the best of both worlds Do women have to go out to work to gain equality with men or do they already do more than their share of domestic work caring work and voluntary work as well as work in the informal economy Do women seek careers on the same terms as men or are they content to be dependent wives or secondary earners taking jobs on a short term basis How important is job segregation in explaining the 20% pay gap between men and women Have equal opportunities laws had any real impact Are women in Europe lagging behind or are they at the forefront of developments in modern societies This new updated edition of Catherine Hakim's classic text addresses all the key issues currently debated in relation to women's work in the domestic sphere as well as paid employment Dr Hakim tests the power of patriarchy theory and preference theory against economic theories Sex discrimination work life balance part time work flexible hours homeworking career patterns across the life cycle labour mobility labour turnover the returns to education occupational segregation the pay gap the glass ceiling and the impact of European Union policies are all considered Analysis of historical developments over the twentieth century based on censuses is complemented by case studies of people working in occupations undergoing dramatic change Throughout the book comparisons are drawn between the USA Britain other European countries Canada Australia and also China Japan and other Far Eastern societies The analysis draws on sociology economics psychology labour law history and social anthropology to conclude that the diversity of women's life goals and lifestyle preferences is increasing This explains the growing polarisation of women's employment and many contradictory recent research results

Social Policy for Women in Pakistan Sara Rizvi Jafree, 2023-06-07 This book analyzes the different policy challenges that Pakistani women face and makes regionally relevant policy recommendations across different areas of private and public life drawing on secondary data from nationally representative surveys and primary data from qualitative interviews These areas include family safety housing adequacy food security and nutritional adequacy environment and disaster protection educational development employment and formal sector inclusion and health security The author examines how the history culture and political climate of Pakistan have shaped social policy for women interrogates gaps in social protections for women and analyzes the limitations for past interventions This text also looks at collaboration across South Asian countries as well as using religion social media financing and a new model of governance for comprehensive coverage and sustainable social policy for women This book will be of interest to scholars students and policymakers with focus on women's and gender

Transportation Research Board, 2005 Women-Owned and Home-Based Businesses Christopher S. Bond, 1999-06 Presents testimony submitted material on the challenges facing woman business owners Addresses access to capital Federal procurement policy health insurance tax issues including worker classification home office deductions Witnesses from many women owned businesses the Center for Women Enterprise the International Assoc for Financial Planning Nat Women s Business Council Nat Federation of Independent Business Securities Industry Assoc others Women-owned and Home-based Businesses United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Small Business, 1997 Dignity and Daily Bread Sheila Rowbotham, Swasti Mitter, 1994 Compares the lives of women in the first and third worlds examining how women have organized forms of production themselves in the struggle towards breaking down some of the ideological barriers that colonialism and racism have built among them Wired to the World, Chained to the Home Penny Gurstein, 2001 How does working at home change people s activity patterns social networks and their living and working spaces How will it change the way we plan houses and communities in the future Here Gurstein combines a background in planning sociology of work and feminist theory with quantitative data from ten years of original research including in depth interviews and surveys to understand the socio spatial impact of home based work on daily life patterns Home Alison Blunt, Robyn Dowling, 2022-05-30 Home articulates a critical geography of home in which home is understood as an emotive place and spatial imaginary that encompasses lived experiences of everyday domestic life alongside a wider and often contested sense of being and belonging in the world. Engaging with the burgeoning cross disciplinary interest in home since the first edition was published, this significantly revised and updated second edition contains new research boxes, illustrations and contemporary examples throughout. It also adds a new chapter on Home and the City that extends the scalar understanding of home to the urban. The book develops the conceptual and methodological underpinnings of a critical geography of home, drawing on key feminist, postcolonial and housing thinkers as well as contemporary methodological currents in non-representational thinking and performance. The book's chapters consider the making and unmaking of home across the domestic scale, house as home, the urban city as home, national nation as home and homemaking in relation to transnational migration and diaspora. Each chapter includes illustrative examples from diverse geographical contexts and historical time periods. Chapters also address some of the key cross-cutting dimensions of home across these scales, including digital connectivity, art and performance, more than human constructions of home and violence and dispossession. The book ends with a research agenda for home in a world of COVID-19. The book provides an understanding of home that has three intersecting dimensions: that material and imaginative geographies of home are closely intertwined; that home, power and identity are intimately linked; and that geographies of home are multi-scalar. This framework, the examples used to illustrate it and the intended audience of academics and students across the humanities and social sciences will together shape the field of home studies into the future.
