DROPOUTS IN PRIMARY SCHOOLS: STRATEGIES AND CHALLENGES DR. ANEESUNNISA BEGUM, 2019-03-26

Education is the driving force behind any strong economy and a prerequisite for social and economic growth. It creates opportunities and provides societies with a better educated and skilled workforce which is necessary for stimulating development. Govender and Steven 2004 Education is a key strategy for bringing about the changes necessary to ensure economic, cultural and social development as well as environmental protection and food security. Gasperini L 2000 Gender and Education Ramya Subrahmanian, United Nations Research Institute for Social Development, 2002. Extrait du résumé Dans cet exposé, Ramya Subrahmanian donne une vue d'ensemble des principales questions liées à la mise en œuvre de la parité des sexes dans le domaine de l'éducation, exposant certaines des contradictions et des tensions dans le discours des donateurs ainsi que dans les efforts politiques déployés et montrant l'existence de distorsions entre les postulats politiques et la complexité des décisions prises par les managers dans différents contextes. Depuis dix ans, l'importance accordée à l'éducation a considérablement augmenté tandis que des arguments tant utilisables qu'essentiels sont présentés en faveur d'un accroissement de l'investissement financier et d'une attention politique plus soutenue accordée aux prestations en matière d'éducation. Investir dans l'éducation est perçu comme un des moyens fondamentaux permettant aux États, nations et leurs citoyens de progresser en direction de la réalisation d'objectifs de développement long terme ainsi que d'améliorer leur niveau de vie tant sur le plan économique que social. L'éducation des femmes notamment est considérée comme la clef du transfert des connaissances d'une génération à une autre et comme tant susceptible de fournir la matière première de l'égalité des sexes et un changement social long terme. L'auteur fait cependant valoir que cette analyse de la manière dont les progrès dans l'éducation des femmes peuvent être obtenus nécessite des cadres et des outils conceptuels complexes. Ces cadres et outils vont devoir faire les liens et autres intersections qui existent dans bien des aspects tant économiques que sociaux de l'exclusion. Elle démontre notamment qu'il est nécessaire de comprendre les stratégies des managers en matière d'investissement dans le cadre d'un continuum de décisions liées au bien-être de la population vulnérable face aux contrepressions et aux fluctuations suscitées par l'insécurité économique et les inégalités sociales. New Acquisitions Unesco Institute for Education. Quranic Schools in Northern Nigeria Hannah Hoehner, 2018-03-15 In a global context of widespread fears over Islamic radicalisation and militancy, poor Muslim youth especially those socialised in religious seminaries have attracted overwhelmingly negative attention. In northern Nigeria, male Quranic students have garnered a reputation of resorting to violence in order to claim their share of highly unequally distributed resources. Drawing on material from long term ethnographic and participatory fieldwork among Qur'anic students and their communities this book offers an alternative perspective on youth faith and poverty Mobilising insights from scholarship on education poverty research and childhood and youth studies Hannah Hoechner describes how religious discourses can moderate feelings of inadequacy triggered by experiences of exclusion and how Qur'anic school enrolment offers a way forward in constrained circumstances even though it likely reproduces poverty in the long run A pioneering study of religious school students conducted through participatory methods this book presents vital insights into the concerns of this much vilified group Gender and Primary Schooling in Ethiopia Pauline Rose, Institute of Development Studies (Brighton, England), 1997

parents Current Index to Journals in Education ,2001 Gender and Education for All Unesco,2003 The World Education Forum of April 2000 set gender equality as one of its important goals The target was to achieve parity in enrolment of girls and boys in primary education and secondary education by 2005 and full equality by 2015 This monitoring report shows that many countries will fail to make the 2005 target but circumstances could change quickly with appropriate policy changes However educational inequality is caused by deep rooted social forces and a wide range of economic and social changes are needed The Shadow Education System Mark Bray,2007 Because of its size in a number of countries and due to its nature that of a private service oriented at improving academic performance private tutoring has important implications for the educational system as a whole that cannot be ignored by educational policies This publication contributes to the debate about private tutoring through its systematization of available information and its analysis It asks the questions Who supplies and demands this service What effects does it have on the formal education system and What are the policy options facing education planners The research draws on existing research conducted in different parts of the world but primarily in Asia where private tutoring is particularly widespread Publisher s description
