Gender and the Academic Experience Kathryn P. Meadow-Orlans, Ruth A. Wallace, 1994-01-01 These memoirs provide new and thoughtful evidence that pioneers are necessarily diverse illuminating two crucial decades of dawning self understanding for women for America for the discipline of sociology Mary Catherine Bateson author of Composing a Life It is difficult to imagine an intellectual world with only a few if any women scholars and sociologists But that was the case nor so long ago for women such as Arlene Kaplan Daniels Dorothy Smith Arlie Russell Hochschild Jacqueline Wiseman and Lillian Rubin These and many other now eminent women in sociology began their careers as graduate students at Berkeley they tell their stories in this volume which spans two decades beginning with the first woman graduate student in 1952 With Berkeley as the backdrop each woman constructs a personal memoir of her educational experience in a department and a profession then dominated by men In this thought provoking book sixteen women describe their marginal status and how their struggles informed their studies and their later work Though each woman s story is unique common themes surface mixed feelings of intellectual self confidence and inadequacy difficulties in integrating personal and professional worlds a net humor that both masked and helped the women cope with their hardships These compelling essays tell how these women creatively met the challenges and obstacles of our gendered society conducted their lives intrepidly and left a clearer path for those who followed Gender and the Academic Experience illustrates that times are changing by 1991 women made up the majority of graduate students in the Berkeley sociology department Kathryn P Meadow Orlans is a senior research scientist and professor in the Department of Educational Foundations and Research at Gallaudet University in Washington D C She helped pioneer a program of research and mental health services for deaf people and her inventories for teachers of deaf children have been translated into eight languages She has published Deafness and Child Development and co authored Sound and Sign Childhood Deafness and Mental Health

Erving Manuel Goffman Dmitri N. Shalin, 2024-12-03 Erving Goffman is the most cited American sociologist There is no shortage of studies exploring Goffman s scholarship but no extant biography of Erving Goffman The chief reason is that a man who looked behind the facades people erect to protect their private selves zealously guarded his own backstage This book is the first comprehensive biography of Goffman an intellectual of Russian Jewish descent who turned the Potemkin village trope into a powerful research program The present study shows how key turns in Goffman s career reflected dramatic events in his family and personal history It is based on the materials gathered in the Erving Goffman Archives a repository curated by the author who has been collecting documents and conducting interviews with Goffman's relatives, colleagues and friends. The archival work turned up documents which improve our understanding of Goffman: the scholar, the teacher and the man. The approach adopted in this investigation sheds new light on Goffman's scholarship which has had an enormous and continuous impact across the social sciences and humanities.

Canadian Sociologists in the First Person Stephen Harold Riggins, Neil McLaughlin, 2021-08-15. Social scientists' autobiographies can yield insight into personal commitments to research agendas and the very project of social science itself. But despite the long history of life writing, sociologists have tended to view the practice with skepticism. Canadian Sociologists in the First Person is the first book to survey the Canadian sociological imagination through personal recollections. Exploring the lives and experiences of twenty contributors from across the country, this book connects the unique and shared features of their careers to broad social dynamics while providing a guide to their own research and administrative contributions to their universities, their profession, and their broader society and communities. The contributors, who teach in different types of institutions, are prominent in the discipline and in their specializations, and represent significant and diverse intellectual currents, political perspectives, and life and career experiences. Aiming to start a broad conversation about what social science and the academic profession look like in Canada from an insider's perspective, Canadian Sociologists in the First Person offers invaluable lessons for younger scholars as they envision a diverse sociological imagination for the twenty-first century.

Feminist Sociology Barbara Laslett, Barrie Thorne, 1997. This collection of thirteen life stories recaptures the history of a political and intellectual movement that created feminist sociology as a field of inquiry. As the editors' introduction notes, the life history is a crucial tool for sociological thought. Life histories can be a bridge between individual experience and codified knowledge, between human agency and social structure. Life histories can enhance social theory by revealing categories of meaning usually submerged in the conventions of social science. The authors in this volume, all sociologists who have had great impact upon the field in which they write, show how personal relationships, experiences of inequality, and professional conflict and camaraderie interweave with the formation of social theory, political movements, and intellectual thought. The book makes a powerful impression upon anyone who has struggled with the relationship between social theory and everyday life. Accessible, lively articles that combine personal narrative with sociological theory Contributors are some of the leading voices in feminist sociology

Women Scientists in America Margaret W. Rossiter, 1998-09-29 Winner of the Pfizer Award for Outstanding Book in the History of Science Margaret Rossiter's widely hailed Women Scientists in America Struggles and Strategies to 1940 marked the beginning of a pioneering effort to interpret the history of American women scientists That effort continues in this provocative sequel that covers the crucial years of World War II and beyond Rossiter begins by showing how the acute labor shortage brought on by the war seemed to hold out new hope for women professionals especially in the sciences But the public posture of welcoming women into the scientific professions masked a deep seated opposition to change Rossiter proves that despite frustrating obstacles created by the patriarchal structure and values of universities government and industry women scientists made genuine contributions to their fields grew in professional stature and laid the foundation for the breakthroughs that followed 1972

Pierce, 2007 Feminist Waves Feminist Generations challenges the static figuring of feminist generations that positions the second wave of feminist scholars against a homogeneous third wave Based on life stories from contemporary feminist scholars this volume emphasizes how feminism develops unevenly over time and across institutions and ultimately offers a new paradigm for theorizing the intersections between generations and feminist waves of thought Contributors Sam Bullington U of Missouri Susan Cahn SUNY Buffalo Dawn Rae Davis U of Minnesota Lisa J Disch U of Minnesota Sara Evans U of Minnesota Elizabeth Faue Wayne State U Roderick A Ferguson U of Minnesota Peter Hennen Ohio State U at Newark Wendy Leo Moore Texas A Toni McNaron U of Minnesota Jean M O'Brien U of Minnesota Felicity Schaeffer Grabel U of California Santa Cruz Anne Firor Scott Duke U Janet D Spector U of Minnesota Amanda Lock Swarr U of Washington Seattle Miglena Todorova U of Minnesota Hokulani K Aikau is assistant professor of indigenous politics in the department of political science at the University of Hawai'i at Manoa Karla A Erickson is assistant professor of sociology at Grinnell College Jennifer L Pierce is associate professor of American studies at the University of Minnesota
