Ann Tickner, 2001-05-22 Expanding on the issues she originally explored in her classic work Gender in International Relations J Ann Tickner focuses her distinctively feminist approach on new issues of the international relations agenda since the end of the Cold War such as ethnic conflict and other new security issues globalizations democratization and human rights As in her previous work these topics are placed in the context of brief reviews of more traditional approaches to the same issues She also looks at the considerable feminist work that has been published on these topics since the previous book came out Tickner highlights the misunderstandings that exist between mainstream and feminist approaches and explores how these debates developed in the new environment of post Cold War international relations Acclaim for Tickner s Gender in International Relations For all who seek new ways to think about and understand world politics Political Science Quarterly Tickner rethinks from a feminist point of view virtually every conventional category used by theorists and practitioners of international relations Susan Moller Okin Stanford University

Sexualities in World Politics Manuela Lavinás Picq, Markus Thiel, 2015-05-15 As LGBTQ claims acquire global relevance how do sexual politics impact the study of International Relations This book argues that LGBTQ perspectives are not only an inherent part of world politics but can also influence IR theory making LGBTQ politics have simultaneously gained international prominence in the past decade achieving significant policy change and provoked cultural resistance and policy pushbacks Sexuality politics more so than gender based theories arrived late on the theoretical scene in part because sexuality and gender studies initially highlighted post structuralist thinking which was hardly accepted in mainstream political science This book responds to a call for a more empirically motivated but also critical scholarship on this subject It offers comparative case studies from regional cultural and theoretical peripheries to identify ways of rethinking IR Further it aims to add to critical theory broadening the knowledge about previously unrecognized perspectives in an accessible manner Being aware of preoccupations with the de queering disciplining nature of theory establishment in the social sciences we critically reconsider IR concepts from a particular LGBTQ vantage point and infuse them with queer thinking Considering the relative dearth of contemporary mainstream IR theorizing authors ask what contribution LGBTQ politics can provide for conceiving the political subject as well as the international structure in which activism is embedded This book will be of interest to students and scholars of gender politics cultural studies and international relations theory Political Worlds of Women Mary Hawkesworth, 2018-04-19 Political Worlds of Women provides a comprehensive overview of women's political activism comparing formal and informal channels of power from official institutions of state to grassroots mobilizations and Internet campaigns Illuminating the politics of identity enmeshed in local national and global gender orders this book explores women's creation of new political spaces and innovative political strategies to secure full citizenship and equal access to political power Incorporating case studies from Africa Asia Europe and the Americas Mary Hawkesworth analyzes critical issues such as immigration and citizenship the politics of representation sexual regulation and gender mainstreaming in order to examine how women mobilize in this era of globalization Political Worlds of Women deepens understandings of national and global citizenship and presents the formidable challenges facing racial and gender justice in the contemporary world It is an essential resource for students and scholars of women's studies and gender politics The Dao of World Politics L. H. M. Ling, 2013-10-30 This book draws on Daoist yin yang dialectics to move world politics from the current stasis of hegemony hierarchy and violence to a more balanced engagement with parity fluidity and ethics The author theorizes that we may develop a richer more representative approach towards sustainable and democratic governance by offering a non

Western alternative to hegemonic debates in IR The book presents the story of world politics by integrating folk tales and popular culture with policy analysis It does not exclude current models of liberal internationalism but rather brackets them for another day another purpose The deconstruction of IR as a singular unifying school of thought through the lens of a non Westphalian analytic shows a unique perspective on the forces that drive and shape world politics This book suggests new ways to articulate and act so that global politics is more inclusive and less coercive Only then the book claims could IR realize what the dao has always stood for a world of compassion and care The Dao of World Politics bridges the humanities and social sciences and will be of interest to scholars and students of the global international as well as policymakers and activists of the local domestic

Women and Sharia Law in Northern Indonesia Dina Afrianty, 2015-05-01 This book examines the life of women in the Indonesian province of Aceh where Islamic law was introduced in 1999 It outlines how women have had to face the formalisation of conservative understandings of sharia law in regulations and new state institutions over the last decade or so how they have responded to this forming non governmental organisations NGOs that have shaped local discourse on women s rights equality and status in Islam and how these NGOs have strategised demanded reform and enabled Acehnese women to take active roles in influencing the processes of democratisation and Islamisation that are shaping the province The book shows that although the formal introduction of Islamic law in Aceh has placed restrictions on women s freedom paradoxically it has not prevented them from engaging in public life It argues that the democratisation of Indonesia which allowed Islamisation to occur continues to act as an important factor shaping Islamisation s current trajectory that the introduction of Islamic law has motivated women s NGOs and other elements of civil society to become more involved in wider discussions about the future of sharia in Aceh and that Indonesia s recent decentralisation policy and growing local Islamism have enabled the emergence of different religious and local adat practices which do not necessarily correspond to overall national trends
