Gender Relations In Canada Further Exploration:

Gender Relations in Canada Janet Siltanen, Andrea Doucet, 2008 This text focuses on how gender differences and inequalities play out in the social lives of men and women throughout the life course Theory is linked with practice through a series of case studies that highlight current research from Canada the United States Britain and Australia      Gender Relations in Canada Marlene Mackie, 1991      Family Violence: A Canadian Introduction Julianne Momirov, Ann Duffy, 2011-10-11 Family violence is hard for most people to understand The fact that we are more likely to be killed or assaulted by family members than anyone else seems incredible Yet for many Canadians the family is a dangerous place far from the haven of love and security that we would like to believe In this book sociologists Julianne Momirov and Ann Duffy explore the many forms that violence can take from physical abuse to emotional deprivation The victims the theories and the factors increasing risk are all clearly presented Policies and programs which would address this issue from personal intervention to institutional reforms are also outlined This new edition incorporates up to date statistical information on the prevalence of family violence It reports on recent initiatives to find more successful ways to respond to the needs of victims and to rehabilitate the perpetrators This is the definitive Canadian book for anyone wanting to learn more about this disturbing phenomenon      Exploring Gender Relations Marlene Mackie, 1983      Gender Roles in Immigrant Families Susan S. Chuang, Catherine S. Tamis-LeMonda, 2013-04-18 Researchers recognize that theoretical frameworks and models of child development and family dynamics have historically overlooked the ways in which developmental processes are shaped by socio cultural contexts Ecological and acculturation frameworks are especially central to understanding the experiences of immigrant populations and current research has yielded new conceptual and methodological tools for documenting the cultural and developmental processes of children and their families Within this broad arena a question of central importance is on how gender roles in immigrant families play out in the lives of children and families Gender Roles in Immigrant Families places gender at the forefront of the research by investigating how it interplays with parental roles parent child relationships and child outcomes      Sexing the Maple Richard Cavell, Peter Dickinson, 2006-09-14 Sexing the Maple is a unique sourcebook designed to raise issues of nationalism and sexuality in Canada through a rich and diverse selection of fiction poetry criticism and history Structured so as to provide an interactive study of these issues the collection considers topics as wide ranging as First Nations sexuality censorship assisted reproduction and religion Literary works by Alice Munro Jane Rule Timothy Findley Leonard Cohen Irving Layton Lynn Crosbie Michael Turner and many others are juxtaposed with criticism and historical documents many of which were previously out of print or unavailable Selections include Marshall McLuhan s 1967 article The Future of Sex and excerpts from Stan Persky and John Dixon s Kiddie Porn SKY Lee s Disappearing Moon Cafe and Margaret Atwood s A Handmaid s Tale      Generation on Hold James E. Cote, Anton Allahar, 1996 Traces historical constructions of adolescence and considers coming of age in the late 20th century Young adults in the modern era face a completely differently set of challenges from previous generations Tracing historical constructions of adolescence and their role in maintaining social order James E Cote and Anton L Allahar persuasively argue that young people today constitute one of the most disadvantaged and vulnerable groups in society Today for the first time teenagers and young adults in the United states Canada Japan Scandinavia and Western Europe can expect to have a lower standard of living than their parents Youth are conditioned to stay young linger and have as a result become socially and economically marginalized Many young people amass credentials regardless of employment prospects and continue to live at home often dependent on their parents into their thirties With fewer jobs available young people are ironically targeted increasingly as consumers rather than as producers As new technologies continually reduce the work force and alter the social fabric an entire generation of young people has struggled to keep up What then does it mean to come of age in an advanced industrial or post industrial society

Working Out Gender Margaret Walsh,2017-03-02 Working out Gender brings together leading scholars and young researchers to examine the various ways in which gender is currently being used in labour history Having been a dynamic and contentious category of historical analysis since the mid 1980s gender continues to incite much debate This volume seeks a more informed view about labour history both by advancing the position of women and making their lives central to learning and by examining men as gendered persons and discussing the social construction of masculinity A broad perspective of labour history is scrutinised on both sides of the Atlantic though the emphasis is given to European experiences Themes examined include work and workplace activities the working classes masculinity and politics and the timespan ranges from the eighteenth century to recent times

Families, Labour and Love Maureen Baker,2020-07-29 We think of our family life as very personal but in fact it is shaped by influences well beyond our control Families Labour and Love identifies the ways in which family and personal life in three settler societies Australia New Zealand and Canada has been shaped by colonisation immigration globalisation demographic changes law and policy Baker shows that these three countries each a former colony developed similar family trends and similar family policies Strongly gendered patterns of paid and unpaid work played a major role in family life The family practices of indigenous people were largely overlooked as were those of recent immigrant groups However local conditions also produced significant differences in family experiences among the three countries Richly illustrated with examples comparative data and textual sources Families Labour and Love provides a broad ranging analysis of the family which will appeal to students researchers and policy makers Maureen Baker outlines with great clarity the diversity of families and the way in which they are shaped by historical and cultural forces The focus on Australia New Zealand and Canada is not only refreshing but throws into sharp relief the impact on contemporary families of the colonial experience industrialisation large scale immigration and globalisation David de Vaus La Trobe University

Between Work and Leisure Robert A. Stebbins,2015-06-01 Between Work and Leisure aims to debunk the prevailing myth that work and leisure are separate and mutually antagonistic spheres of life Stebbins shows that a close relationship between leisure and work is positive offering people the possibility of finding joy in work just as they do in leisure Occupational devotion as Stebbins defines it is a strong and positive attachment to a form of self enhancing work where the sense of achievement is high and the core activity or set of tasks is endowed with such intense appeal that the line between work and leisure is virtually erased This volume examines conditions that attract people to their work in this profound way and the many exceptional values and intrinsic rewards they realize there Stebbins frames occupational devotion in four broad social contexts history religion work and leisure and then considers the further subdivisions of gender social class and social character The heart of the book uses research findings on leisure to develop a powerful critique of those who describe deeply felt commitment to work as workaholic behavior He also examines what happens when money becomes a dominant factor in work and the social implications of the compatibility of work and serious leisure using exploratory research to identify their shared motivational factors

Polling and Public Opinion Peter Marshall Butler, 2007-01-01 The importance of polling public opinion is widely recognized This work examines the impact that polls have on the thoughts and behaviour of the public It considers the power of public opinion polls as an element of mass persuasion in media stories advertising and government policy

Women in Transition Susan McPherson, 2005-05-17 Discourses of menopause are varied and complex just as the lives of women themselves are diverse and multifaceted Traditionally menopause has signalled the end of the child bearing years and the change of life a time when women might experience a great deal of change in many ways But menopause can also be understood as a natural physical change or a time of hormonal change or as a passage from one way of life to a different one often accompanied by emotional flux and changes in ways women think about themselves For this study of menopause and women s lives using life story methodology I have gathered information anecdotes poems and personal revelations through interviews conducted with ten women Drawing on the stories of their lives I have explored the ways women think about their experience of menopause and related aspects of their lives The feminist poststructuralist framework I have used consists of two elements poststructuralism and feminism The poststructuralist framework uses theories of language and concepts of discourse dualisms subjectivity and consciousness power diversity and context Taking a feminist approach to poststructuralism enables women s voices to be recognized as meaningful within this framework while acknowledging the possible restrictions of society s structures as well as women s agency in their personal lives and within society From a poststructuralist perspective the aim is to increase understanding through a multiplicity of methods from exploring the historical background and existing research on menopause and presenting the data in a variety of ways In this research the data is displayed in a form that enables readers to read and reflect on what the women say and on their creative writing with minimum input from the researcher Separately the data is examined from the perspective of feminist sociology The research process for myself was one of learning through talking with other women delving into different forms of

Queer Studies and Education Nelson M. Rodriguez, Robert C. Mizzi, Louisa Allen, Rob Cover, 2023 Queer Studies and Education An International Reader explores how the category queer as a critical stance or set of perspectives contributes to opportunities individually and collectively for advancing queer social justice within the context and concerns of schooling and education The collection takes up this general goal by presenting a cross section of international perspectives on queer studies in education Collectively the chapters critically engage with heteronormativity and normativity more generally as a political spectrum over a broad range of formal and informal sites of education and against a backdrop of critiques of liberalism and neoliberalism as the frameworks through which achievable social change and belonging are fostered particularly within educational settings
