Gender Through The Prism Of Difference:

Gender Through the Prism of Difference Maxine Baca Zinn, Pierrette Hondagneu-Sotelo, Michael A. Messner, 2005

The third edition of Gender Through the Prism of Difference adopts a global transnational perspective on how race class and sexual diversity are central to the study of sex and gender. In contrast with other books in this area which tend to focus on U S or European viewpoints this book features many articles based on research done elsewhere throughout the world. The editors open this wide ranging collection with a provocative analytical introduction that sets the stage for understanding gender as a socially constructed experience. Featuring mostly new readings the book covers timely subjects such as gender and popular culture Islam and men and war to help students make a connection between the issues raised in the book and current events. It also addresses a number of compelling topics including the effects of globalization on notions of masculinity the difficulties faced by Muslim women living in post 9 11 America and the perceptions of blackness worldwide. Guiding students through the complex realities of today's gender relationships Gender Through the Prism of Difference is ideal for undergraduate or graduate courses in the sociology of gender women's studies gender roles the sociology of women women in society race class and gender feminist theory and social inequality.

Gender Through the Prism of Difference- (Value Pack W/MySearchLab) Maxine Baca Zinn, Pierrette Hondagneu-Sotelo, Pierrette A. Hondagneu-Sotelo, Michael A. Messner, 2008-12

MySearchLab provides students with a complete understanding of the research process so they can complete research projects confidently and efficiently. Students and instructors with an internet connection can visit www.MySearchLab.com and receive immediate access to thousands of full articles from the EBSCO ContentSelect database. In addition MySearchLab offers extensive content on the research process itself including tips on how to navigate and maximize time in the campus library a step by step guide on writing a research paper and instructions on how to finish an academic assignment with endnotes and bibliography. This engaging collection of readings presents a multifaceted view of contemporary gender relations. Using other inequalities such as race class and sexual orientation as a prism of difference the readings present gender as it is situated in sexual racial ethnic social class physical abilities age and national citizenship contexts. In addition to articles about men women and sexual and immigrant diversity this reader also includes works on gender and globalization. The editors introduce this wide ranging collection with a provocative analytical introduction that sets the stage for understanding gender as a socially constructed experience. Takes a sociological perspective on contemporary gender relations. Emphasizes the theme of difference or how other inequalities such as race class or age affect our gendered experiences. Presents a discussion of women's and men's issues. Includes articles on international and transnational factors in addition to the articles on U S gender relations. For anyone interested in Sociology of Gender Women's Studies Gender Roles Sociology of Women Women in Society Race Class and Gender Diversity Feminist Theory and Social Inequality.

Gender Through the Prism of Difference Maxine Baca Zinn, Pierrette Hondagneu-Sotelo, Michael A.

Messner, 2016 Gender Through the Prism of Difference adopts a global transnational perspective on how race class and sexual diversity are central to the study of sex and gender. In contrast with other books in this area which tend to focus on U S or European viewpoints this wide ranging anthology features many articles based on research done elsewhere throughout the world. Now in its fifth edition the book opens with a revised and updated Introduction that sets the stage for understanding gender as a socially constructed experience. Featuring twenty eight new readings this edition covers compelling subjects like transgendered people intersex issues men and masculinity sexual and gender violence disabilities obesity reproductive technologies educational testing aging and ageism and Occupy Wall Street.

Through the Prism of Difference Maxine Baca Zinn, Pierrette Hondagneu-Sotelo, Michael A. Messner, 1997 The editors have gone beyond simply assembling a collection of readings by the leading scholars of sex and gender they introduce a new way to conceptualize the interrelationships between gender relations and other systems of inequality and difference. The editors invoke the image of a prism through which different groups are seen not as distinct but in a continuous spectrum. The prism approach illustrates the varied ways that gender is constructed relationally and thus experienced differently. Toward this end the editors draw from the most recent studies of women and men especially studies of gender relations in the context of different sexual racial ethnic social class physical abilities age and national citizenship contexts. Though the majority of articles in the book focus on issues in U S gender relations the editors have included numerous articles that focus on international and transnational factors. Together the articles in this book shed critical yet at times optimistic light on the possibilities for change.

There's Something In The Water Ingrid R. G. Waldron, 2018-07-04T00:00:00Z In There's Something In The Water Ingrid R G Waldron examines the legacy of environmental racism and its health impacts in Indigenous and Black communities in Canada using Nova Scotia as a case study and the grassroots resistance activities by Indigenous and Black communities against the pollution and poisoning of their communities Using settler colonialism as the overarching theory Waldron unpacks how environmental racism operates as a mechanism of erasure enabled by the intersecting dynamics of white supremacy power state sanctioned racial violence neoliberalism and racial capitalism in white settler societies By and large the environmental justice narrative in Nova Scotia fails to make race explicit obscuring it within discussions on class and this type of strategic inadvertence mutes the specificity of Mi kmaq and African Nova Scotian experiences with racism and environmental hazards in Nova Scotia By redefining the parameters of critique around the environmental justice narrative and movement in Nova Scotia and Canada Waldron opens a space for a more critical dialogue on how environmental racism manifests itself within this intersectional context Waldron also illustrates the ways in which the effects of environmental racism are compounded by other forms of oppression to further dehumanize and harm communities already dealing with pre existing vulnerabilities such as long standing social and economic inequality Finally Waldron documents the long history of struggle resistance and mobilizing in Indigenous and Black communities to address environmental racism

The Oxford Handbook of U.S. Women's Social Movement Activism Holly J. McCammon, Verta Taylor, Jo Reger, Rachel L. Einwohner, 2017-05-05 Over the course of thirty seven chapters including an editorial introduction this handbook provides a comprehensive examination of scholarly research and knowledge on a variety of aspects of women's collective activism in the United States tracing both continuities and critical changes over time. Women have played pivotal and far-reaching roles in bringing about significant societal change and women activists come from an array of different demographics, backgrounds, and perspectives including those that are radical, liberal, and conservative. The chapters in the handbook consider women's activism in the interest of women themselves as well as actions done on behalf of other social groups. The volume is organized into five sections. The first looks at U.S. Women's Social Activism over time from the women's suffrage movement to the ERA, radical feminism, third-wave feminism, intersectional feminism, and global feminism. Part two looks at issues that mobilize women including workplace discrimination, reproductive rights, health, gender identity, and sexuality, violence against women, welfare and employment, globalization, immigration, and anti-feminist and pro-life causes. Part three looks at strategies including movement emergence and resource mobilization, consciousness-raising, and traditional and social media. Part four explores targets and tactics including legislative forums, electoral politics, legal activism, the marketplace, the military, and religious and educational institutions. Finally, part five looks at women's participation within other movements including the civil rights movement, the environmental movement, labor unions, LGBTQ movement, Latino activism, conservative groups, and the white supremacist movement.

Women's Lives
Claire A. Ettaugh, Judith S. Bridges, 2023-02-24

Women's Lives integrates the most current research and social issues to explore the psychological diversity of girls and women varying in age, ethnicity, social class, nationality, immigrant experience, sexual orientation, gender identity, ability, and body size and shape. The text embeds a lifespan perspective within each topical chapter and has an intersectional approach that integrates women's diverse identities. It includes rich coverage of women with disabilities and on middle-aged and older women throughout. Taking a deeper transnational focus, it also examines the impact of social, cultural, and economic factors in shaping women's lives around the world. This edition explores the latest areas of research and tackles important contemporary topics such as feminization of immigration, media portrayals of LGBTQ individuals and immigrants, regulating testosterone levels in women's sports, disorders of sexual development, nonbinary identity, the effects of social media on body image, sizeism, new classification of sexual disorders, menstrual equity, and the tampon tax, migrant women as transnational mothers, academic environment for low-income ethnic minority and immigrant women, effects of the COVID-19 pandemic on women's employment and work-family balance, the dilemma of unpredictable work hours, healthcare barriers experienced by immigrant women and LGBTQ individuals, MeToo movement, vigilante gender violence, the fourth wave of feminism, the role of immigrant women and ethnic minority women in grassroots feminist activism, men's support of feminist issues, and more. Boasting a new full-color design and rich with pedagogy, the book includes several boxed elements in each chapter. In The News boxes, present current news items designed to engage students in thinking critically about current gender-focused events and issues. The What You Can Do boxes give students examples of applied activities that they can engage in to promote a more egalitarian society. Get Involved boxes ask students to collect data and to critically think about the explanations and implications of the activity's findings Learn About the Research boxes expose students to a variety of research methods and highlight the importance of diversity in research samples by including studies of underrepresented groups At the end of each chapter What Do You Think questions foster skills in critical thinking synthesis and evaluation by asking the student to apply course material or personal experiences to provocative issues from the chapter The If You Want to Learn More feature provides names of the most current books available on various topics that are discussed in the chapter Combining up to date research with an approachable and engaging writing style Women's Lives is an invaluable resource for all students of gender from psychology women's studies gender studies sociology and anthropology
