Gender Aging And The State:

Gender, Aging and the State Barbara Nichols, Peter Leonard, 1994 State, Law and Gender Shreya Roy, 2023-12-12 A critical analysis of marriage law in India from the late nineteenth to early twentieth century In State Law and Gender Shreya Roy highlights how Indian law has been implicated in women's subordination It explores the ideological expectations that underpin women's legal regulation as well as the traditions in which law subjugates women the multifaceted and elusive ways wherein law validates profoundly gender based suppositions relationships and characters The book demonstrates that the correlation of moral precepts and legal norms is associated with the broader history of the age of marriage of girls in India and it has also shown how history includes diverse alternatives to understanding and addressing the problem of child marriages that do not rely on liberal legal frameworks The book critically analyzes and evaluates the social and legislative history of the period focusing particularly on three significant pieces of legislation Act III of 1872 the Age of Consent Act of 1891 and the Child Marriage Restraint Act of 1929 It traces the history of the legal changes related to the age of marriage in India after Independence and links this issue with the present day concern and the Government's initiative for raising the age of marriage of girls

Tobacco Use Among United States Racial/ethnic Minority Groups United States. Department of Health and Human Services, 1998 This Surgeon General's report on tobacco use summarizes current information on risk factors and patterns related to tobacco use among members of four major racial and ethnic minority groups in the United States African Americans American Indians and Alaska Natives Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders and Hispanics In addition this report presents information on national and regional efforts to curtail consumption of tobacco products among members of these four groups Previous Surgeon General's reports on smoking and health have briefly summarized findings related to one or more of the racial ethnic groups covered in this report but this is the first Surgeon General's report to concentrate specifically on the four major racial ethnic groups in the United States Several factors prompted the development of this report First the information in this report has never before been compiled in one source Consequently policymakers community leaders researchers and public health workers have had difficulty determining the extent of the problem identifying gaps in information regarding tobacco use among members of the four groups or being aware of existing tobacco control programs that have demonstrated effectiveness Thus incorporating such information into the design and implementation of culturally appropriate services has been difficult Second the four racial ethnic groups currently constitute about one fourth of the population of this country and the Bureau of the Census projects that by 2050 the non Hispanic white population in the United States will total only 53 percent Day 1996 Preventing health problems related to tobacco use among the individuals in racial and ethnic groups will be integral to achieving U S public health objectives such as those proposed in Healthy People 2000 National Health Promotion and Disease Prevention Objectives U S Department of Health and Human Services USDHHS 1991 1995 National Center for Health Statistics NCHS 1994 This report contributes essential knowledge that must be incorporated into efforts to accomplish the Healthy People 2000 objectives Gender, Ageing and Extended Working Life Wendy Loretto,Clary Krekula,Sarah Vickerstaff,Debra Street,Aine Ni Leime,2019-01-23 Nations that are raising retirement ages appear to work on the assumption that there is appropriate employment available for people who are expected to retire later Gender ageing and extended working life challenges both this narrative and the gender neutral way the expectation for extending working lives is presented in most policy making circles The international contributors to this book part of the Ageing in a Global Context series apply life course approaches to understanding evolving definitions of work and retirement They consider the range of transitions from paid work to retirement that are potentially different for women and men in different family circumstances and occupational locations and offer solutions governments should consider to enable them to evaluate existing policies Based on evidence from Australia Germany Ireland Portugal Sweden the United Kingdom and the United States this is essential reading for researchers and students and for policymakers who formulate and implement employment and pensions policy at national and international levels Gender, Aging, and the State Barbara Nichols,Peter Leonard,1994-01 The relationship between gender aging and the State in determining the material social and psychological experiences of older people raises profoundly important questions of theory practice and politics Adolescent Health in the United States, 2007 Andrea P. MacKay,Catherine Duran,2008 This report from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention s CDC National Center for Health Statistics NCHS presents data on the current status of adolescent health Many of the measures of health status are shown by single year of age or by 2 or 3 year age intervals to highlight the changes that occur in health status as adolescents move through this important developmental period Summary measures combining 5 or 10 year age groups the standard for analyses of childhood health events do not adequately capture the wide variation in health status and the vast developmental differences between younger and older adolescents Racial and ethnic variation in adolescent health is discussed when the data sources allow for such analysis Differences between sexes in some aspects of health status among adolescents become more apparent with age These differences are presented when the data allow for such analysis and the differences are notable The New Demagogues Joshua M. Roose, 2020-11-29 Chapter 4 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9780429431197> Focused on the emergence of US President Donald Trump the United Kingdom's departure from the European Union and the recruitment of Islamic State foreign fighters from Western Muslim communities this book explores the ways in which the decay and corruption of key social institutions has created a vacuum of intellectual and moral guidance for working people and deprived them of hope and an upward social mobility long considered central to the social contract of Western liberal democracy Examining the exploitation of this vacuum of leadership and opportunity by new demagogues the author considers two important yet overlooked dimensions of this new populism the mobilization of both religion and masculinity By understanding religion as a dynamic social force that can be mobilized for purposes of social solidarity and by appreciating the sociological arguments that hyper masculinity is caused by social injury Roose considers how these key social factors have been particularly important in contributing to the emergence of the new demagogues and their followers Roose identifies the challenges that this poses for Western liberal democracy and argues that states must look beyond identity politics and exclusively rights based claims and instead consider classical conceptions of citizenship Gender, Power, and Non-Governance Andria D. Timmer, Elizabeth Wirtz, 2022-05-13 Using Sherry Ortner's analogy of Female Nature Male Culture this volume interrogates the gendered aspects of governance by exploring the NGO State relationship By examining how NGOs States perform gendered roles and actions and the gendered divisions of labor involved in different types of institutional engagement this volume attends to the ways in which gender and governance constitute flexible relational and contingent systems of power The chapters in this volume present diverse analyses of the ways in which projects of governance both reproduce and challenge binaries Gender, Intersectionality and Climate Institutions in Industrialised States Gunnhildur Lily Magnúsdóttir, Annica Kronsell, 2021-06-16 This book explores how climate institutions in industrialized countries work to further the recognition of social differences and integrate this understanding in climate policy making With contributions from a range of expert scholars in the field this volume investigates policy making in climate institutions from the perspective of power as it relates to gender It also considers other intersecting social factors at different levels of governance from the global to the local level and extending into climate relevant sectors The authors argue that a focus on climate institutions is important since they not only develop strategies and policies they also reproduce power relations promote specific norms and values and distribute resources The chapters throughout draw on examples from various institutions including national ministries transport and waste management authorities and local authorities as well as the European Union and the UNFCCC regime Overall this book demonstrates how feminist institutionalist theory and intersectionality approaches can contribute to an increased understanding of power relations and social differences in climate policy making and in climate relevant sectors in industrialized states In doing so it highlights the challenges of path dependencies but also reveals opportunities for advancing gender equality equity and social justice Gender Intersectionality and Climate Institutions in Industrialized States will be of great interest to students and scholars of climate politics international relations gender studies and policy studies The Open Access version of this book available at <https://doi.org/10.4324/9781003052821> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Health and Wealth Disparities in the United States Anupam B. Jena, Thomas J. Philipson, Eric C. Sun, 2010-10-16 In this volume Anupam B Jena Tomas J Philipson and Eric C Sun formally incorporate the effects of health into an analysis of economic disparities in America from 1940 to 200 They find that accounting for the value of health dramatically affects our understanding of wealth levels across groups particularly across races The income levels of blacks and whites followed a convergent trend until the 1970 s after which the rate of convergence slowed and even reversed slightly suggesting that blacks rate of economic progress has dwindled However when health gains are incorporated the picture changes significantly Black men and women made much faster improvements in health than white men and women over this sixty year period Therefore although black and white incomes have not converged fully the overall disparity decreases when health is incorporated into the analysis

past and present comparing the situation of men and women and focussing on their protection and care within society While at first glance it appears that the phenomena in the young African countries are completely different from those in European countries there is a certain convergence between the continents The challenges of migration globalisation and the climate crisis are triggering social transformation processes that are weakening older traditions The focus is on the dissolution of the extended family and the associated loss of the stabilising function within the framework of the so called intergenerational contract This development triggers crises However new models for organising old age are also developing Old people are finding new ways to organise their lives
