Gender And Migration Vol1 On The Move:

New Perspectives on Gender and Migration Nicola Piper, 2013-09-13 This book discusses recent theoretical and empirical developments in international migration from a gender perspective Its main objective is to analyse the diversification and stratification of gendered migratory streams with regard to skill level labour market integration and legal status In turn a migrant s position in relation to these axes influences access to entitlements and rights Conceptually the book builds upon the recent shift in scholarly research on migration with women centred research shifting more toward the analysis of gender Migration is now viewed as a gendered phenomenon that requires more sophisticated theoretical and analytical tools than sex as a dichotomous variable Theoretical formulations of gender as relational and as spatially and temporally contextual have begun to inform gendered analyses of migration The contributions to this book elaborate in more detail the broader social factors that influence migrating women s and men s roles access to resources facilities and services Empirically all major regions are discussed pointing to common trends such as the increasing significance of the regionalization of migration flows as well as some noteworthy differences

Women on the Move Katherine Holden, Fiona Reid, 2020-05-15 This is an innovative and wide ranging edited collection which brings women clearly into view reflecting their disproportionately high numbers within migrating populations Spanning four centuries its contents are culturally diverse but address some important common themes and questions Beginning with a useful survey of women in migration studies in early modern Europe subsequent chapters explore the following topics the exile experiences in Europe firstly of English Brigittine nuns and secondly of Catholic Gentlewomen displaced by the English Reformation the dual national identities of a French woman moving to America during the revolutionary period the lives of two women preachers moving to an American city with a large migrant population in the mid 20th century and finally autobiographical narratives of Islamic women exiled in body and or mind from their countries of origin in the late twentieth century The authors and editors consider the significance of spirituality amongst women migrants address the difficulties of generalising from individual experiences and consider issues raised by a particular focus on elite women The focus on personal narratives crosses disciplinary boundaries making it a valuable resource for students and researchers interested in migration history autobiography personal narratives social history and gender and women s studies

Proletarian and Gendered Mass Migrations, 2013-05-02 Proletarian and Gendered Mass Migrations connects the 19th and 20th century labor migrations and migration systems in global transcultural perspective It emphasizes macro regional internal continuities or discontinuities and interactions between and within macro regions The essays look at migrant workers experiences in constraining frames and the options they seize or constraints they circumvent It traces the development from 19th century proletarian migrations to industries and plantations across the globe to 20th and 21st century domestics and caregiver migrations It integrates male and female migration and shows how women have always been present in mass migrations

Studies on historical development over time are supplemented by case studies on present migrations in Asia and from Asia. A systems approach is combined with human agency perspectives. Migration and Domestic Work Helma Lutz, 2016-04-22 Domestic work has become highly relevant on a local and global scale. Until a decade ago domestic workers were rare in European households; today they can be found working for middle class families and single people, for double or single parents as well as for the elderly. Performing the three C's: cleaning, caring and cooking, domestic workers offer their woman power on a global market which Europe has become part of. This global market is now considered the largest labour market for women world wide and it has triggered the feminization of migration. This volume brings together contributions by European and US based researchers to look at the connection between migration and domestic work on an empirical and theoretical level. The contributors elaborate on the phenomenon of domestic work in late modern societies by discussing different methodological and theoretical approaches in an interdisciplinary setting. The volume also looks at the gendered aspects of domestic work: it asks why the re introduction of domestic workers in European households has become so popular and will argue that this phenomenon is challenging gender theories. This is a timely book and will be of interest to academics and students in the fields of migration, gender and European studies.

Methodologies on the Move Anna Amelina, Thomas Faist, Devrim Sel D. Nergiz, 2014-10-14 This volume establishes a new agenda for approaches to migration research and the corresponding methodologies. A wide range of international contributors focus on the question of how to overcome the so called methodological nationalism within empirical studies on migration. They address two main challenges: how to contextualize the empirical research field and how to deal with national and ethnic categorizations within the empirical studies. Methodologies on the Move outlines first of all a new epistemological basis for migration research which is pinpointing the relational concept of space. Second, building on the multi sited method of ethnography, it provides detailed insights into novel qualitative and quantitative research designs. Third, it presents innovative data collection methods on geographic and virtual mobility and on cross border social practices. This volume transcends the early criticisms of methodological nationalism in migration research and suggests both general methodological lines as well as helpful tools for empirical analysis. This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies.

Reshaping Gender and Class in Rural Spaces Belinda Leach, 2016-04-08 Leach and Pini bring together empirical and theoretical studies that consider the intersections of class, gender and rurality. Each chapter engages with current debates on these concepts to explore them in the context of contemporary social and economic transformations in which global processes that reconstitute gender and class interconnect with and take shape in a particular form of locality: the rural. The book is innovative in that it responds to calls for more critical work on the rural other contributes to scholarship on gender and rurality but does so through the lens of class This book places the question of gender rurality and difference at its centre through its focus on class addresses the urban bias of much class scholarship as well as the lack of gender analysis in much rural and class academic work focuses on the ways that class mediates the construction and practices of rural men masculinities and rural women femininities challenges prevalent and divergent assumptions with chapters utilising contemporary theorisations of class With the empirical strongly grounded in theory this book will appeal to scholars working in the fields of gender rurality identity and class studies

Gender, Development, and Trade Maree Keating, 2004 This book shows how women are finding ways to influence national and international trade policy agendas in developed countries and are joining forces in global forums to campaign for reforms over trade agreements on agricultural products intellectual property and the movement of migrant labour

Gender & Migration Susie Jolly, 2005 , Zapotecs on the Move Adriana Cruz-Manjarrez, 2013-05-06 Through interviews with three generations of Yal lag Zapotecs Yal Itecos in Los Angeles and Yal lag Oaxaca this book examines the impact of international migration on this community It traces five decades of migration to Los Angeles in order to delineate migration patterns community formation in Los Angeles and the emergence of transnational identities of the first and second generations of Yal lag Zapotecs in the United States exploring why these immigrants and their descendents now think of themselves as Mexican Mexican Indian immigrants Oaxaque os and Latinos identities they did not claim in Mexico Based on multi site fieldwork conducted over a five year period Adriana Cruz Manjarrez analyzes how and why Yal lag Zapotec identity and culture have been reconfigured in the United States using such cultural practices as music dance and religious rituals as a lens to bring this dynamic process into focus By illustrating the sociocultural economic and political practices that link immigrants in Los Angeles to those left behind the book documents how transnational migration has reflected shaped and transformed these practices in both their place of origin and immigration

New Sociologies of Sex Work Kate Hardy, Sarah Kingston, 2016-05-06 Sex work studies have seen an expansion in publications over the past decade drawing together disciplines from across the social sciences namely sociology criminology and social policy There has however been a tendency for research and writing to focus on the more obvious aspect of the sex industry the visible elements of female street prostitution and those features which attract media attention such as the criminalised aspects of the sex trade The sex industry is diverse in terms of its organisation presentation participants and how it is located in the broader context of globalisation and regulation there is a need for publications which demonstrate this breadth This book makes an outstanding contribution to the sociology of sex work through advancing theoretical policy methodological and empirical ideas as each chapter pushes the boundaries of a specific area by offering new and critical research as well as commentary

Migration and mobility in an enlarged europe Sigrid Metz-Göckel, Mirjana Morokvasic-Müller, A. Senganata Münt, 2008-07-23 The book investigates transnational migration and mobility of women from and within Central Eastern European countries It looks at women s practices and experiences mostly in the service sector where they are in demand as substitutes in stereotypically women s work The book combines different perspectives sociological and anthropological studies comparative policy analysis and historical and statistical evidence and provides new insights into current theoretical debates in migration and gender studies      The Latino Gender Gap in U.S. Politics Christina E. Bejarano,2013-12-17

Many questions remain unanswered about the observable differences in voting behavior partisanship and cultural attitudes among men and women Bejarano offers an authoritative critical reflection on how this political gender gap is displayed in the racial ethnic minority groups in the U S      Migrant Women and Work Anuja Agrawal,2006-05-10 This volume is focused on Asian women who migrate either globally or across the Asian continent or within their respective countries in order to seek work The contributors cover a broad terrain of issues including the changing gender composition of migration streams the motivations of individual migrants the different outcomes of male and female migration and discernible patterns in the migration of women The distinguishing feature of this collection of original essays and case studies is that it concentrates on solo migrant women The contributors show that even though migration involves moving away from their homes the family both as an institution and an ideology constraints and shapes the choices of migrant women Additionally the case studies demonstrate that gender ideologies remain highly resistant to modification even consequent to a radical alteration in the household division of labour owing to women s migration On the other hand women see migration as a way of achieving greater autonomy as well as fulfilling a role as a responsible adult Overall the volume argues that the structural ramifications of women s migration extend beyond the lives of the migrant women themselves in so far as their labour plays an important role in shaping gender relations in the societies of both the migrants and their hosts An important contribution to the literature on migration this volume will attract the attention of all social scientists but particularly those studying migration gender family labour sociology and anthropology      Global and Asian Perspectives on International Migration

Graziano Battistella,2014-09-12 This volume examines key aspects of the migration process that are particularly relevant in the Asian context It looks into established concepts and theoretical propositions that have found application in other areas particularly in the West and explores their validity and relevance in understanding the realities of migration in Asia Global and Asian Perspectives on International Migration features the perspectives of scholars from Asia and other parts of the world as well as diverse backgrounds It presents a variety of forms directions policies and institutions including circular and temporary migration the management of cultural diversity the gender perspective on migration in North America Europe and Asia returning migrants migration governance in the ASEAN economic community and the determinants of migration In conclusion the book explores migration transition in Asia and revisits select theories in light of recent evidence With its dialogic approach to migration in Asia by renowned authors from various regions and disciplines this book will serve as a valuable resource to policy makers in research and academia civil society international organizations and the private sector
