Gender, Colonialism and Education Joyce Goodman, Jane Martin, 2002 Gender Colonialism and Education is an array of articles covering the liminal crosscurrents surrounding the complex relationship between gender and education in Europe and within the perimeter of Euroimperialism in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Together the essays span the emergent intersections of gender with the ideology and discursive practice of educational institutions curricula and pedagogy in a variety of geographical and cultural settings across the globe The Transnational in the History of Education

Eckhardt Fuchs, Eugenia Roldán Vera, 2019-05-25 This edited volume reflects on how the transnational features in education as well as policies and practices are conceived of as mobile and connected beyond the local Like globalization the transnational is much more than a static reality of the modern world it has become a mode of observation and self reflection that informs education research history and policy in many world regions This book examines the sociocultural project that the transnational turn evident in historical scholarship of the last few decades represents and how a transnational history shapes how historians construct their objects of study It does so from a multinational perspective yet with a view of the different layers of historical meanings associated with the concept of the transnational Gender and Education in Politics, Policy and Practice Marie Carlson, Brynja E. Halldórsdóttir, Branislava Baranović, Ann-Sofie Holm, Sirpa Lappalainen, Andrea Spehar, 2021-11-15 This book presents ideas on education gender and intersectionality through a transdisciplinary frame by crossing disciplinary and methodological borders Exploring the diversity of educational settings ranging from early childhood to adult education it brings together scholars from various disciplines to discuss deconstruct and problematize gender and education in relation to several themes in a comparative intersectional local national regional and international perspective Each chapter approaches the topic in an intersectional and or transnational manner and creates powerful gendered educational knowledge Questions addressed in the book include What are the challenges or barriers to gender equal education How can we understand the gaps between formal policies and educational practices The chapters in the book illustrate how gender and education are relevant and needed concepts within the field of transdisciplinary research The authors hail from a range of countries such as Croatia Indonesia Turkey UK as well as the Nordic region and they critically examine gender and education at all levels and in diverse sectors and with varied lenses such as neoliberalism in education and the inclusion of newcomers and refugees The work also critically investigates programs and pedagogical approaches culture and values knowledge and identity in teacher education The book further addresses criticisms of Western and

Anglophone bias around white feminism and the norm of white male and heterosexual privilege Education, Equality and Human Rights Mike Cole, 2006-08-21 With a new Preface by leading educationist Peter McLaren the updated second edition of this comprehensive book provides an important educational perspective on world wide equality issues for student teachers and teachers at all stages Each of the five equality issues of gender race sexuality disability and social class are covered as areas in their own right and in relation to education Written by experts in each particular field the chapters trace the history of the various issues up to the present and enable readers to assess their continuing relevance in the future

Education and Gendered Citizenship in Pakistan M. Naseem, 2010-12-14 This book challenges the uncritical use of the long held dictum of the development discourse that education empowers women Situated in the post structuralist feminist position it argues that in its current state the educational discourse in Pakistan actually disempowers women

Transfeminist Perspectives in and beyond Transgender and Gender Studies Finn Enke, 2012-05-04 Lambda Literary Award for Best Book in Transgender Nonfiction 2013 If feminist studies and transgender studies are so intimately connected why are they not more deeply integrated Offering multidisciplinary models for this assimilation the vibrant essays in Transfeminist Perspectives in and beyond Transgender and Gender Studies suggest timely and necessary changes for institutions of higher learning Responding to the more visible presence of transgender persons as well as gender theories the contributing essayists focus on how gender is practiced in academia health care social services and even national border patrols Working from the premise that transgender is both material and cultural the contributors address such aspects of the university as administration sports curriculum pedagogy and the appropriate location for transgender studies Combining feminist theory transgender studies and activism centered on social diversity and justice these essays examine how institutions as lived contexts shape everyday life

Anti-colonialism and Education George Jerry Sefa Dei, Arlo Kempf, 2006 There is a rich intellectual history to the development of anti colonial thought and practice In discussing the politics of knowledge production this collection borrows from and builds upon this intellectual tradition to offer understandings of the macro political processes and structures of education delivery e.g. social organization of knowledge culture pedagogy and resistant politics The contributors raise key issues regarding the contestation of knowledge as well as the role of cultural and social values in understanding the way power shapes everyday relations of politics and subjectivity In reframing anti colonial thought and practice this book reclaims the power of critical oppositional discourse and theory for educational transformation Anti Colonialism and Education The Politics of Resistance includes some the most current theorizing around anti colonial practice written specifically for this collection Each of the essays extends the terrain of the discussion of what constitutes anti colonialism Among the many discursive highlights is the interrogation of the politics of embodied knowing the theoretical distinctions and connections between anti colonial thought and post colonial theory and the identification of the particular lessons of anti colonial theory for critical educational practice Essays explore such key issues as the challenge of articulating anti colonial thought as an epistemology of the colonized anchored in the indigenous sense of collective and common colonial consciousness the conceptualization of power configurations embedded in ideas cultures and histories of marginalized communities the understanding of indigeneity as pedagogical practice and the pursuit of agency resistance and subjective politics through anti colonial learning

Human Rights and Gender Politics Anne-Marie Hilsdon, Martha Macintyre, Vera Mackie, Maila Stevens, 2012-11-12 First Published in 2004 As the new millennium leaves behind the most violent of centuries human rights activists and international agencies are looking to a new Age of Rights Feminists have been prominent among those struggling from below to reconstruct human rights the slogan women s rights are human rights has become a central claim of the global women s movement feminist theorists have argued for an explicit inclusion of women and gender in human rights tenets and United Nations forums have become central sites of an energetic new global feminist public providing unprecedented avenues for feminist initiatives and action It is clear however that feminist re shapings of human rights have been engaged in complex conversations with both human rights claims and with feminist and gender politics in all their many local versions The contributors to this volume address these complex conversations through a number of case studies within the Asia Pacific region World Yearbook of Education 2023 Janelle Scott, Monisha Bajaj, 2022-11-07 The World Yearbook of Education 2023 centers on the intersection of racialization inequality and education It critically examines how racial formation and its associated logics about citizenship belonging justice equality and humanity manifest in early childhood education primary secondary and higher education as well as non formal community based education settings The chapters offer multisited perspectives into how racialization has and continues to shape educational inequality with an eye towards the agency and resistance of youth and communities in contesting such forms of domination and marginalization Across three sections the book examines how forces of imperialism white supremacy and colonization have shaped racialization in distinct locations and how education was historically utilized as a site for both the creation and or reification of difference It reveals the lingering effects of processes of racialization in distinct locations globally and their intersections with educational policies ideologies systems and realities Inviting readers to learn reflect and engage with the layered and complex realities of racialization and inequality in education across the globe World Yearbook of Education 2023 is a timely and important contribution to discussions of racialization and provides the field with a robust foundation for future critical inquiry and engagement with the themes of race racialization inequality and education Intersectionality, Transnationalism, and the History of Education Deirdre Raftery, Stephanie

Spencer, 2024-10-26 This volume brings together a diverse range of contributors to explore the significance of intersectionality and transnationalism with reference to the history of education The chapters cover a range of educational spaces and places and demonstrate the possibilities that theoretical approaches can offer to scholars at all levels of their academic career The chapters focus specifically on women s activism in order to maintain a coherent framework of research that is brought together in an introduction and concluding thoughts The significance of gender as relational and a symbol of power ensures that men and masculinities are not overlooked but recognized as integral to understanding gender dynamics as they affected women s education and the ways in which that education took place Gender and Environmental Education: Feminist and Other(ed) Perspectives Annette Gough, 2024-06-03 This timely book provides a starting point for critical analysis and discourse about the status of gendered perspectives in environmental education research Through bringing together selected writings of Annette Gough it documents the evolving discussions of gender in environmental education research since the mid 1990s from its origins in putting women on the agenda through to women s relationships with nature and ecofeminism as well as writings that engage with queer theory intersectionality assemblages new materialisms posthumanism and the more than human The book is both a collection of Annette Gough and her collaborators writings around these themes and her reflections on the transitions that have occurred in the field of environmental education related to gender since the late 1980s as well as her deliberations on future directions An important new addition to the World Library of Educationalists this book foregrounds women their environmental perspectives and feminist and other gendered research which have been marginalised for too long in environmental education Gender Politics at Home and Abroad Hyaeweol Choi, 2020-07-30 Hyaeweol Choi examines the formation of modern gender relations in Korea from a transnational perspective Diverging from a conventional understanding of secularization as a defining feature of modernity Choi argues that Protestant Christianity introduced to Korea in the late nineteenth century was crucial in shaping modern gender ideology reforming domestic practices and claiming new space for women in the public sphere In Korea Japanese colonial power and with it Japanese representations of modernity was confronted with the dominant cultural and material power of Europe and the US which was reflected in Korean attitudes One of the key agents in conveying ideas of Western modernity in Korea was globally connected Christianity especially US led Protestant missionary organizations By placing gender and religion at the center of the analysis Choi shows that the development of modern gender relations was rooted in the transnational experience of Koreans and not in a simple nexus of the colonizer and the colonized
