Gender Quake:

Gender Quake Joelle Ruby Ryan, 2005 Gender Quake is a book of revolutionary poems that explores what it means to be a transgendered individual in America Joelle Ruby Ryan a self styled 66 transgender warrior bares her soul in this collection of poems which is at turns humorous poignant searing and deeply passionate From the ashes of loneliness rage and despair Ryan charts an emotional trajectory which jolts readers into confronting their own shared humanity with differently gendered people Ryan covers topics as diverse as feminism porn passing violence activism and the urgent need for solidarity across lines of identity and difference While the book explores the darkest corners of a life marred by pain discrimination and self hatred it also repeatedly calls upon hope love and justice as the primary correctives for imagining a better world Gender Quake will shock you educate you and most of all move you to join the fight for a gender revolution So World take note the Gender Quake is ready to activate and the whirl is gonna be blissful and divine and unstoppable No Turning Back Helen Wilkinson, 1994 Examines how values have changed between 1970 and 1993 Based on data collected through a random sample of 2 500 15 to 75 year old people interviewed in 1993 Femininity, Feminism and Recreational Pole Dancing Kerry Griffiths, 2015-11-19 This book explores the phenomenon of pole dancing as an increasingly popular fitness and leisure activity for women It moves beyond previous debates surrounding the empowering or degrading nature of pole dancing classes and instead explores the complexities of these concepts and highlights that women participating in this practice cannot be seen as one dimensional Femininity Feminism and Recreational Pole Dancing explores the construction negotiation and presentation of a gendered and classed identity and self through participation in pole dancing the meaning of pole dancing as a fitness practice for women and the concepts of community and friendship as developed through classes Using empirical research the book uncovers the stories and experiences of the women who participate in these classes and examines what the mainstreaming of this type of sexualised dance means for the women who practice it Pole dancing is shown to be a practice in which female identities are negotiated performed and enacted and this book positions pole dancing as an activity which both reinforces but also presents some challenge to ideas of feminism and femininity for the women that participate Women s participation in pole dancing is described in a discourse of choice and control yet this book argues that the decision to participate is somewhat constructed by the advertising of these classes as enabling women to create a particular desirable self which is perpetuated throughout our culture as the ideal Exploring the ways in which women attempt to manage impressions and present themselves as respectable the book examines how women wish to dis identify with both women who work as strippers and women who are feminist seeing both identities as contradictory to the feminine image that they pursue The book explores the capacity of these classes to offer women some feelings of agency but challenges the idea that participating in pole dancing can offer collective empowerment The book ultimately argues that women s participation can be viewed both in terms of their active engagement and enjoyment of these classes and in terms of the structures and pressures which continue to shape their lives This timely publication explores the complexity of the pole dancing phenomenon and highlights a range of questions surrounding this activity as a leisure form It will be a valuable contribution to those interested in women s and gender studies cultural studies feminism sociology and leisure studies

Race, Sex, and Gender in Contemporary Women's Theatre Mary F Brewer, 1999-01-01 Focusing on dramatic works by contemporary British and American playwrights in conjunction with feminist political and theoretical texts this book discusses feminist constructions of the category Woman

Regulating Romance Shanti Parikh, 2016-04-11 Drawing on ten years of ethnographic research two hundred fifty interviews and over three hundred youth love letters author Shanti Parikh uses lively vignettes to provide a rare window into young people s heterosexual desires and practices in Uganda In chapters entitled Unbreak my heart I miss you like a desert missing rain and You re just playing with my head she invites readers into the world of secret longings disappointments and anxieties of young Ugandans as they grapple with everyday difficulties while creatively imagining romantic futures and possibilities Parikh also examines the unintended consequences of Uganda s aggressive HIV campaigns that thrust sexuality and anxieties about it into the public sphere In a context of economic precarity and generational tension that constantly complicates young people s notions of consumption based romance communities experience the dilemmas of protecting and policing young people from reputational and health dangers of sexual activity They arrested me for loving a school girl is the title of a chapter on controlling delinquent daughters and punishing defiant boyfriends for attempting to undermine patriarchal authority by asserting their adolescent romantic agency Sex education programs struggle between risk and pleasure amidst morally charged debates among international donors and community elders transforming the youthful female body into a platform for public critique and concern The many sides of this research constitute an eloquently executed critical anthropology of intervention

Queering Russian Media and Culture Galina Miazhevich, 2022-02-27 This book explores how queerness and representations of queerness in media and culture are responding to the shifting socio political cultural and legal conditions in post Soviet Russia especially in the light of the so called antigay law of 2013 Based on extensive original research the book outlines developments historically both before and after the fall of the Soviet Union and provides the background to the 2013 law It discusses the proliferating alternative visions of gender and sexuality which are increasingly prevalent in contemporary Russia The book considers how these are represented in film personal diaries photography theatre protest art fashion and creative industries web series news media and how they relate to the traditional values rhetoric Overall the book provides a rich and detailed yet complex insight into the developing nature of queerness in contemporary Russia

Sociology of Education Tomas Boronski, Nasima Hassan, 2015-09-26 An essential student friendly text for Education Studies Dr Gillian Forrester Subject Head for Education Early Childhood Studies Liverpool John Moores University Introducing students to the complexities of Education Studies is a difficult task and this book will go a long way to making it easier I will definitely be recommending this

Postfemininities in Popular Culture Stéphanie Genz, 2009-03-31 Addressing the contradictions surrounding modern day femininity and its complicated relationship with feminism and postfeminism this book examines a range of popular female and feminist icons and paradigms It offers an innovative and forward looking perspective on femininity and the modern female self Money, Speculation and Finance in Contemporary British Fiction Nicky Marsh, 2007-01-01 A key monograph surveying the portrayal of finance and money in British fiction over the last thirty years

Queer(ing) Russian Art Brian James Baer, Yevgeniy Fiks, 2023-09-12 While the topic of queer sexuality in imperial Russia and the Soviet Union has been investigated for decades by scholars working in the fields of sociology history literary studies and musicology it has yet to be studied in any comprehensive or systematic way by those working in the visual arts Queer ing Russian Art Realism Revolution Performance is meant to address this lacuna by providing a platform for new scholarship that connects Russian art with queerness in a variety of ways Situated at the intersection of Visual Studies and Queer Studies and working from different theoretical and disciplinary perspectives the contributors expose and explore the queer imagery and sensibilities in works of visual art produced in pre Soviet Soviet and post Soviet contexts and beneath the surface of conventional histories of Russian and Soviet art Transitions of Youth Citizenship in Europe Andy Furlong, Irena Guidikova, Council of Europe. Directorate of Youth and Sport, 2001-01-01 The book explores issues relating to contemporary youth cultures and citizenship within modern European societies The papers presented discuss the structural inequalities and social disadvantage which often undermine youth citizenship and consider how subculture activities influence the development of youth action initiative and social responsibility The case studies include animal rights activists in Sweden hip hop music culture in France rural youth in the UK the influence of the media and mobile communications upon young people's experiences the role of the family and peer groups and gender issues and developments in the educational achievements of young women Crèche Barriers Helen Wilkinson, 2002 Populism, Twitter and the European Public Sphere Juha Herkman, Emilia Palonen, 2024-03-30 This volume approaches the relationship between European public sphere and political communication in the framework of establishing populism and social media The empirical analysis focuses on the comparison between different EU countries during the 2019 EP elections campaign The data for the analysis was collected real time from Twitter in the Netherlands Germany Finland Italy Spain Ireland and the UK during a month period and are analyzed with both computerized quantitative and manual qualitative methods The book introduces a new perspective in conceptualizing populism in comparative analysis in which populism is understood rather as an antagonist logic of political identity formation than pre defined political ideologies movements or party cleavages We approach implications of populist construction of us and not us in national contexts of 2019 EP election campaigns to find out the relationality between different political actors and parties A special attention is paid to national transnational and European Eurosceptic tendencies in campaign rhetoric By using a unique idea of hashtag publics we approach the common Twitter discussions around the elections and ask what particular topics and themes did different political actors distribute over Twitter during the 2019 EP elections how were various topics and actors linked to each other and how were campaign agendas and actors linked to populism Chapter No 1 Chapter No 4 and Chapter No 8 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License via link springer com

The Post-communist Condition Aleksandra Galasińska, Dariusz Galasiński, 2010 This volume offers interdisciplinary perspectives on discourses in one national context of post communist transformation Proposing a macro micro approach to discourse analysis and transformation it examines a spectrum of topics including Polish history with its interpreters changes in political bodies and the media policies of the Catholic Church and the Institute of National Remembrance xenophobia and anti-Semitism with the emergence of unemployment and homelessness experiences of new gender relations and migrations In effect drawing upon unique sets of data the book shows how post communist transformation can be understood through analyses of the changing public and private discourses It shows Polish post communism as a fragile and uneasy transformation with people and institutions struggling to make sense of it and of life within it The volume will be of interest to a broad range of social scientists discourse analysts sociologists modern historians and political scientists as well as to the informed lay public

Female Masculinities and the Gender Wars Finn Mackay, 2021-09-23 Thoughtful and often moving Gaby Hinsliff The Guardian Female Masculinities and the Gender Wars provides important theoretical background and context to the gender wars or TERF wars the fracture at the forefront of the LGBTQ international conversation Using queer and female masculinities as a lens Finn Mackay investigates the current generational shift that is refusing the previous assumed fixity of sex gender and sexual identity Transgender and trans rights movements are currently experiencing political backlash from within certain lesbian and lesbian feminist groups resulting in a situation in which these two minority communities are frequently pitted against one another or perceived as diametrically opposed Uniquely Finn Mackay approaches this debate through the context of female masculinity butch and transmasculine lesbian masculinities There has been increasing interest in the study of masculinity influenced by a popular discourse around so called toxic masculinity the rise of men's rights activism and theory and critical work on Trump's America and the MeToo movement An increasingly important topic in political science and sociological academia this book aims to break new ground in the discussion of the politics of gender and identity Planning for Diversity Dory Reeves, 2005 The practical importance of diversity and equality for spatial planning and sustainable development is still not widely understood Using international examples this book shows planners and educationalists the benefits of building in a consideration of diversity and equality at each stage and level of planning Despite being one of the most diverse and gender balanced of the built environment professions complacency has been widespread in planning This book shows why a diverse profession is important and drawing on a wide range of good practice shows how those involved in planning can develop their sensitivity to and expertise in diversity and equality Trans Individuals Lived Experiences of Harm Katie McBride, 2023-06-14 This book explores how neoliberal consumer capitalist ideals of meritocracy competitive individualism and responsabilisation have shaped trans people's subjectivity and lived experiences of harm The book critiques the adequacy of legal constructs of hate crime to acknowledge the social harms experienced The deep ethnographic data illuminates a variety of social harms that result from the failure of social structures and systems to acknowledge gender identities beyond the binary The book offers a historically grounded theorisation of anti trans sentiment to produce a persuasive argument for understanding the harms of hate as recognitive harms In this sense the book opens up a path to theorizing the empirically documented emotional and psychological harms of both transphobia and transnormative ideals as rooted in a binary gender order that has been invigorated by the hyper individualism and competitiveness of capitalist neoliberalism The Bloomsbury Handbook of Religion, Gender and Sexuality Sonya Sharma, Dawn Llewellyn, Sian Hawthorne, 2024-06-13 Bringing together disciplines across the arts humanities and social sciences this Handbook presents novel and lively examinations of the dynamic ways religion gender and sexuality operate Applying feminist intersectional and reflexive approaches the volume aims to loosen imperialist and exclusionary figurations that have underwritten and tethered religion gender and sexuality together While holding onto the field of inquiry the Handbook offers contributions that interrogate and untie it from the terms and conditions that have formed it The volume is organized into thematic sections Forces and Futures Activisms and Labors Agencies and Practices Relationships and Institutions Texts and Objects Chapters range across religious geographical historical political and social contexts and feature an array of case studies experiences and topics that exemplify the reflexive intention of the volume including explorations of race whiteness colonialism and the institutional intolerance of minority groups Contributors also advance new areas of research in religion including artificial intelligence farming migrant mothering child sexual abuse mediatization national security legal frameworks addiction and recovery decolonial hermeneutics creative arts sport sexual practices and academic friendship This is an essential contribution to the fields of religious studies and gender and sexuality studies Gender and Power in the Workplace Harriet Bradley, 1998-11-18 After over two decades of feminist campaigning why is it that men are still paid more than women and established patterns of gender segregation persist Are the feminization of the labour force and the rise of dual earning couples radically affecting the sexual division of labour in the home and at work What roles are played by trade unions in promoting equality between the sexes And if women are finally breaking through glass ceilings is it at the expense of men This important new textbook explores these questions using original material from interviews with female and male employees in five case study organizations The author develops a new approach to power in terms of a range of resources which are used by women to challenge male domination and by men to resist women s encroachment This approach is used to unpack the complexities of power relations of gender and class as they are played out in the everyday lives of working people The interaction of class and gender is also explored at the societal level in terms of increased global competition feminization and the development of a climate of equality fostered by Equal Opportunities programmes Women s expectations are increasing leading them to compete with men for promotion and career advancement but this is taking place in the context of increasing insecurity anxiety and work intensification for all employees especially those in public sector organizations Gender and Power in the Workplace makes a major contribution to the sociological analysis of power and to our understanding of how processes of gendering are played out in the sphere of employment
