Dialogues in Urban and Regional Planning Bruce Stiftel, Vanessa Watson, Henri Acselrad, 2006-10-19 Dialogues in Urban and Regional Planning offers a new selection of the best urban planning scholarship from each of the world's planning school associations. The award-winning papers presented illustrate the concerns and the discourse of planning scholarship communities and provide a glimpse into planning theory and practice by planning academics around the world. All those with an interest in urban and regional planning will find this collection valuable in opening new avenues for research and debate. This book is published in association with the Global Planning Education Association Network GPEAN and the nine planning school associations it represents who have selected these papers based on regional competitions. Land Tenure, Housing Rights and Gender in Brazil, 2005 Women-Headed Households S. Chant, 1997-01-31 Households headed by women are a growing presence worldwide. This is the first book to focus on their diversity and dynamics in developing countries. Set within the context of global trends and debates on female household headship and using case study material based on interviews with low income women in Mexico, Costa Rica and the Philippines, the analysis explores the reasons for the formation and increase in women-headed households in different parts of the world and their capacity for survival in societies where male-headed households are both the norm and ideal. Gender and Planning Susan S. Fainstein, Lisa J. Servon, 2005 To document and analyze the connection between gender and planning, the editors of this volume have assembled an interdisciplinary collection of influential essays by leading scholars. Contributors point to the ubiquitous single family home which prevents women from sharing tasks or pooling services. Similarly, they argue that public transportation routes are usually designed for the male worker's commute from home to the central city and do not help the suburban dweller running errands. In addition to these practical considerations, many contributors offer theoretical perspectives on issues such as planning discourse and the construction of concepts of rationality. Land Tenure, Housing Rights and Gender in Nicaragua, 2005 Tool Kit on Gender Equality Results and Indicators Asian Development Bank, 2013-12-01 This tool kit was designed to help development practitioners incorporate gender perspectives into development initiatives and to monitor and evaluate gender equality results. It was written with development policy makers, planners, implementers and evaluators in mind. The tool kit provides a menu of gender equality outcomes, results and indicators across different sectors that can be adapted to suit different contexts. It is intended to be read selectively based on the sector and nature of the program or project, although it is not expected that every indicator will be relevant to all programs and projects. Gender and Urban Poverty in South Asia Asian Development Bank, 2013-01-01 In March 2012, the Asian Development Bank (ADB) held the Subregional Workshop on Gender and Urban Poverty in South Asia to share experiences and enhance lateral learning among ADB and its project partners on addressing gender and social inclusion issues in urban development projects in Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, the Maldives, Nepal, and Sri Lanka. Participants included senior government officials, nongovernment organizations, community-based organizations, researchers, ADB urban and gender specialists, and
