Joyce in the Belly of the Big Truck; Workbook Joyce A. Cascio, 2005-05 The Contemporary Reader of Gender and Fat Studies Amy Erdman Farrell, 2023-06-28

The Contemporary Reader of Gender and Fat Studies is a key reference work in contemporary scholarship situated at the intersection between Gender and Fat Studies charting the connections and tensions between these two fields. Comprising over 20 chapters from a range of diverse and international contributors, the Reader is structured around the following key themes: theorizing gender and fat, narrating gender and fat, historicizing gender and fat, institutions and public policy, health and medicine, popular culture and media, and resistance. It is an intersectional collection highlighting the ways that gender and fat always exist in connection with multiple other structures, forms of oppression, and identities, including race, ethnicity, sexualities, age, nationalities, disabilities, religion, and class. The Contemporary Reader of Gender and Fat Studies is essential reading for scholars and advanced students in Gender Studies, Sexuality Studies, Sociology, Body Studies, Cultural Studies, Psychology, and Health. The Gendered 'I' in Ancient Literature Lisa Cordes, Therese Fuhrer, 2022-10-24

Considering the ubiquity of rhetorical training in antiquity, the volume starts from the premise that every first person statement in ancient literature is in some way rhetorically modelled and aesthetically shaped. Focusing on different types of Greek and Latin literature, poetry and prose from the Archaic Age to Late Antiquity, the contributions analyse the use and modelling of gender-specific elements in different types of first person speech: be it that the speaker is represented as the author of a work, be it that they feature as characters in the work, narrating their own story or that of others. In doing so, they do not only offer new insights into the rhetorical strategies and literary techniques used to construct a gendered I in ancient literature. They also address the form and function of first person discourse in classical literature in general, touching on fields of research that have increasingly come into focus in recent years, such as authorship studies, studies concerning the ancient notions of the literary persona, as well as a historical narratology that discusses concepts such as the narrator or the literary character in ancient literary theory and practice.

Indigenous Poetics in Canada Neal McLeod, 2014-05-16

Indigenous Poetics in Canada broadens the way in which Indigenous poetry is examined, studied, and discussed in Canada. Breaking from the parameters of traditional English literature studies, this volume embraces a wider sense of poetics, including Indigenous oralities, languages, and understandings of place. Featuring work by academics and poets, the book examines four elements of Indigenous poetics. First, it explores the poetics of memory, collective memory, the persistence of Indigenous poetic consciousness, and the relationships that enable the Indigenous storytelling process. The book then explores the poetics of performance. Indigenous poetics exist both in written form and in relation to an audience. Third, in an examination of the poetics of place and space, the book considers contemporary Indigenous poetry and classical Indigenous narratives Finally in a section on the poetics of medicine contributors articulate the healing and restorative power of Indigenous poetry and narratives

Caribbean Men in the Arts Opal Palmer Adisa, Keino Senior, 2024-11-06 This collection showcases how different forms of manhood perform in artistic spaces The selections take an in depth review and exploration of the emotional and artistic landscape of Caribbean men who dare to carve out a place for themselves in the visual and performance mediums The pieces demonstrate that Caribbean men are forging more varied and wholesome ways to describe their masculinities where they are allowed to thrive and engage in the same spaces without violence and exclusionary attitude just as they can do in the arts The manuscript also sets up a nucleus that will allow a progression of essential advances in the scholarly scrutiny of Black men and Black masculinities This book will interest individuals in the arts gender studies incorporating masculinities and femininities and black studies and also prove to be useful for students in high schools and colleges universities

Cahiers de la Femme ,2005 Gendered Landscapes Bonj Szczygiel,Josephine Carubia,Lorraine Dowler,2000

Encyclopedia of Contemporary LGBTQ Literature of the United States Emmanuel S. Nelson,2009-07-14 In this two volume work hundreds of alphabetically arranged entries survey contemporary lesbian gay bisexual transgendered and queer American literature and its social contexts Comprehensive in scope and accessible to students and general readers Encyclopedia of Contemporary LGBTQ Literature of the United States explores contemporary American LGBTQ literature and its social political cultural and historical contexts Included are several hundred alphabetically arranged entries written by expert contributors Students of literature and popular culture will appreciate the encyclopedia s insightful survey and discussion of LGBTQ authors and their works while students of history and social issues will value the encyclopedia s use of literature to explore LGBTQ American society Each entry is written by an expert contributor and lists additional sources of information To further enhance study and understanding the encyclopedia closes with a selected general bibliography of print and electronic resources for student research The Urban Condition: Literary Trajectories through Canada's Postmetropolis Eva Darias-Beautell,2019-04-30 Examining the centrality of the city in Canadian literary production post 1960 this collection of critical essays presents an interdisciplinary representation of the urban from a variety of backgrounds and perspectives By analysing contemporary Canadian literature in English the contributors intend to produce not only an alternative picture of the national literary traditions but also fresh articulations of the relationship between Canadian identity citizenship and nation Since the 1960s metropolitan regions across the world have experienced radical transformation For critical urban studies scholars this phenomenon has been described as a restructuring This study argues that in Canada this restructuring has been accompanied by a literary rearrangement of its canon consisting of a gradual shift of focus from the wild or rural to the urban Alluding to the changes within contemporary Canadian cities the term postmetropolis locates the contributors shared theoretical framework within a critical postmodern paradigm Centered on a particular selection of poetic or fictional texts each essay pushes the theoretical framework further suggesting the need for new tools of interpretation and analysis This book presents an urban literary portrait of Canada that is both thematically and conceptually coherent Using a range of interdisciplinary methodologies it adeptly navigates a range of urban issues such as surveillance asylum diaspora mobility the queer and the post political This book will be of interest to those studying or working on Canadian literature both in Canada and internationally as well as to those scholars engaged in investigations that intersect literature and urban studies

Gender, Performance, & Identity Mwenda Ntarangwi, 2003

Fabricating the Body Sarah Himsel Burcon, 2014-03-17

Fabricating the Body Effects of Obligation and Exchange in Contemporary Discourse is comprised of nine chapters that revolve around the body and more specifically issues related to identity The text draws on a variety of criticism including disability gender and psychoanalytic studies to theorize aspects relevant to the human body historically For example Rachel Herzl Betz's A Paratactic Missing Link Dorian Gray and the Performance of Embodied Modernity uses disability studies as a lens through which to examine Oscar Wilde's literary debt to the atavistic discourse of late Victorian freak shows Moving forward in time Melissa Ames's chapter Bodies of Debt Interrogating the Costs of Technological Progress Scientific Advancement and Social Conquests through Dystopian Literature is a pedagogy focused chapter In the chapter Ames discusses a college course in which she asked students to consider contemporary debates such as cloning stem cell research human trafficking and so forth in tandem with fictional texts that relate these issues Ultimately the class wrestled with the question of what do we do when human survival and societal progress come at extreme costs As a whole the text works to stimulate conversations surrounding the body and specifically bodies that can be labeled indebted

Fabricating the Body brings together issues of gender class and identity and investigates ethical concerns along with topics related to marginalization and the mind body split Ultimately the text situates the body as a productive space for academic research

Seeing Red—Hollywood's Pixeled Skins LeAnne Howe, Harvey Markowitz, Denise K. Cummings, 2013-03-01

At once informative comic and plaintive Seeing Red Hollywood's Pixeled Skins is an anthology of critical reviews that reexamines the ways in which American Indians have traditionally been portrayed in film From George B Seitz's 1925 The Vanishing American to Rick Schroder's 2004 Black Cloud these 36 reviews by prominent scholars of American Indian Studies are accessible personal intimate and oftentimes autobiographic Seeing Red Hollywood's Pixeled Skins offers indispensable perspectives from American Indian cultures to foreground the dramatic frequently ridiculous difference between the experiences of Native peoples and their depiction in film By pointing out and poking fun at the dominant ideologies and perpetuation of stereotypes of Native Americans in Hollywood the book gives readers the ability to recognize both good filmmaking and the dangers of misrepresenting aboriginal peoples The anthology offers a method to historicize and contextualize cinematic representations spanning the blatantly racist to the well intentioned to more recent independent productions Seeing Red is a unique collaboration by scholars in American Indian Studies that draws on the stereotypical representations of the past to suggest ways of seeing American Indians and indigenous peoples more clearly in the twenty first century
