Gendering Orientalism Reina Lewis, 2013-06-17 In contrast to most cultural histories of imperialism which analyse Orientalist images of rather than by women Gendering Orientalism focuses on the contributions of women themselves Drawing on the little known work of Henriette Browne other lost women Orientalist artists and the literary works of George Eliot Reina Lewis challenges masculinist assumptions relating to the stability and homogeneity of the Orientalist gaze Gendering Orientalism argues that women did not have a straightforward access to an implicitly male position of western superiority Their relationship to the shifting terms of race nation and gender produced positions from which women writers and artists could articulate alternative representations of racial difference It is this different and often less degrading gaze on the Orientalized Other that is analysed in this book By revealing the extent of women's involvement in the popular field of visual Orientalism and highlighting the presence of Orientalist themes in the work of Browne Eliot and Charlotte Brontë Reina Lewis uncovers women's roles in imperial culture and discourse Gendering Orientalism will appeal to students lecturers and researchers in cultural studies literature art history women's studies and anthropology

Twenty-Five Women Who Shaped the Ottoman Empire Ruth Miller, 2025-03-26 Twenty Five Women Who Shaped the Ottoman Empire is a tale of how women's triumphs as well as their failures shaped a global society not despite but because of gender The Ottoman Empire was among the longest lived polities in history stretching between the thirteenth and twentieth centuries across three continents several seas and scores of cities deserts mountain ranges rivers and forests This volume provides a compendium of idiosyncratic life stories and explores how women from these eras and regions understood the shape of the world in which they lived and how they brought their consciousness of their gender to their efforts to re shape it Among the questions explored in the book are how women have negotiated and constructed the public and private spheres how to define women's speech in a world mediated by men and male dominated genres and institutions and how women experienced their bodies as sites of politically inflected reproduction death and decay The book is thus an accessibly offbeat feminist overview of the field of Ottoman History that provides students scholars general readers and non specialists with insights into the lives and work of both ordinary Ottoman women and celebrated Ottoman women women who failed despite their best efforts and women who succeeded against all odds suicides spies and murderers as well as queens scientists and poets

Intersections of Gender, Class, and Race in the Long Nineteenth Century and Beyond Barbara Leonardi, 2018-12-29 This book explores the intersections of gender with class and race in the construction of national and imperial ideologies and their fluid transformation from the Romantic to the Victorian period and beyond exposing how these cultural constructions are deeply entangled with the family metaphor For example by examining the re signification of the angel in the house and the deviant woman in the context of unstable or contingent masculinities and across discourses of class and nation the volume contributes to a more nuanced understanding of British cultural constructions in the long nineteenth century The central idea is to unearth the historical roots of the family metaphor in the construction of national and imperial ideologies and to uncover the interests served by its specific discursive formation The book explores both male and female stereotypes enabling a more perceptive comparison enriched with a nuanced reflection on the construction and social function of class

The Explorer's Roadmap to National-Socialism Sarah Kristina Danielsson, 2012 Whilst terms such as Lebensraum are commonly associated with National Socialist ideology of the 1930s and 40s ideas of racial living space were in fact generated in the previous decades by an international geographic community of explorers and academics Focusing on one of the most influential figures within this group Sven Hedin this is the first study that systematically connects the geographic community to the intellectual history of the development of National Socialist ideology and genocidal practices Bodies and Maps

Representations of the Orient in Western Music Nasser Al-Taei, 2017-07-05 This book focuses on the cultural political and religious representations of the Orient in Western music Dr Nasser Al Taei traces several threads in a vast repertoire of musical representations concentrating primarily on the images of violence and sensuality Al Taei argues that these prevailing traits are not only the residual manifestation of the Ottoman threat to Western Europe but also the continuation of a long and complex history of fear and fascination towards the Orient and its Islamic religion In addition to analyses of musical works Al Taei draws on travel accounts paintings biographies and political events to engage with important issues such as gender race and religious differences that may have contributed to the variously complex images of the Orient in Western music The study extends the range of Orientalism to cover eighteenth century Austria nineteenth century Russia and twentieth century America The book challenges those scholars who do not see Orientalism as problematic and tend to ignore the role of musical representations in shaping the image of the Other within a wider interdisciplinary study of knowledge and power      Routledge International Encyclopedia of Women Cheris Kramarae,Dale Spender,2004-04-16

Goldberg,2017-07-05 Sexual rules and regulations are among society s oldest yet it is only in recent decades that this once stigmatized field has become the focus of scholarly attention This volume which includes some of the most thought provoking and hard to find essays in the field covers a diverse range of topics from sexual orientation and gender identity to intersexuality and commercial sex and from HIV AIDS and trafficking to polygamy Through historical political and critical theoretical lenses and through a global focus the selections ask how we conceptualize the groups and acts subjected to sexual regulation and how regulations in the field implicate and produce understandings of sexuality and identity By placing this variety of works together Sexuality and Equality Law invites fresh insights into commonalities and synergies across regulatory arenas that are often isolated from one another The volume s introduction situates all of these works in the broader field and offers readers an extensive bibliography      Race and Power Gargi Bhattacharyya,John Gabriel,Stephen Small,2016-04-29 Reviewing cutting edge debates around racial politics and the culture and economy of globalization this book draws together a wide range of important contemporary debates in a clear and concise way for undergraduate students Far from concluding that racism is over the authors contend that the forces of globalization inhabit older cultures of racial division in order to safeguard the economic interests of the privileged Arguing that the unspoken culture of whiteness informs much that passes in the name of globalization the book suggests that we are witnessing a reformulation of economic relations around global racisms Alongside these shifts in economic relations racialized identities evolve to encompass mixed heritages and mixed cultures both in personal identities and in lifestyle choices This is one of the few texts that concentrates on the theory of race rather than politics It looks at race in global terms and at whiteness as a part of ethnic studies      What is Africanness? Contesting nativism in race, culture and sexualities Charles Ngwena,2018-01-01 What is Africanness Contesting nativism in race culture and sexualities by Charles Ngwena 2018 ISBN 978 1 920538 82 8 Pages 306 Print version Available Electronic version Free PDF available About the publication What is Africanness Contesting nativism in culture race and sexualities by Charles Ngwenya Professor of Law at the Centre for Human Rights Faculty of Law University of Pretoria is a peer reviewed monograph aiming to contribute to the ongoing scholarly conversation in and beyond South Africa about who is African and what is African It aims to implicate a reductive sameness in the naming of Africans nativism by showing its teleology and effects and offers an alternative understanding of how Africans can be named or can name themselves The book develops an epistemology for constructing the hermeneutics of Africanness today long after the primal colonial moment and its debasing racialising ideology It interrogates the making of Africa in colonial discourses and the making of an African race and African culture s and sexuality ies in ways that are not just historically conscious but also have a heuristic capacity to contest nativism from the outside as well as from within The arguments in this book go beyond problematising African identity by addressing an existential gap in theory for explicating African social identity The book develops an interpretive method a hermeneutics for locating and deciphering African identifications in ways that are historically conscious and conjunctural The hermeneutics look to the present and the future in addition to the past so that African identifications are not nailed to a mast but remain invested with mobility and the capacity to mutate radically and make new and unexpected beginnings

Comments Charles Ngwenya s timely and original book is a wonderful read rich in theory and insight and an essential companion for those interested in exploring the multiplicity of histories cultures and subjectivities that constitute the diversity of Africanness and African identities Professor Cathi Albertyn School of Law University of the Witwatersrand Editor South African Journal on Human Rights This is a brilliant exploration of liberating and affirming ways to speak of African identities and sexualities reminding us there can be creative beauty where pain and dispossession have resided Rudo Chigudu Centre for Human Rights University of Pretoria This is a masterpiece Not only does the author capture the discourse and debates on Africanness he aptly examines them before offering his views on decentring the race of Africanness with the important recognition of Africa as land of diverse identifications Prof Serges Djoyou Kamga Thabo Mbeki African Leadership Institute UNISA

Whiteness, Weddings, and Tourism in the Caribbean Karen Wilkes, 2016-08-18 This book examines myths of the Caribbean as paradise. These myths are used as a backdrop to market destination white weddings. The book is interdisciplinary and uses historical and contemporary visual texts to examine the way in which middle class white womanhood assumes a decorative privileged and elevated position within contemporary images of destination weddings in the Caribbean. To facilitate the notion of the Caribbean as paradise, the book argues that this production of luxury is highly dependent on the positioning of blackness as servitude. To this end, tourism marketing appropriates the Caribbean's history of slavery, transforming the region into a site where whiteness can consume black labor as luxury. The Rise of Women's

Transnational Activism Marie Sandell, 2015-01-26 What characterised women's international co-operation in the interwar period? How did female activists from different countries and continents relate to one another? Marie Sandell here explores the changing experiences of women involved in the major international women's organisations including the International Council of Women, International Alliance of Women, Women's International League for Peace and Freedom and the International Federation of University Women, as well as the changing compositions and aims of the organisations themselves. Moving beyond an Anglo-American focus, Sandell analyses what the term international sisterhood meant in this broader context, which for the first time included women from the beyond the Western world. Focusing on shifting identities, this book investigates how notions of sisterhood were played out and contested during the interwar period and will be invaluable reading for scholars of women's history and twentieth-century world history. Muslim Women, Transnational Feminism and the Ethics of Pedagogy Lisa K. Taylor, Jasmin Zine, 2014-06-27 Following a long historical legacy, Muslim women's lives continue to be represented and circulate widely as a vehicle of intercultural understanding within a context of the war on terror. Following Edward Said's thesis that these cultural forms reflect and participate in the power plays of empire, this volume examines the popular and widespread production and reception of Muslim women's lives and narratives in literature, poetry, cinema, television and popular culture within the politics of a post-9/11 world. This edited collection provides a timely exploration into the pedagogical and ethical possibilities opened up by transnational feminist and anti-colonial readings that can work against sensationalized and stereotypical representations of Muslim women. It addresses the gap in contemporary theoretical discourse amongst educators teaching literary and cultural texts by and about Muslim Women and brings scholars from the fields of education, literary and cultural studies and Muslim women's studies to examine the politics and ethics of transnational anti-colonial reading practices and pedagogy. The book features interviews with Muslim women artists and cultural producers who provide engaging reflections on the transformative role of the arts as a form of critical public pedagogy. Theories of Race and Racism Les Back, John Solomos, 2000 Theories of Race and
