Southwood offers a new approach to interpreting Judges 21 Breaking away from traditional interpretations of kingship feminism or comparisons with Greek or Roman mythology she explores the concepts of marriage ethnicity rape and power as means of ethnic preservation and exclusion She also exposes the many reasons why marriage by capture occurred during the post exilic period Judges 21 served as a warning against compromise submission to superficial unity between the Israelites and the Benjaminites Any such unity would result in drastic changes in the character culture and values of the ethnic group Israel The chapter encouraged post exilic audiences to socially construct those categorised as Benjaminites as foreigners who do not belong within the group thereby silencing doubts about the merits of unity Arms Diffusion THomas W. Zarzecki,2018-12-20 Weapons proliferation is one of the most pressing global concerns following the end of the Cold War Despite the absence of an overarching superpower conflict armaments and related technologies have continued to spread throughout the international system This has been particularly true in areas like East Asia and the Middle East where the traditional two party arms races are not readily apparent This text addresses these concerns and shortcomings using data on fourteen specific military technological innovations that diffused throughout the international system from 1960 to 1997

Painting the Maple Veronica Jane Strong-Boag, 1998 Painting the Maple explores the critical interplay of race and gender in shaping Canadian culture history politics and healthcare These interdisciplinary essays draw on feminist postcolonial and critical theory in a wide ranging discussion that encompasses both high and popular forms of culture the deliberation of policy and its execution and social movements as well as individual authors and texts The contributors who come from many fields establish connections among discourses of race gender and nation building that have conditioned the formation of Canada for more than one hundred years. They analyze ways in which these elements have participated in and contributed to exclusionary practices and policies such as marginalization of women and racialized groups. Together their essays paint a picture of a nation that privileges whiteness, masculinity, and Christianity. This book gathers many insights on the construction of Canada hitherto scattered in the literature. It will be of interest to feminist scholars and others concerned with issues of race and gender. At times provocative, Painting the Maple illuminates the challenges that lie ahead for all Canadians who aspire to create a better future in a reimagined nation.
