Genealogies And Texts:

Genealogical Manuscripts in Cross-Cultural Perspective Markus Friedrich, Jörg B. Quenzer, 2024-12-16 Situating the history of genealogy in the ambit of manuscript studies this volume explores how handwriting practices influenced the development of genealogies It shows how lineages used handwritten documents in constructing and presenting their identity both to the outside world and to themselves Genealogical handwriting is practiced in many manuscript cultures this volume is the first to juxtapose studies from a wide variety of such cultures ranging from East Asia to West and Central Asia to Europe As the present contributions discuss in depth tracing one's lineage usually required taking note of personal histories biographies and relationships the chapters explore the many different reasons that compelled both individuals and institutions to do just this and highlight the various contexts in which genealogy writing occurred Taking a material oriented approach to handwriting practices in the study of genealogies can reveal the challenges implicated in producing such written artefacts highlighting the enormous effort required in cultivating lineage related knowledge Seen from the view of manuscript studies genealogies emerge as invaluable yet also highly fragile forms of cultural capital

Genealogical History in the Persianate World Jo-Ann Gross, Daniel Beben, 2025-06-26 Scholarship on the Muslim world has recently begun to pay increased attention to non literary genres of documentation as sources for historical research Genealogical writings are one form of such documentation that has demonstrated significant potential for addressing a wide range of research concerns particularly for topics that receive little attention in historical chronicles and other state centered narrative sources However while genealogical documentation has received some attention in scholarship on the Arab world it remains mostly unstudied in scholarship on Persianate societies The chapters in this book offer reflections on theoretical and methodological issues concerning the study of genealogical documentation combined with case studies based primarily on previously unpublished unstudied source materials The topics explored span the full breadth of the Persianate world from Anatolia to the Ferghana Valley in Central Asia to the Gujarat region of India utilizing sources dating from the fourteenth to the twentieth century The book will be of significant interest to scholars and students of Islamic history and the Persianate ecumene as well as readers in other fields interested in comparative research demonstrating the use of genealogical documentation as historical sources

Making and Unmaking the Carolingians Stuart

Airlie, 2020-12-24 How does power manifest itself in individuals Why do people obey authority And how does a family if they are the source of such dominance convey their superiority and maintain their command in a pre modern world lacking speedy communications standing armies and formalised political jurisdiction Here Stuart Airlie expertly uses this idea of authority as a lens through which to explore one of the most famous dynasties in medieval Europe the Carolingians Ruling the Frankish realm from 751 to 888 the family of Charlemagne had to be ruthless in asserting their status and adept at creating a discourse of Carolingian legitimacy in order to sustain their supremacy Through its nuanced analysis of authority politics and family Making and Unmaking the Carolingians 751 888 outlines the system which placed the Carolingian dynasty at the centre of the Frankish world In doing so Airlie sheds important new light on both the rise and fall of the Carolingian empire and the nature of power in medieval Europe more generally

Familial Forms Erin Murphy, 2011

Familial Forms is the first full length study to examine how literary writers engaged the politics of genealogy that helped define the century of revolution By demonstrating how conflicts over the family state analogy intersected with the period s battles over succession including the ascent of James I the execution of Charles I disputes over the terms of the Interregnum government the Restoration of Charles II the Exclusion Crisis the deposition of James II the ascent of William and Mary and Anne s failure to produce a surviving heir this study provides a new map of the seventeenth century politics of family in England Beginning with a reconsideration of Jacobean patriarchalism Familial Forms focuses on the work of John Milton Lucy Hutchinson John Dryden and Mary Astell From their contrasting political and gendered positions these authors contemplated and contested the relevance of marriage and kinship to government Their writing illuminates two crucial elements of England s conflicts First the formal qualities of poems and prose tracts reveal that not only was there a competition among different versions of the family state analogy but also a competition over its very status as an analogy Second through their negotiations of linear and nonlinear forms Milton Hutchinson Dryden and Astell demonstrate the centrality of temporality to the period s political battles Through close textual analysis of poetry political tracts parliamentary records and nonliterary genealogies Familial Forms offers a fresh understanding of the seventeenth century politics of genealogy It also provides new answers to long standing critical questions about the poetic form of canonical works such as Paradise Lost and Absalom and Achitophel and illuminates the political significance of newly canonical works by women writers including Aemilia Lanyer s Salve Deus Rex Judaeorum Hutchinson s Order and Disorder and Astell s A Serious Proposal to the Ladies
