General Rhetoric:

A General Rhetoric Groupe Mu,1981 A New Handbook of Rhetoric Michele Kennerly,2021-09-09 Like every discipline Rhetorical Studies relies on a technical vocabulary to convey specialized concepts but few disciplines rely so deeply on a set of terms developed so long ago Pathos kairos doxa topos these and others originate from the so called classical world which has conferred on them excessive authority Without jettisoning these rhetorical terms altogether this handbook addresses critiques of their ongoing relevance explanatory power and exclusionary effects A New Handbook of Rhetoric inverts the terms of classical rhetoric by applying to them the alpha privative a prefix that expresses absence Adding the prefix to more than a dozen of the most important terms in the field the contributors to this volume build a new vocabulary for rhetorical inquiry Essays on apathy akairos adoxa and atopos among others explore long standing disciplinary habits reveal the denials and privileges inherent in traditional rhetorical inquiry and theorize new problems and methods Using this vocabulary in an analysis of current politics media and technology the essays illuminate aspects of contemporary culture that traditional rhetorical theory often overlooks Innovative and groundbreaking A New Handbook of Rhetoric at once draws on and unsettles ancient Greek rhetorical terms opening new avenues for studying values norms and phenomena often stymied by the tradition In addition to the editor the contributors include Caddie Alford Benjamin Firgens Cory Geraths Anthony J Irizarry Mari Lee Mifsud John Muckelbauer Bess R H Myers Damien Smith Pfister Nathaniel A Rivers and Alessandra Von Burg The Rhetoric of the Human Sciences John S. Nelson,Allan Megill,Deirdre N. McCloskey,1987 Opening with an overview of the renewal of interest in rhetoric for inquiries of all kinds this volume addresses rhetoric in individual disciplines mathematics anthropology psychology economics sociology political science and history Drawing from recent literary theory it suggests the contribution of the humanities to the rhetoric of inquiry and explores communications beyond the academy particular in women s issues religion and law The final essays speak from the field of communication studies where the study of rhetoric usually makes its home A Theory of the Literary Text Antonio García-Berrio,2016-11-21 No detailed description available for A Theory of the Literary Text Rhetoric , The Rhetoric of Reason James Crosswhite,2012-11 Responding to skeptics within higher education and critics without James Crosswhite argues powerfully that the core of a college education should be learning to write a reasoned argument A trained philosopher and director of a university wide composition program Crosswhite challenges his readers teachers of writing and communication philosophers critical theorists and educational administrators to reestablish the traditional role of rhetoric in education To those who have lost faith in the abilities of people to reach reasoned mutual agreements and to others who have attacked the right or wrong model of formal logic this book offers the reminder that the rhetorical tradition has always viewed argumentation as a dialogue a response to changing situations an exchange of persuading listening and understanding Crosswhite s aim is to give new purpose to writing instruction and to students writing to reinvest both with the deep ethical interests of the rhetorical tradition In laying out the elements of argumentation for example he shows that claiming questioning and giving reasons are not simple elements of formal logic but communicative acts with complicated ethical features Students must learn not only how to construct an argument but the purposes responsibilities and consequences of engaging in one Crosswhite supports his aims through a rhetorical reconstruction of reason offering new interpretations of Plato and Aristotle and of the concepts of reflection and dialogue from early modernity through Hegel to Gadamer And in his conclusion he ties these theoretical and historical underpinnings to current problems of higher education the definition of the liberal arts and especially the teaching of written communication

Legal Rhetoric Books in England, 1600-1700 Lisa Anne Perry,1998 The Rhetoric of Inquiry in International Relations Torsten Michel,2021-11-04 This book argues that our current lack of recognising and understanding the different forms meta theorising takes hampers the ways in which fruitful engagement between meta theories can be conducted It proposes a radical break with the ways in which meta theorising in International Relations IR has so far been understood and instead suggests a dyadic approach a rhetoric of inquiry that investigates the diverging forms of argumentation currently present in IR meta theorising and a conversational ethic that can help steer meta theoretical engagements across existing divides in more productive ways The central questions are as follows where meta theorising should go from here in order to contribute to the analysis of an ever more complex world Can we develop ways that allow the practice of meta theorising to channel and consolidate the multiplicity of its debates and contentions to strengthen our understanding of world politics and if so how It will be of general interest in all theory and methodology courses offered at undergraduate and postgraduate levels as well as to academics working in the area of meta theory international political thought normative theory as well as IR theory in its various manifestations the mission and meaning of this work for students and scholars of the history of rhetoric Register University of Minnesota. Institute of Agriculture, Forestry, and Home Economics, 1909 Latin Rhetoric and Education in the Middle Ages and Renaissance James J. Murphy, 2023-07-21 The essays in this volume deal with the history of rhetoric and education for the thousand years from the early Middle Ages to the European Renaissance They represent the author's pioneering efforts over four decades to piece together a kind of mosaic which will provide elements necessary to construct a history of that thousand years of language activity Some essays deal with individual writers like Giles of Rome Peter Ramus Gulielmus Traversanus or Antonio Nebrija some focus on the influence of Cicero and Quintilian and other ancient sources The essays dealing specifically with education open up different inquiries into the ways language use was promoted and by whom Others explore the relations between Latin rhetoric and medieval English literature and finally several deal with the impact of printing a subject still not completely understood The Making of the Humanities Rens Bod, Jaap Maat, Thijs Weststeijn, 2025-10-01 This book is the first step towards the development of a comparative history of the humanities Specialists in philology musicology art history linguistics literary theory and other disciplines highlight the intertwining of the various fields and their impact on the sciences This first volume in the series The Making of the Humanities focuses on the early modern period Different perspectives reveal how the humanities developed from the liberal arts via the curriculum of humanistic schools to modern disciplines The authors show in particular how discoveries in the humanities contributed to a secular world view pointing up connections with the scientific revolution The main themes are the humanities versus the sciences the visual arts as liberal arts humanism and heresy language and poetics linguists and logicians philology and philosophy the history of history Contributions come from a selection of internationally renowned European and American scholars including Floris Cohen David Cram and Ingrid Rowland The book offers a wealth of insights for specialists students and those interested in the humanities in a broad sense Dialectical Rhetoric Bruce McComiskey, 2015-07-01 In Dialectical Rhetoric Bruce McComiskey argues that the historical conflict between rhetoric and dialectic can be overcome in ways useful to both composition theory and the composition classroom Historically dialectic has taken two forms in relation to rhetoric First it has been the logical development of linear propositions leading to necessary conclusions a one dimensional form that was the counterpart of rhetorics in which philosophical metaphysical and scientific truths were conveyed with as little cognitive interference from language as possible Second dialectic has been the topical development of opposed arguments on controversial issues and the judgment of their relative strengths and weaknesses usually in political and legal contexts a two dimensional form that was the counterpart of rhetorics in which verbal battles over competing probabilities in public institutions revealed distinct winners and losers The discipline of writing studies is on the brink of developing a new relationship between dialectic and rhetoric one in which dialectics and rhetorics mediate and negotiate different arguments and orientations that are engaged in any rhetorical situation This new relationship consists of a three dimensional hybrid art called dialectical rhetoric whose method is based on five topoi deconstruction dialogue identification critique and juxtaposition Three dimensional dialectical rhetorics function effectively in a wide variety of discursive contexts including digital environments since they can invoke contrasts in stagnant contexts and promote associations in chaotic contexts Dialectical Rhetoric focuses more attention on three dimensional rhetorics from the rhetoric and composition community A System of Christian Rhetoric George Winfred Hervey,1873 Rethinking Paul's Rhetorical Education Ryan S. Schellenberg,2013-09-03 Winner of the Canadian Society of Biblical Studies 2015 F W Beare Award Did Paul have formal training in Greco Roman rhetoric or did he learn what he knew of persuasion informally as social practice Pauline scholars recognize the importance of this question both for determining Paul s social status and for conceptualizing the nature of his letters but they have been unable to reach a consensus Using 2 Corinthians 10 13 as a test case Ryan Schellenberg undertakes a set of comparisons with non Western speakers most compellingly the Seneca orator Red Jacket to demonstrate that the rhetorical strategies Paul employs in this text are also attested in speakers known to have had no formal training in Greco Roman rhetoric Since there are no specific indicators of formal training in the way Paul uses these strategies their appearance in his letters does not constitute evidence that Paul received formal rhetorical education Peirce's Account of Purposefulness Gabriele Gava,2014-05-23 This book presents a systematic interpretation of Charles S Peirce s work based on a Kantian understanding of his teleological account of thought and inquiry Departing from readings that contrast Peirce s treatment of purpose end and teleology with his early studies of Kant Gabriele Gava instead argues that focusing on Peirce s purposefulness as a necessary regulative in the Kantian sense condition for inquiry and semiotic processes allows for a transcendental interpretation of Peirce s philosophical project The author advances this interpretation through presenting original views on aspects of Peirce s thought including a detailed analysis of Peirce s methodic and speculative rhetoric as well as his critical common sensism a comparison between Peirce s and James pragmatism in view of the account of purposefulness Gava puts forth and an examination of the logical relationships that order Peirce s architectonic classification of the sciences A Companion to Aristotle Georgios Anagnostopoulos,2013-04-29 The Blackwell Companion to Aristotle provides in depth studies of the main themes of Aristotle s thought from art to zoology The most comprehensive single volume survey of the life and work of Aristotle Comprised of 40 newly commissioned essays from leading experts Covers the full range of Aristotle s work from his theoretical inquiries into metaphysics physics psychology and biology to the practical and productive sciences such as ethics politics rhetoric and art
