been subject to many studies all of which have diagnosed the country's problem and prescribed solutions based on certain theoretical grounds. This book intends to look inward seeking cultural explanations for Iran's perpetual inability to improve its society. The theme in this book is based on the eloquent words of Nasir Khusrau, a great Iranian poet: az mast ki bar mast. The words are from a poem describing a self-adoring eagle that sees its life abruptly ended by an arrow winged with its own feathers; the bird is doomed by its own vanity. The closest interpretation of this idiom in Western Christian culture is you reap what you sow, which conveys a similar message that underlines one's responsibility in the sense that sooner or later we must face the choices we make. This would enable us to confront and live up to what Iran's history and culture have taught us.

The History of Persia, from the Most Early Period to the Present Time John Malcolm, 1815. Sir John Malcolm (1769–1833) was a British soldier, colonial administrator, diplomat, linguist, and historian. He was born in Scotland, left school at age 12, and through an uncle secured a position in the East India Company. While stationed in various parts of India as an officer in the company's military forces, he became interested in foreign languages, which he studied diligently. He became fluent in Persian and over the years served as an interpreter and British envoy to Persia in various capacities. In 1815 he published his The History of Persia From the Most Early Period to the Present Time, which earned him literary fame and an honorary doctorate from Oxford University. In two volumes, the book covers the period from the legendary Pishdadian Dynasty to the early 19th century. Malcolm drew on both written sources and his own extensive experiences in India and Persia. Volume 2 is particularly valuable as an account of Persia in the early 1700s, with descriptions of the country's rulers, religions, government, and society. Although Malcolm deeply admired Persian culture and civilization, he believed that the country badly needed political reform, a subject that he addressed in the concluding section of the book. Translated into French in 1821 and German in 1830, The History of Persia was the standard Western work on Persia until the appearance in 1915 of Percy Molesworth Sykes's A History of Persia.

Peony Gail Harland, 2025-05-13. A beautifully illustrated cultural history of the silky flower. Peonies are among the most beloved flowers, with petals of the finest silk and often a distinctive perfume. Their large, flamboyantly colored blooms are attractive and photogenic, ideal for celebrations. Beyond the flowers, the colorful shoots add interest to any garden. Peonies appear in the art and literature of China, Korea, Japan, the classical Mediterranean, and medieval Europe. Charles Darwin, as a child, was sent to count the peonies in his family garden, his first exercise in scientific data collection. Superbly illustrated and covering cultural as well as botanical details, this book is an ideal companion for plant lovers wanting to learn more about this fascinating flower.
