Offshore Financial Centers, Accounting Services and the Global Economy Don E. Garner, David L. McKee, Yosra AbuAmara McKee, 2000-07-30 The new global climate of free enterprise has brought with it a proliferation of offshore financial centers that presumably have important roles to play in the emergent global economy The air of secrecy that appears to pervade the activities of offshore financial centers may well slant or obscure any real understanding of the functions of such centers The authors investigate the role of major international accounting firms and their services in the processes of business facilitation in the locations that host these centers By focusing the investigation upon the role of the accounting firms in offshore financial centers the authors gain a better grasp of the real or potential impacts of the firms in the global economy and in the jurisdictions that host them Not only do the authors provide a detailed assessment of what the major accounting firms are actually doing in the centers but they point out what attributes are needed by jurisdictions hoping to succeed as offshore financial centers The centers included are Antigua Barbuda the Bahamas Barbados Bermuda the Cayman Islands the Channel Islands the Isle of Man Gibraltar Malta Cyprus Bahrain the United Arab Emirates Mauritius the Seychelles Singapore and Vanuatu The authors describe the legal and institutional environments facing business operations in general and the accounting firms in particular in offshore financial centers By studying these operations it should show what they are doing in terms of facilitating the international activities that flow through such centers It should also add to the understanding of the potential that offshore activities have as vehicles for development in small emerging economies This study should be of interest to a wide range of business disciplines as well as governmental agencies in advanced and emerging nations international agencies such as regional development banks and accountants and the international financial community

Crisis, Recovery, and the Role of Accounting Firms in the Pacific Basin David L. McKee, Don E. Garner, Yosra AbuAmara McKee, 2002-04-30 The authors bring the disciplines of accounting and economics to bear on an examination of the critical role played by the major accounting firms in the ongoing economic recovery of Pacific Rim nations from the Asian financial crisis of the late 1990s Accounting firms through their service offerings are having an impact not only on economic indicators but also on longer term growth prospects and development patterns in the newly industrialized nations of Southeast Asia Hong Kong Singapore South Korea and Taiwan emerging nations Malaysia Thailand the Philippines and Indonesia and selected Pacific island nations including Papua New Guinea Fiji and Vanuatu For practitioners in the private and public sectors and their academic colleagues Demonstrating the full extent of the influence of global accounting firms on Pacific economies the authors provide an overview of domestic accounting institutions for each grouping of nations in order to lend valuable context to the discussion of the role of international services firms in each individual jurisdiction For those whose work or academic accounting services in Southeast Asia or the role in the region of the World Bank the International Monetary Fund and various regional development banks and United Nations agencies
