North and South in the World Political Economy

Rafael Reuveny, William R. Thompson, 2009-02-26 A broad yet distinctive analysis of the growing political economic and social gap existing between the world's northern and southern hemispheres Featuring papers selected by the ISA President from the 2006 annual meeting this upper level volume examines the genesis of the North South divide the ongoing policy problems between developed and lesser developed states and how these issues influence current and future world politics An upper level text ideal for academic libraries think tanks and libraries of policy institutions Organized into three distinct focus clusters Problems afflicting the global South trade development financial crises structural adjustment democratization human rights disease Specific conflicts between North and South energy terrorism weak states nuclear weapon proliferation Solutions to reduce the North South gap foreign aid programs global media democratization political power in the United Nations the emerging powers phenomenon transnational social movements and Northern foreign policy adjustments Tackles the tough questions likely to dominate international relations discourse for decades to come

Political Globalization

James A. Yunker, 2007-08-05 According to conventional opinion world government would be undesirable because it might develop into global tyranny as well as almost certainly entailing bureaucratic overload This work vigorously contests this conventional opinion on the basis of an innovative plan for a limited world government tentatively designated the Federal Union of Democratic Nations Although the proposed federation would represent a quantum advance beyond the United Nations of today it would at the same time operate under some key restraints such as the reserved right of member nations to withdraw from the Federal Union at their own unilateral discretion Yunker argues that despite these restraints the Union would make a valuable contribution to the future security and prosperity of human civilization He makes a compelling case that political globalization could and should complement the ongoing economic and cultural globalization of the contemporary era Visionary yet pragmatic this book represents the most up to date comprehensive and sophisticated advocacy of world government to be found in world federalist literature Although Political Globalization is most directly aimed at international relations specialists and policy makers it will also be highly illuminating and thought provoking to all those with a serious interest in humanity's long term future

Developing the Global South Paulos Milkias, 2010 For four decades the UN has attempted to foster development in the countries of the global south The book provides a synopsis of these efforts from the Brandt Commission Report to Boutros Boutros Ghali's Agenda for Development Prof Milkias presents opposing arguments in allotting responsibility for the growing gap between the North and the South and details the Millennium Development Goals and assesses their successes and failures so far He provides suggestions for closing the gap for removing the debt burden that is currently crushing the nations of the South and for relieving the poverty ignorance and disease that plague so much of humanity

A Changing Environment for Human Security Linda Sygna, Karen O'Brien, Johanna Wolf, 2013-06-26 Environmental change presents a new context and new opportunities for transformational change This timely book will inspire new ways of understanding the relationship between environmental change and human security A Changing Environment for Human Security Transformative Approaches to Research Policy and Action both supports and informs a call for new transformative approaches to research policy and action The chapters in this book include critical analyses case studies and reflections on contemporary environmental and social challenges with a strong emphasis on those related to climate change Human thoughts and actions have contributed to an environment of insecurity manifested as multiple interacting threats that now represent a serious challenge to humanity Yet humans also have the capacity to collectively transform the economic political social and cultural systems and structures that perpetuate human insecurities These fresh perspectives on global environmental change from an interdisciplinary group of international experts will inspire readers whether students researchers policy makers or practitioners to think differently about environmental issues and sustainability The contributions show that in a changing environment human security is not only a possibility but a choice

Dying and Death in Canada Herbert C. Northcott, Donna M. Wilson (Ph. D.), 2001 Published Under the Garamond Imprint Dying and death reflect the material and social conditions of societies For example dying and death come frequently and early in life in a society where there is widespread poverty In contrast dying and death typically come late in life in a more developed society such as Canada at the beginning of the twenty first century How we live influences how and at what age we die similarly dying is both a personal experience and a social function given shape and meaning by social practices and cultural definitions The bereaved grieve and mourn in both personal and social terms and the meaning assigned to dying and death is both personally and socially constructed This book is written for students who wish to learn about dying and death for practitioners who work with the dying and the bereaved for the dying and the bereaved themselves and for the general public The first part explores the causes of dying and death in Canada both historically and at present The second part examines societal and cultural responses to dying and death and the third part discusses dying and death from the personal points of view of the dying and the bereaved The entire book has been thoroughly revised and updated integrating the most recent theory and literature on death and dying Herb Northcott is Professor of Sociology at the
