Muslims in Global Politics Mahmood Monshipouri, 2011-07-07 In Egypt Islamists clash with secularists over religious and national identity while in Turkey secularist ruling elites have chosen to accommodate Islamists in the name of democracy and reconciliation As Islam spreads throughout the world Muslims living in their traditional homelands and in the Western world are grappling with shifting identities In all cases understanding the dynamics of identity based politics is critical to the future of Muslims and their neighbors across the globe In Muslims in Global Politics Mahmood Monshipouri examines the role identity plays in political conflicts in six Muslim nations Egypt Iraq the United Arab Emirates Turkey Iran and Indonesia as well as in Muslim diaspora communities in Europe and North America In each instance he describes how conservatives neofundamentalists reformists and secularists construct identity in different ways and how these identities play out in the political arena With globalization the demand for human rights continues to grow in the Muslim world and struggles over modernity authenticity legitimacy and rationality become increasingly important Muslims in Global Politics deepens our understanding of how modern ideas and norms interact with the traditions of the Islamic world and in turn shows how human rights advocates can provide an alternative to militant Islamist movements A History of the Muslim World Since 1260 Vernon Egger, 2008 For the second half of a two course sequence in Muslim history Islamic Civilization and religious studies courses on Islam The history of the predominantly Muslim world is examined within the context of world history It examines political economic and broad cultural developments as well as specifically religious ones The themes of the book are tradition and adaptation It examines the tensions between the desire of Muslims to maintain continuity with their legacy and their recognition of the need to adapt to changing conditions American and Muslim Worlds before 1900 John Ghazvinian, Arthur Mitchell Fraas, 2020-02-06 American and Muslim Worlds before 1900 challenges the prevailing assumption that when we talk about American and Muslim worlds we are talking about two conflicting entities that came into contact with each other in the 20th century Instead this book shows there is a long and deep seam of history between the two which provides an important context for contemporary events and is also important in its own right Some of the earliest American Muslims were the African slaves working in the plantations of the Carolinas and Latin America Thomas Jefferson a slaveholder himself was frequently called an infidel and suspected of hidden Muslim sympathies by his opponents Whether it was the sale of American commodities in Central Asia Ottoman consuls in Washington orientalist themes in American fiction the uprisings of enslaved Muslims in Brazil or the travels of American missionaries in the Middle East there was no shortage of opportunities for Muslims and inhabitants of the Americas to meet interact and shape one another from an early period Perspectives on Contemporary Ethnic Conflict Santosh C. Saha, 2006-01-01 The existing traditions of inquiry into ethnic conflict can be classified into four categories essentialism instrumentalism constructivism and institutionalism All four traditions have a distinguished lineage but none can really account for the worldwide spread of ethnic violence We need to move from the local to the macro or global This book using methodology from sociology history and politics will present the complexities of ethnic conflict in terms of linguistics religion territory and tribes in various regions These brilliant essays look at some of the most conflicted sites in the world where ethnic violence has been created and played out Burma Indonesia Rwanda Burundi Nigeria the Sudan Mexico and Guyana Divided into two parts Perspectives on Contemporary Ethnic Conflict is a rich text for scholars of conflict studies focusing on the sources and dynamics of ethnic violence and providing descriptions of ethnic conflict across the globe Global Studies: Russia, the Eurasian Republics and Central/Eastern Europe Minton Goldman, 2007-03-13 Our GLOBAL STUDIES Series provides students with comprehensive background and current information shaping regional cultures and countries of the world today Each volume features country report essays and maps as well as relevant articles from world wide publications Visit our website for more information and a complete listing of titles www.mhcls.com/globalstudies Ethnicity and Sociopolitical Change in Africa and Other Developing Countries Santosh C. Saha, 2008-03-07 This edited collection of essays answers a basic question posed by contemporary discourse on state building How might people s identification with a particular ethnic group matter Essays in this book use an integrated multi disciplinary approach to understanding regional and local community culture and socio political development in developing countries especially in Sub Saharan Africa to argue that the state as well as civil society confers on cultural differences a legitimacy that can be achieved in no other way but by positive cooperation Contributors from different countries look at local patterns in state building and modernization as they have unfolded over the course of the last fifty years They claim that the people and ethnic groups in most developing countries adhere to a concept of popular sovereignty that testifies that aspects of positive and moral ethnicity can contribute to social change as in China economic development as in India or in a democratization process as in Rwanda and Burundi The eventual methodological assumption made by these essays presumes that ethnic conflicts in such countries as Cyprus Turkey India and Rwanda have no moral sanction ethnicity has not assumed a political ideology One conclusion reached by the contributors is that some form of accommodation between opposing ethnically diversified groups as well as between state and ethnic elements is feasible

The Great War in the Middle East Robert Johnson,James Kitchen,2019-01-30 Traditionally in general studies of the First World War the Middle East is an arena of combat that has been portrayed in romanticised terms in stark contrast to the mud blood and presumed futility of the Western Front Battles fought in Egypt Palestine Mesopotamia and Arabia offered a different narrative on the Great War one in which the agency of individual figures was less neutered by heavy artillery As with the historiography of the Western Front which has been the focus of sustained inquiry since the mid 1960s such assumptions about the Middle East have come under revision in the last two decades a reflection of an emerging global turn in the history of the First World War The sideshow theatres of the Great War Africa the Middle East Eastern Europe and the Pacific have come under much greater scrutiny from historians The fifteen chapters in this volume cover a broad range of perspectives on the First World War in the Middle East from strategic planning issues wrestled with by statesmen through to the experience of religious communities trying to survive in war zones The chapter authors look at their specific topics through a global lens relating their areas of research to wider arguments on the history of the First World War

Innovation and Transformation in International Studies Stephen Gill,James H. Mittelman,1997-05-15 This book explores the nature of and conditions for theoretical innovation in international studies History Below the Global Lorenzo Kamel,2024-04-02 History Below the Global aims to foster an entangled knowledge of global history and to place others at the centre stage to better understand the fluid world which we inhabit Relying on primary sources in seven languages and books written by hundreds of African Asian Middle Eastern and South American scholars Lorenzo Kamel examines the colonality of power in historical research and sheds light on the largely neglected roles of the others and their modernities in history The book provides three elements combined Firstly a thorough analysis of the process of accumulation knowledge piece by piece which underpins some of the major achievements in human history Secondly a view on pre colonial perspectives and the process through which the latter have been swallowed up by Eurocentric and solipsistic perceptions Lastly a study of the roots and outcomes of colonialisms and their echoes in our present These three elements are addressed by combining multiple methodologies and approaches in the awareness that the history analysed as well as the historiographical trajectories that underlie it are ultimately inter penetrable as well as themselves the result of a process of accumulation History Below the Global challenges the view that first and foremost the West for bad and for good is and was the centre the proactive actor which did and undid This volume will be of value to all those interested in global history the history of colonialism post colonial studies modern and contemporary history The Prospect of Global History James Belich, John Darwin, Margret Frenz, Chris Wickham, 2016 The Prospect of Global History offers a new approach to the study of history looking at the subject across a greater chronological range and seeking perspectives from sources beyond conventional European narratives Muslim Youth in the Diaspora Pam Nilan, 2017-02-17 In a world where the term Islam is ever increasingly an inaccurate and insensitive synonym for terrorism it is unsurprising that many Muslim youth in the West struggle for a viable sense of identity This book takes up the hotly debated issue of Muslim youth identity in western countries from the standpoint of popular culture It proposes that in the context of Islamophobia and pervasive moral panic young Muslims frame up their identity in relation to external conditions that only see good and bad Muslims on both sides of the ideological fence between Islam and the West Indeed by attempting to break down the good versus bad Muslim dichotomy that largely derives from western media reports as well as political commentary Muslim Youth in the Diaspora Challenging Extremism through Popular Culture will enlighten the reader It illuminates the way in which diasporic Muslim youth engage with and are affected by the radical Islamist meta narrative It examines their popular culture and online activity their gendered sense of self and much more This original book will be of interest to students and scholars interested in the fields of sociology cultural studies and social anthropology It offers a particular focus on Islam for research in youth studies youth culture political radicalisation and religious identity It will also be relevant to the sector of youth and social work where practitioners seek to build cultural bridges with a new generation Knowledge Production, Area Studies and Global Cooperation Claudia Derichs, 2017-04-27 Whereas Area Studies and cross border cooperation research conventionally demarcates groups of people by geographical boundaries individuals might in fact feel more connected by shared values and principles than by conventional spatial dimensions Knowledge Production Area Studies and Global Cooperation asks what norms and principles lead to the creation of knowledge about cross border cooperation and connection It studies why theories methods and concepts originate in one place rather than another how they travel and what position the scholar adopts while doing research particularly in the field Taking case studies from Asia the Middle East and North Africa the book links the production of alternative epistemologies to the notion of global cooperation and reassesses the ways in which the concept of connectedness can be applied at the translocal and individual rather than the formal international and collective level Knowledge Production Area Studies and Global Cooperation provides an innovative and critical approach towards established means of producing knowledge about different areas of the world demonstrating that an understanding of pluri local connectivity should be integrated into the production of knowledge about different areas of the world and the behavioural dimension of global cooperation By shifting the view from the collective to the individual and from the formal to often invisible patterns of connectedness this book provides an important fresh perspective which will be of interest to scholars and students of Area Studies Politics International Relations and Development Studies The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY ND 4.0 license

Towards the Dignity of Difference? Mojtaba Mahdavi, 2016-02-24 The rise of popular social movements throughout the Middle East North Africa Europe and North America in 2011 challenged two hegemonic discourses of the post Cold War era Francis Fukuyama's The End of History and Samuel Huntington's The Clash of Civilizations The quest for genuine democracy and social justice and the backlash against the neoliberal order is a common theme in the global mass protests in the West and the East This is no less than a discursive paradigm shift a new beginning to the history a move towards new alternatives to the status quo This book is about difference and dialogue it embraces The Dignity of Difference and promotes dialogue However it also demonstrates the limits of dialogue as a useful and universal approach for resolving conflicts particularly in cases involving asymmetric and unequal power relations The distinguished group of authors suggests in this volume that there is a third way of addressing global tensions one that rejects the extremes of both universalism and particularism This third way is a radical call for an epistemic shift in our understanding of us other and good evil a radical approach toward accommodating difference as well as embracing the plural concept of the good The authors strengthen their alternative approach with a practical policy guide by challenging existing policies that either exclude or assimilate other cultures that wage the constructed global war on terror and that impose a western neo liberal discourse on non western societies This important book will be essential reading for all those studying civilizations globalization foreign policy peace and security studies multiculturalism and ethnicity regionalism global governance and international political economy
