Globalisation Threat Or Opportunity:

Globalisation Paul Streeten, 2001 Covering the main aspects of globalisation namely trade global financial flows technology and transnational corporations and international convergence of real wages this book is concerned with the beneficial and harmful aspects of globalisation The Challenges of Globalization Robert E.; Winters Baldwin, Presents Challenges of Globalization the remarks by Joan E Spero the Under Secretary of State for Economic Business and Agricultural Affairs at the World Economic Development Congress in Washington DC on September 26 1996 Discusses the challenges of the increasing integration of the world economy Globalisation, Migration And Health: Challenges And Opportunities Andre M N Renzaho, 2016-01-20 As globalisation gains momentum international migration continues to divide opinion and polarise policy makers politicians and advocates This polarisation has been reflected in research and publications with pro globalisation being pitched against anti globalisation on the one hand and an explosion of research on migration on the other This book examines the interaction between the two and their impact on health for the first time highlighting the myths and realities from an international multi disciplinary perspective The book starts with an examination of the complex and multifaceted aspects of the globalisation phenomenon and its impact on population displacement and health and concludes with a regional level analysis supported by country specific examples By highlighting common issues and differences across the globe this book shows policy makers political leaders and international committees on migration the specificities of global migration and good practice across the world Particular attention is paid to practical policy responses and governance as well as legal frameworks to manage the dynamics of migration engage international institutions and to maximise the benefits that internal and international migration bring Globalisation Paul Streeten, 1997

Globalization and Defence in the Asia-Pacific Geoffrey Till, Emrys Chew, Joshua Ho, 2009 This edited volume examines the impact of globalisation on the economies security policies and military industrial complexes of the Asia Pacific region The work is structured into three main parts The first explores globalization and its general effects on the policy making of the nation state the second section looks at how globalisation affects a country's threat perception and defence posture within the specific context of the Asia Pacific region while the third explores how it impacts on a state's allocation of resources to defence and how economic globalization affects the defence industry with specific reference to the procurement policies and practices of different states across the Asia Pacific Globalisation in Transition Umair Ghorri, Mary Hiscock, Louise Parsons, Casey Watters, 2023-07-01 This book brings together diverse ideas on selected facets of globalisation and transitions in globalisation The scholars that have contributed to this book examine the phenomenon of globalisation through varied lenses focusing specifically on the human and economic perspectives These analyses originate in many areas and different legal systems but are all connected through the work of Professor John Farrar and the associations of the contributors with him This book does not attempt to provide answers to the many challenges of globalisation Instead this book discusses selected particular aspects of globalisation that derive from and are connected to the authors own research The thematic diversity of this book is a true strength and should draw a broad range of readers Whilst this book is primarily written from a legal angle its content overlaps with broader specialised policy areas with contributions ranging from taxation to ageing from insolvency to social licences and from refugees to the treatment of first nations people In short there is something for everyone in this book As a tribute to the life s work of an outstanding legal scholar Professor John Farrar this book explores legal responses to the social and economic impacts of globalisation After personal acknowledgments from colleagues highlighting the significance of his scholarship this book is divided into two parts The first part addresses the social impact of globalisation focusing on immigration and the impact on First Nations people Changes in the regulation of medicine and technologies related to ageing are also addressed in this part In part two the book addresses the transitioning corporate law landscape and notions of fairness and good faith in the law The final part contains the conclusions reflections and synthesis of the editors

Green Alternatives to Globalisation Michael Woodin, Caroline Lucas, 2004-04-20 What are the Green alternatives to economic globalisation Written by leader of the Green Party Caroline Lucas this manifesto argues that globalisation increases poverty undermines democracy and destroys the environment the authors demonstrate the urgent need for a new approach economic localisation that is based on the Green principles of equity ecology and democracy Applying their thesis to current international crises including climate change trade and development agriculture and international security we see how economic localisation could be adopted and applied to positive ends Fifty Key Thinkers on Development David Simon, 2006 The essential guide to the world s most influential development thinkers this authoritative text presents a unique guide to the lives and ideas of leading contributors to the contested terrain of development studies Reflecting the diverse interdisciplinary nature of the area the book includes entries on modernisers like Hirshman Kindleberger and Rostow dependencistas such as Frank Cardoso and Amin progressives like Prebisch Helleiner and Streeten political leaders enunciating radical alternative visions of development such as Mao Nkrumah and Nyerere progenitors of religiously or spiritually inspired development such as Gandhi and Ariyaratne development environment thinkers like Blaikie Brookfield and Shiva This is a fascinating and readable introduction to the major figures that have shaped the field ideal for anyone studying or working in the area Globalisation of Water: Opportunities and Threats of Virtual Water Trade A.K.

Chapagain, 2006-11-02 With increasing trade between nations and continents water is more and more often used to produce goods that are exported Can international trade be a tool to enhance global water use efficiency or is it a means of shifting the environment burden to a distant location The water footprint of nations is a consumer based indicator of water use which reveals the impacts of local consumption on global water resources and the dependency of any country on external water resources The False Dilemma Oscar Ugarteche, 2000-10-16 This work argues that the economic framework of new liberalism and globalisation is forcing a false dilemma on the nations of the south The idea that they must integrate their economies into the global economy by means of export led growth or risk economic marginalisation and stagnation runs counter to the actual evidence of economic history Nor is it inevitable that state and market be in diametric opposition With clarity wit and abundant empirical evidence the author explores the internal inconsistencies of neo liberal economic theory The fundamental question is not whether to export but why And the ultimate goal of any country s economic policy must be the development of the internal market and the pursuit of social well being He lays out the case for a strong innovative and interventionist state that mediates private interest with the larger national interest The south must reject the false logic of globalisation that there is no choice and recognise instead that the real folly is to integrate with the global market without developing the internal market

Jan-Erik Lane, 2014-07-25 Efforts at coordination between nations are at the heart of the challenges of globalization Despite steadily growing interdependencies individual nations still have specific interests that present obstacles to globalization While some challenges inspired by the need to coordinate are viewed as inevitable by many they are less optimistic about prospects for success Jan Erik Lane argues that one should focus objectively upon the possibility of failures Lane analyzes four kinds of challenges to interdependency all of which are growing in geopolitical relevance First countries need to diminish their dependency on fossil fuel and shift to a reliable supply of energy because fossil fuels are diminishing Second environmental degradation must be addressed because it is accelerating under the strain of earth's population Lane advocates an ecological footprint approach Third a single global market economy and its complexities must be addressed as national economies are increasingly opened Finally as traditional state sovereignty weakens foreign military intervention in both international and intra state conflicts increases Governments are attempting to address these interdependencies or reply to the challenges they pose mainly through international organizations and regionalism These efforts are discussed at length In addition problems with international law are reviewed as Lane warns against the utopian hopes of global constitutionalism Globalization also examines the potential consequences of failing to address the need for coordination in efforts to address shared global challenges Solidarity Hauke Brunkhorst, 2005 A political sociologist examines the concept of universal egalitarian citizenship and assesses the prospects for developing democratic solidarity at the global level
