Globalization And Urban Development:

Globalization and Urban Development Harry W. Richardson, Chang-Hee C. Bae, 2006-03-30 Most research on globalization has focused on macroeconomic and economy wide consequences This book explores an under researched area the impacts of globalization on cities and national urban hierarchies especially but not solely in developing countries Most of the globalization urban research has concentrated on the global cities e g New York London Paris Tokyo that influence what happens in the rest of the world In contrast this research looks at the cities at the receiving end of the forces of globalization The general finding is that large cities on balance benefit from globalization although in some cases at the expense of widening spatial inequities

Cities in Transition Rita Schneider-Sliwa, 2006-01-23 This book was written with the aim of showing that even in the era of globalization developments appearing in cities are not subject to almost unconditional global forces Rather universal forces are decisive eventualities in the process of urban restructuring often influencing its course and speed yet developments and particularities within a city strongly influence the course of events and the extent to which negative characteristics of globalization might occur Berlin Brussels Hanoi Ho Chi Minh City Hong Kong Jerusalem Johannesburg Moscow St Petersburg Sarajevo and Vienna Using these important cities the special relationship between global and local regional forces is analyzed The case studies were selected based on their political and cultural context and the fact that their social and political fabric was subject to major changes in the recent past How global processes manifest themselves locally depends to a great extent on how development processes and endogenic potentials are initiated locally in order to cope with the new global economic and societal conditions

Globalization and Urban Development Harry W. Richardson, Chang-Hee C. Bae, 2009-09-02 Most research on globalization has focused on macroeconomic and economy wide consequences This book explores an under researched area the impacts of globalization on cities and national urban hierarchies especially but not solely in developing countries Most of the globalization urban research has concentrated on the global cities e g New York London Paris Tokyo that influence what happens in the rest of the world In contrast this research looks at the cities at the receiving end of the forces of globalization The general finding is that large cities on balance benefit from globalization although in some cases at the expense of widening spatial inequities

Sustainable Urban Development and Globalization Agostino Petrillo, Paola Bellaviti, 2017-11-24 This book equips readers with a deeper understanding of the challenges posed by radical socioeconomic environmental and cultural changes due to globalization and describes effective sustainable solutions to these challenges The focus is especially on the rapid urbanization processes in countries of the Global South which are giving rise to dramatic new problems of spatial and social inequality and difficult environmental challenges in relation to climate change Readers will gain skills and knowledge that will help them to develop an integrated multidisciplinary approach to planning design and management of urban settlements and territories in contexts with a high level of social economic territorial and landscape vulnerability The coverage includes for example strategies to promote social inclusion improve housing quality ensure adequate education protect cultural heritage enhance risk management and address issues in the food energy water nexus Among the authors are leading experts from the Polytechnic University of Milan where a multidisciplinary set of studies and research projects in the field have been undertaken in recent years

Cities in the International Marketplace H. V. Savitch, Paul Kantor, 2004-08-08 Cities in the International Marketplace looks at the political responses of ten cities in North America and Western Europe as they grappled with the forces of global restructuring during the past 30 years

Globalization and Urban Implosion Remo Dalla Longa, 2009-12-03 In the past twenty years globalization has rendered many economic and social urban functions obsolete Large cities face a form of implosion which necessitates a rethinking of both contents and containers This book will mainly concentrate on the latter aspect Thus the need to replace old functions with new ones is clear especially within complex urban areas where the connections between public and private assets are strongest In this context new forms of urban models Public Private Partnerships tools and drivers various decision makers who have to operate within complex urban areas have to be considered Hence the creation or destruction of values depends on how new functions replace old ones This also explains new and important forms of competitive advantage among large globalized cities This book presents a model of complex urban interventions Based on a literature review the model integrates different forms of Public Private Partnerships PPPs new tools and instruments associated with governance issues challenges and new profiles of public drivers By analyzing a number of European urban centers this book illustrates the implementation of the general model in specific case studies and furthermore shows the essential differences between post socialist and Western cities

Globalization, Urban Progress, Urban Problems, Rural Disadvantages Stefanie Knauder, 2018-05-08 This title was first published in 2000 This text demonstrates the mutual effects of and interconnections between globalization urbanization and rural stagnation both theoretically and empirically It places its comprehensive empirical investigation on two levels of urbanization the peri urban and the fully urbanized areas and includes the analysis of the rural conditions into the context of the Southern African region and also into the context of global processes in an historical and interdisciplinary perspective The text analyzes the magnitude of the two gaps and the process of social change between the three areas objectively by showing the changing social interaction patterns the differences in housing and other socio economic variables and subjectively through showing the judgement of the people of these variables the degree of satisfaction and depression As the majority of variables reveal poverty the root causes for it in Mozambique Africa and the Third World are analyzed and aspects of an alternative development and an alternative globalization are presented

Planning World Cities Peter Newman, Andy Thornley, 2011-06-21 This major comparative text on urban planning and the global and regional context in which it takes place examines what have been traditionally regarded as world cities New York London Tokyo and also a range of other important cities in America Europe and Asia The authors show the role planning has played in the way cities have responded to the forces of globalization and argue for the importance of diverse rather than one size fits all planning practices This fully revised second edition systematically brings the debates on the impact of globalization right up to date and provides integrated coverage of the latest planning theory and practice It also contains extended analysis of the implications of the rapid growth of Chinese cities such as Shanghai Hong Kong and Beijing New material is included on the impact of globalization on poorer mega cities like Mumbai and Johannesburg

Strategies for Urban Development in Leipzig, Germany Jean-Claude Garcia-Zamor, 2013-10-18 The demographic pressure caused by migration offers a considerable challenge for urban centers today It results in an uneven development of the community and focus of urban planners becomes how to provide decent low cost housing and transportation in order to facilitate the integration of poorer residents among the rest of the community In large industrialized countries the challenges of urban policy makers are made even more complicated since these governments depend on state or federal legislators to obtain the massive amounts of funding required for adequately addressing these local issues that are in global cause The book analyzes the strategies for urban development in Leipzig Germany and shows how civic leaders were able to harmonize planning and equity They relied heavily on two interesting approaches in that process the promotion of culture as a key component of urban development and the reconciliation of the inevitable process of gentrification with social equity The book also looks at the globalization aspect of urban development reviews research in social equity in urban development in Europe and the United States and describes sustainability as an important element of urban renaissance

Transformation of Cities in Central and Eastern Europe

F. E. Ian Hamilton, Kaliopa Dimitrovska Andrews, Nataša Pichler-Milanović, 2005 Annotation This volume is one in a series initiated by the United Nations University Institute of Advanced Studies on the inter relationship between globalisation and urban transformation It identifies and describes the inter and intra urban transformations of Central and Eastern European cities and considers their pre 1945 historic legacies the socialist period and their contemporary transition towards market oriented and democratic systems The dramatic changes since 1989 including the collapse of Communist ideology the break up of the Soviet Union Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia the end of the Cold War and the impact of globalisation and European integration have reconfigured this region and affected their re integration into European and global networks This book first examines the similarities and differences between significant Central and Eastern European cities comparing the differing patterns of historical context and socialist legacies before 1990 and the impacts of internal and external forces on re shaping these cities and their paths of transformation since 1990 It also examines the role of contemporary planning within the overall development of Central and Eastern European cities The conclusion demonstrates the similarities and differences between Central and Eastern European cities and their re integration into global networks

Cities and Economies

Yeong-Hyun Kim, John Rennie Short, 2007-12-12 Cities and Economies explores the complex and subtle connections between cities and economies The rise of the merchant city the development of the industrial city and the creation of the service dominated urban economy are all explored along with economic globalization and its effects on cities in both developed and developing economies This book provides a thorough examination of the role of the city in shaping economic processes and explains the different effects that economies have on cities It provides an invaluable and unrivaled guide to the relationship between urban structure and economic processes as they compare and contrast across the world The authors examine the complex relationships between the city and the economy in historical and global contexts as well as evaluating the role of world cities the economic impacts of megacities and the role of the state in shaping urban economic policies They focus on the ways in which cities have led and at the same time adapted to economic shifts Large cities are viewed as the centres of regional and national economies while a small number are defined by their centrality in the global economy The book examines key ideas and concepts on the economic aspects of urban change explores the changing nature of urban economies and their relationships with changes at the national and global levels compares current economic issues and policies of large cities around the world explores the links between globalization and economic changes in cities and the growing competitions between them Cities and Economies uses case studies photographs and maps expanding across the US Western Europe and Asia Written in a clear and accessible style the book answers some fundamental questions about the economic role of cities It is an essential text for students of geography economics sociology urban studies and urban planning

Globalization and Urban Implosion Remo Dalla Longa, 2010-11-20 Cities in a Globalizing World United Nations Centre for Human Settlements, 2001 The world has entered the urban millennium Nearly half the world's people are now city dwellers and the rapid increase in urban population is expected to continue mainly in developing countries This historic transition is being further propelled by the powerful forces of globalization The central challenge for the international community is clear to make both urbanization and globalization work for all people instead of leaving billions behind or on the margins Cities in a Globalizing World Global Report on Human Settlements 2001 is a comprehensive review of conditions in the world's Globalization and Urban Change Kris Olds, 2023 Providing a grounded analysis of globalization and urban change in the late 20th century this volume examines the role of two elite transnational cultures in the planning and development of Pacific Rim mega projects Strategic Planning & Urban Projects Marisa Carmona, R. Burgess, 2001 Examines the use of strategic planning and projects in 15 cities in developing and developed countries drawing on the experiences of a global network of researchers the IBIS network investigating the relationship between globalization and urbanization processes It uses a common methodology to draw out similarities and differences of these policies and projects and the nature of the globalization processes they are responding to Fluidity of Place Naoki Yoshihara, 2010 Fluidity of Place presents an interdisciplinary conversation with theories of space time place and globalization at the cutting edge of social theory Focusing on the construction of urban space in the context of hyper mobility it examines the social relations that form place in a globalized world The first half of the book discusses globalization theory and looks at place in relation to the fluidity brought about by recent technological advances The second half details the construction of understandings of Asian mega cities particularly Jakarta and examines the realities behind narratives of over urbanization in light of globalization and the concomitant fluidity of place The book makes a compelling argument about the competing claims to place in a world where the nation state has lost control of its borders

Mega-Events and Globalization Richard Gruneau, John Horne, 2015-10-05 Since the turn of the twenty first century there has been a trend for urban mega events to be awarded to cities and nations in the East and Global South Such events have been viewed as economic stimulant as well as opportunities to promote national identity gain greater international recognition and exercise a form of soft power However there has also been on going controversy about the value impact and legacy of global mega events in these cities and nations This book provides a critical examination of the ambition for spectacle that has emerged across the East and Global South The chapters explore the theoretical and conceptual issues associated with mega events and new forms of globalization from the critical political economy of mega events in a changing world order to the contested social and economic legacies of mega events and the widespread opposition that increasingly accompanies these events The book also explores questions of urban development and governance the role of new communications technologies in global economic expansion the high security State and the growing global influence of international non governmental organizations This book offers a rich collection of original theoretical contributions and global case studies from leading international scholars from the social sciences and humanities It offers a fresh and unique interdisciplinary perspective that synthesizes cutting edge research on mega events and urban spectacles while simultaneously contributing to a broader understanding of the dynamics of global capitalism and international political power in the early twenty first century

Current Issues in Globalization Robert E. Westerfield, J. Abbink, 2004 People around the globe are more connected to each other than ever before Information and money flow more quickly than ever Goods and services produced in one part of the world are increasingly available to the rest of the world International travel is more frequent International communication is commonplace This phenomenon has been titled globalisation The Era of Globalisation is fast becoming the preferred term for describing the current times Just as the Depression the Cold War Era the Space Age and the Roaring 20 s are used to describe particular periods of history globalisation describes the political economic and cultural atmosphere of today While some people think of globalisation as primarily a synonym for global business it is much more than that not exist also allow social activists labour organisers journalists academics and many others to work on a global stage This book brings together a wide range of expertise addressing these issues from the perspective of authors from around the world Contents Preface From Westernisation to the Whirl of Globality Conceptualising Globalisation and its Effects on Local Societies Globalisation and Competitiveness A Comparative Analysis of Selected Developing Countries vs Industrial Countries Globalisation Marginalisation and Growth in Emerging Market Economies Globalisation of Real Estate Markets and Urban Development in

Central Europe The Challenges of Globalisation The Role of the World Bank The Meaning and Limitation of Public Life under Global Capitalism Violence and State Re Formation in the African Context Global and Local Aspects of Crisis and Change State Ideology Global Economy and Coping Strategies Index Reaching Beyond the Gold Tim van Vrijaldenhoven, 2007 The five cities under the spotlight here Genoa Barcelona Athens Bilbao and Shanghai were chosen because they have all recently hosted a global event or will do so in the near future After an introduction of the characteristics and impact of global events in general the history of each city is sketched and the political and urban implications of the events are examined Three key aspects organization management and city marketing are dwelt on at length The conclusions that this study draws can help put an end to the structural errors made in the organization of large scale events Globalization and the Return of the Big Plans Marisa Carmona, Devisari Tunas, Marinda Schoonraad, 2003
