Globalizing Chinese Migration Trends In Europe And Asia:

Globalizing Chinese Migration Pál Nyíri, Igor Saveliev, 2018-12-20 This title was first published in 2003 Globalizing Chinese Migration is the first volume to deal comprehensively with the most recent wave of the migration from the People's Republic of China to Europe and Asia By analyzing the Chinese state's role in this migration the authors dismiss as fiction the theory sometimes advanced by hostile and racist foreign observers that Chinese authorities are intent on using mass emigration as an expansionist tool They go on to explain that migrants who might in earlier times have been reviled as traitors and absconders are today more likely to be viewed by sections of the Chinese state bureaucracy as patriots who remain part of China's polity and economy and contribute to its standing overseas Some senior officials however particularly diplomats stress the harm done by new migrants both to China's economy which loses assets as a result of the migrants entrepreneurial activities and to its reputation in the world An essential resource for academics and students alike the volume presents important new data on aspects of Chinese migration largely neglected in the existing English language literature These include new forms of emigration from China by students and by workers from the country's north eastern provinces and emigration to destinations including Russia Southeast Asia and Japan normally unremarked by students of population movements

Globalizing Chinese Migration Pál Nyíri, Igor Saveliev, 2005 Migration in China and Asia Jijiao Zhang, Howard Duncan, 2014-04-08 This book will enlarge our grasp of global migration phenomena offering insights into the fascinating at times startling realities of human migration in Asia The chapters presented in this volume offer variety in not only theme but in approach to migration in Southeast and East Asia Particularly welcome for a volume on migration studies a discipline that has long been dominated by economists sociologists and geographers are the chapters that approach the subject from an anthropological or ethnological perspective These chapters bring to our attention details of the lives of migrants and their communities that are often lost in studies of migration statistics the economic aspects of migration or aspects of urban geography with which we have become more familiar Some chapters are more theoretical in nature and herein lie some of the most important reasons for studying migration involving Asian countries migration studies have until relatively recently developed their theoretical insights on the basis of European migration to North America Asian migration offers new theoretical challenges to migration scholars its dynamism is such that predictions of what is to come are not for the risk averse The empirical studies here provide fascinating details of the strategies used by asylum seekers of marriage migration of the role of homeland languages in education of the workings of ethnic entrepreneurs of the media's role in sustaining Chinese communities and on the incentive structures that are helping to shape return flows to China For readers who are from Asian countries this book will illuminate the changes that are taking place in your region as a result of migration For readers from developed and other societies it will provide new insights into migration involving this understudied part of the world an area that supplies the lion's share of immigrants to developed economies and the area whose rapid economic development will soon make it their greatest competition for migrants especially the highly skilled

Chinese Migrants in Russia, Central Asia and Eastern Europe Felix B. Chang, Sunnie T. Rucker-Chang, 2013-03 This book provides a comprehensive overview of Chinese migration to the countries of the former Soviet bloc Russia Eastern Europe and countries of Central Asia exploring how the migration has come about discussing the motivation of the migrants and examining the significant contribution the migrants are making

Impact of China's Rise on the Mekong Region Yos Santasombat, 2015-06-16 This volume presents a contemporary analysis of the impact of China's rise on the Mekong Region at a critical point in Southeast Asian history As the most populated country and the second largest economy in the world China has become an increasingly influential player in global and regional affairs in recent decades Economic ties between China and her southern neighbors are particularly strong Yet relations between China and the Mekong region are embedded in complex socio cultural and political issues China's accelerated growth increasing economic footprint rapid military modernization and global search for energy natural resources and food security have created a wide range of new challenges for smaller countries in Southeast Asia These new challenges both encourage and limit cooperation between China and the emerging ASEAN Economic Community AEC The authors pay close attention to these challenges with particular focus on the impact of Chinese investment trade foreign aid and migration

Beyond Chinatown Mette Thunø, 2007 Annotation The rough camps and shantytowns built by nineteenth and early twentieth century Chinese immigrants to the West eventually became settled Chinatowns across the globe Because it opens a new approach to the study of recent Chinese migration this volume will be of vital interest in the fields of both general and Chinese migration studies But bringing to life as it does the momentous changes now sweeping the Chinese world in all parts of the globe it will also attract a far wider readership

Diasporas and Homeland Conflicts Bahar Baser, 2016-03-09 As violent conflicts become increasingly intra state rather than inter state international migration has rendered them increasingly transnational as protagonists from each side find themselves in new countries of residence In spite of leaving their homeland the grievances and grudges that existed between them are not forgotten and can be passed to the next generation This book explores the extension of homeland conflicts into transnational space amongst diaspora groups with particular attention to the interactions between second generation migrants Comparative in approach Diasporas and Homeland Conflicts focuses on the tensions that exist between Kurdish and Turkish populations in Sweden and Germany examining the effects of hostland policies and politics on the construction shaping or elimination of homeland conflicts Drawing on extensive interview material with members of diasporic communities this book sheds fresh light on the influences exercised on conflict dynamics by state policies on migrant incorporation and multiculturalism as well as structures of migrant organizations As such it will be of interest to scholars of sociology political science and international studies with interests in migration and diaspora integration and transnational conflict

Diaspora's Homeland Shelly Chan, 2018-03-15 In Diaspora's Homeland Shelly

Chan provides a broad historical study of how the mass migration of more than twenty million Chinese overseas influenced China's politics, economics and culture. Chan develops the concept of diaspora moments, a series of recurring disjunctions in which migrant temporalities come into tension with local, national and global ones to map the multiple historical geographies in which the Chinese homeland and diaspora emerge. Chan describes several distinct moments including the lifting of the Qing emigration ban in 1893, intellectual debates in the 1920s and 1930s about whether Chinese emigration constituted colonization and whether Confucianism should be the basis for a modern Chinese identity as well as the intersection of gender, returns and Communist campaigns in the 1950s and 1960s. Adopting a transnational frame, Chan narrates Chinese history through a reconceptualization of diaspora to show how mass migration helped establish China as a nation-state within a global system.

Chinese New Migrants in Suriname Paul B. Tjon Sie Fat, 2009 This book covers various aspects of New Chinese Migration in Suriname in the 1990s and early 2000s. It is an ethnography of New Chinese Migrants in the context of South-South migration but also a first ethnography of Chinese in Suriname as well as an analysis of Surinamese ethnic discourse and ethno-politics. Starting in the 1990s, renewed immigration from China changed the dynamics of the Surinamese Chinese community which developed from a Hakka enclave to a culturally and linguistically diverse modern Chinese migrant group. Local positioning strategies of Chinese had always depended on ethnic entrepreneurship and political participation but were now complicated by anti-immigrant sentiments.

Asian Migrations Tony Fielding, 2015-07-16 This textbook describes and explains the complex reality of contemporary internal and international migrations in East Asia. Taking an interdisciplinary approach, Tony Fielding combines theoretical debate and detailed empirical analysis to provide students with an understanding of the causes and consequences of the many types of contemporary migration flows in the region. Key features of Asian Migrations: Comprehensive coverage of all forms of migration including labour migration, student migration, marriage migration, displacement and human trafficking. Text boxes containing key concepts and theories. More than 30 maps and diagrams. Equal attention devoted to broad structures (e.g. political economy and individual agency) and migration behaviours. Emphasis on the conceptual and empirical connections between internal and international migrations. Exploration of the policy implications of the trends and processes discussed. Written by an experienced scholar and teacher of migration studies, this is an essential text for courses on East Asian migrations and mobility and important reading for courses on international migration and Asian societies more generally.

Ethnic Diversity and Social Cohesion Merlin Schaeffer, 2016-05-23 Exploring the debate within social sciences on the consequences of ethnic diversity for social cohesion and the production of public goods, this book draws on extensive survey data from Germany to engage with questions surrounding the relationship between ethnic diversity and issues such as welfare provision and the erosion of public trust and civic engagement in Europe. It moves away from the question of whether there is in fact a universal correlation between ethnic diversity and social cohesion in order to focus on the reasons for which people's reciprocity and trust might be reduced in more ethnically diverse areas Drawing attention to the importance of peoples perceptions of diversity in explaining levels of social cohesion Ethnic Diversity and Social Cohesion shows how specific types of perceived diversity can help explain the reasons for which ethnic diversity is associated with declines in social cohesion and the contexts and conditions in which this occurs The book also outlines potential courses of action revealing the important roles of residential segregation children and interethnic partners in overcoming barriers of language values and cognitive bias A rigorous timely study of ethnic diversity and its relation to liberal democracy as a form of deliberative conflict that requires certain levels of trust shared values and engagement Ethnic Diversity and Social Cohesion will be of interest to policy makers sociologists and political scientists working in the fields of race and migration ethnic diversity and community cohesion     The Nationalist Dilemma Marvin Suesse,2023-05-11 Analyses economic nationalism as a set of ideas and policies that have shaped the modern world economy over the past 250 years     Lives in Chinese Music Helen Rees,2010-10-01 Until recently most scholarly work on Chinese music in both Chinese and Western languages has focused on genres musical structure and general history and concepts rather than on the musicians themselves This volume breaks new ground by focusing on individual musicians active in different amateur and professional music scenes in mainland China Hong Kong and Chinese communities in Europe Using biography to deepen understanding of Chinese music contributors present richly contextualized portraits of rural folk singers urban opera singers literati and musicians on both geographic and cultural frontiers The topics investigated by these authors provide fresh insights into issues such as the urban rural divide the position of ethnic minorities within the People s Republic of China the adaptation of performing arts to modernizing trends of the twentieth century and the use of the arts for propaganda and commercial purposes The social and political history of China serves as a backdrop to these discussions of music and culture as the lives chronicled here illuminate experiences from the pre Communist period through the Cultural Revolution to the present Showcasing multiple facets of Chinese musical life this collection is especially effective in taking advantage of the liberalization of mainland China that has permitted researchers to work closely with artists and to discuss the interactions of life and local and national histories in musicians experiences Contributors are Nimrod Baranovitch Rachel Harris Frank Kouwenhoven Tong Soon Lee Peter Micic Helen Rees Antoinet Schimmelpenninck Shao Binsun Jonathan P J Stock and Bell Yung     Diasporas, Weddings and the Trajectories of Ethnicity Terence Heng,2020-12-29 In an age of increasingly fragmented migration consumption and globalisation how do diasporic individuals navigate their ethnic identities Diasporas Weddings and the Trajectories of Ethnicity investigates the ways that Chinese Singaporeans shape their Chineseness through wedding rituals and artefacts Proposing a framework of ethnic identity as a journey this book will Interrogate the processes underlying diasporic ethnicity making through weddings Offer new concepts of transdiasporic space ethnic tastes and aesthetic dissonance Explore the intersections between commercialism ethnicity and socio economic divides Map the micro social ramifications of ethnic and racial policy in

Singapore As a former professional wedding photographer Terence Heng brings a sociological lens to the scripted and spontaneous arena of social interactions that is the wedding day By combining ethnographic observation photography and poetry Heng reveals the many decisions and demands that underscore Singaporean Chinese weddings offering novel insights into the roles of the bridal couple their social networks and the wedding industry

Security, Insecurity and Migration in Europe Gabriella Lazaridis,2016-04-01 Having often been framed in terms of security concerns migration issues have simultaneously given rise to issues of insecurity on the one hand security of borders political societal and economic security insecurity in the host country on the other social legal and economic concerns about human security with regard to both EU citizens and migrants entering Europe In terms of state security migration is a core target of increasingly globally networked surveillance capabilities whilst with respect to human security it exposes the gap between the protections that migrants formally enjoy under international law and the realities they experience as they travel and work across different countries Drawing on the latest research from across the EU Security Insecurity and Migration explores the concerns of states with regard to migration and the need to protect the fundamental rights of migrants An interdisciplinary examination of the issues of security and insecurity raised by migration for states their citizens and migrants themselves this book will be of interest to scholars of politics sociology and geography researching migration race and ethnicity human and state security and EU politics and policy

Media and Communication in the Chinese Diaspora Wanning Sun,John Sinclair,2015-09-16 The rise of China has brought about a dramatic increase in the rate of migration from mainland China At the same time the Chinese government has embarked on a full scale push for the internationalisation of Chinese media and culture Media and communication have therefore become crucial factors in shaping the increasingly fraught politics of transnational Chinese communities This book explores the changing nature of these communities and reveals their dynamic and complex relationship to the media in a range of countries worldwide Overall the book highlights a number of ways in which China s going global policy interacts with other factors in significantly reshaping the content and contours of the diasporic Chinese media landscape In doing so this book constitutes a major rethinking of Chinese transnationalism in the twenty first century

Chinese Among Others Philip A. Kuhn,2008

Chinese Activism of a Different Kind Gao Jia,2013-09-19 In Chinese Activism of a Different Kind Jia Gao examines the social behavior and patterns of actions of 45 000 or so Chinese students as they fought to obtain the right to stay permanently in Australia after the June 4 Tiananmen Square incident of 1989 In a time of relative Internet infancy their response to the shifting stances of the Australian government saw them build networks make use of media and develop a range of strategies In achieving success this diverse group of students became the largest intake of onshore asylum seekers in the history of Australian immigration Through their testimonies Jia Gao provides a fascinating addition to our knowledge of Chinese activism and to the history of Chinese migration

Migrants and Cities Margit Fauser,2016-04-22 Migrants have organized at all times and in all cities and places The processes of their accommodation however differ with local authorities and other state institutions playing an important role in these processes Offering comprehensive empirical insights both from recent sites of immigration in Southern Europe as well as from places of more established immigration in the north this book examines the accommodation of migrant organizations in different cities and the factors that affect this process It thus sheds light on the manner in which the interplay of immigration regime national integration policy and local responses shape the differing patterns and trajectories observed in the formation and action of migrant organizations across Europe

Borderland Infrastructures Alessandro Rippa, 2025-10-01 Across the Chinese borderlands investments in large scale transnational infrastructure such as roads and special economic zones have increased exponentially over the past two decades Based on long term ethnographic research Borderland Infrastructures addresses a major contradiction at the heart of this fast paced development small scale traders have lost their historic strategic advantages under the growth of massive Chinese state investment and are now struggling to keep their businesses afloat Concurrently local ethnic minorities have become the target of radical resettlement projects securitization and tourism initiatives and have in many cases grown increasingly dependent on state subsidies At the juncture of anthropological explorations of the state border studies and research on transnational trade and infrastructure development Borderland Infrastructures provides new analytical tools to understand how state power is experienced mediated and enacted in Xinjiang and Yunnan In the process Rippa offers a rich and nuanced ethnography of life across China's peripheries
