Byzantine and Romanesque Architecture , Romanesque Art Victoria Charles, Klaus Carl, 2023-12-28 In art history the term Romanesque art distinguishes the period between the beginning of the 11th and the end of the 12th century This era showed a great diversity of regional schools each with their own unique style In architecture as well as in sculpture Romanesque art is marked by raw forms Through its rich iconography and captivating text this work reclaims the importance of this art which is today often overshadowed by the later Gothic style Byzantine and Romanesque Architecture Sir Thomas Graham Jackson, 1913 The Language of Images in Roman Art Tonio Hölscher, 2004-11-18 This book first published in 2004 develops a theory for the understanding of Roman pictorial art By treating Roman art as a semantic system it establishes a connection between artistic forms and the ideological messages contained within The history of Roman art traditionally followed the model of a sequence of stylistic phases affecting the works of their era in the manner of a uniform Zeitgeist By contrast the author shows different stylistic forms being used for different themes and messages The reception of Greek models a key phenomenon of Roman art thus appear in a new light The formulations of specific messages are established from Greek art types of different eras serving to express Roman

Lauritsen, 2021-12-31 The focus of this volume is on the aesthetics semantics and function of materials in Roman antiquity between the 2nd century B C and the 2nd century A D It includes contributions on both architectural spaces and their material design and objects types of artefacts that differ greatly in the way they were used perceived and loaded with cultural significance With respect to architecture the analysis of material aesthetics leads to a new understanding of the performance imitation and transformation of surfaces including the social meaning of such strategies In the case of objects surface treatments are equally important However object form a specific design category which can enter into tension with materiality comes into particular focus Only when materials are shaped do their various qualities emerge and these qualities are to a greater or lesser extent transferred to objects With a focus primarily on Roman Italy the papers in this volume underscore the importance of material design and highlight the awareness of this matter in the ancient world Roman Art in the Private Sphere Elaine K. Gazda, Anne E. Haack, 1991 This is a stimulating book and should be compulsory reading for all students of Roman art Classical Review For all the authors attention to the ensemble a sense of the relation between the formal and the iconographic and the desire to historicize their material contribute to making this anthology unusual in its rigorous and creative attention to the way that art and architecture participate in the construction of the image of the Roman elite Art Bulletin Roman Art in the Private Sphere presents an impressive case for the social and art historical importance of the paintings mosaics and sculptures that filled the private houses of the Roman elite The six essays in this volume range from the first century B C E to the fourth century C E and from the Italian peninsula to the Eastern Empire and North African provinces The essays treat works of art that belonged to every major Roman housing type the single family atrium houses and the insula apartment blocks in Italian cities the dramatically sited villas of the Campanian coast and countryside and the palatial mansions of late antique provincial aristocrats In a complementary fashion the essays consider domestic art in relation to questions of decorum status wealth social privilege and obligation Patrons emerge as actively interested in the character of their surroundings artists appear as responsive to the desire of their patrons The evidence in private art of homosexual conduct in high society is also set forth Originality of subject matter sophisticated appreciation of stylistic and compositional nuance and philosophical perceptions of the relationship of humanity and nature are among the themes that the essays explore Together they demonstrate that Roman domestic art must be viewed on its own terms Elaine K Gazda is Professor of the History of Art and Curator of Hellenistic and Roman Antiquities at the Kelsey Museum of Archaeology University of Michigan
