Go And Sin No More:

Go, and Sin No More Mark Uraime, 2019-07-15 We may be surprised to find that our paradigm of sin is rooted in Greek philosophy and not in Hebraic concepts held by the authors of the Bible The theology of sinful nature is a Hellenized version of the Hebrew yetzer ha ra This book brings light to this historical perspective and will challenge the reader to reexamine their paradigm As communicated by God to Cain in Genesis 4:7 we can overcome sin or be ruled by it It is a choice not a destiny we are born unto And Sin No More Marian J. Morton, 1993 In this compelling study Marian Morton traces the development of public and private health care policies for single mothers and identifies the ways in which attitudes about religion race and cultural definitions of womanhood affected their treatment Focusing on the history of the public hospital and four private maternity homes in Cleveland Morton considers the care of unwed mothers in the context of developing American social policy from the mid nineteenth century to today While social policy has taken on a growing responsibility for health care of dependent people the perception of unwed mothers as sinful by the Christian church and undeserving because their situation was brought about by moral failure has differentiated them from other dependent populations Government provides unmarried mothers with the least support and private maternity homes run mostly by churches have remained committed to the nineteenth century notion of spiritual reclamation As Morton shows regardless of the time period women pregnant out of wedlock have been the dependent population most easily disciplined by private agencies and the most resented and politically vulnerable recipients of public assistance This vital work sheds new light on the current controversies over public assistance and legalized abortion and offers a powerful appraisal of the uncertainties and inequities of American social policy as it applies to women who fail to conform to social definitions of womanhood Go, and sin no more!: Ever wondered what the core focus of Jesus' messages was? Olubusayo Aina, The person of Jesus has often been misconstrued by many mischievous and benighted folks Even the Israelites during bible times expected a Messiah who would come with glamour and rage to end the oppression of the Roman Empire The Christ however came with a different agenda The facets of His entire mission were knit together by a will to serve and to save And to all He ministered to save the Pharisees He never for once robbed off their guilts on their faces He wasn't interested in apportioning blames Neither was He motivated by a zeal to highlight their flaws To the afflicted vile reprobate and condemned sinners the Christ had but just one sentence Go and sin no more Sin No More M.L. Allen George, 2010-07-29 A CHRISTIAN THEOLOGY OF THE CROSS presents three basic standards for discussing the subject and object God. It underscores the connection between God's approval of Abel's offering and the establishment of the priesthood and names Genesis 4:7 as the foundation of the principal doctrines of Christian Salvation. It stresses the importance of Christian freedom and argues that the doctrine of existentialism is rooted in Genesis 4:9b. This book speaks directly to those who are spiritually hungry and thirsty for the Word of God in the twenty-first century. The reader will discover that the author is an analytical thinker. George asserts that the ambiguities of Abel's offering don't negate the concept of his priesthood. He champions the belief that the doctrine of the universality of salvation is a crucial divide between Judaism and Christianity. He insists that the Gospel demands that Christians renounce their hate and intolerance. Gospel Hymns No. 6 James McGranahan, Ira David Sankey, George Coles Stebbins, 1891 Hymnologia Christiana; or, Psalms and hymns selected by B.H. Written largely by ministers, this exceptionally well-printed little magazine contained well-written essays of a moral character, plenty of poetry, articles on historical and scientific matters, and book reviews. Among western writers were Alice Cary, who contributed over a hundred sketches and poems, her sister Phoebe Cary, Otway Curry, Moncure D. Conway, and Joshua R. Giddings. New England contributors included Mrs. Lydia Sigourney, Hannah F. Gould, and Julia C. R. Dorr. By 1851, each issue published a piece of music and two steel plates, usually landscapes or portraits. When Davis E. Clark took over the editorship in 1853 the magazine became brighter and attained a circulation of 40 000 Unlike his predecessors Clark included fictional pieces and made the Repository a magazine for the whole family After the war it began to decline and in 1876 was replaced by the National Repository The Ladies Repository was an excellent representative of the Methodist mind and heart Its essays sketches and poems its good steel engravings and its moral tone gave it a charm all its own Cf American periodicals 1741 1900 Matthew Henry's Commentary on the Whole Bible: Volume V-III - John Matthew Henry,
