Go Mad:

Let's Go Mad Rob Binkley, Murphy Hooker, 2016-09-27 In my madness I bought the ticket I took the ride I needed to live I needed to suffer I had to go Rob Binkley Rob Binkley is a young Silicon Valley entrepreneur who has it all at twenty seven a thriving business beautiful girlfriend and great life But something is missing Despite his success Rob fantasizes about shedding the shackles of his American Dream to live wild and free like his hero Hunter S Thompson As Rob's world begins to fall apart a visit from his Zen madman of a best friend Brian convinces him to hatch an escape plan and follow his bliss for authentic life experiences Will he find the meaning of life while backpacking through twenty three countries or will he and Brian go mad wallowing in the extreme debauchery the world has to offer A tribute to gonzo beat literature Let's Go Mad is the amazing true story of their year abroad backpacking across the globe on a sideways search in all the wrong places with all the wrong people at all the wrong times After Brian's lust for life inspires Rob to embrace his inner lunatic pushing the limits of sanity and their friendship into one merry blur they come to realize there's more to life than mere mad experience They must have a personal renaissance or die trying Soldiers Don't Go Mad Charles Glass, 2023-06-06 The 1 Amazon UK bestseller in War Poetry A brilliant and poignant history of the friendship between two great war poets Siegfried Sassoon and Wilfred Owen alongside a narrative investigation of the origins of PTSD and the literary response to World War I From the moment war broke out across Europe in 1914 the world entered a new unparalleled era of modern warfare Soldiers faced relentless machine gun shelling incredible artillery power flame throwers and gas attacks Within the first four months of the war the British Army recorded the nervous collapse of ten percent of its officers the loss of such manpower to mental illness not to mention death and physical wounds left the army unable to fill its ranks Second Lieutenant Wilfred Owen was twenty four years old when he was admitted to the newly established Craiglockhart War Hospital for treatment of shell shock A burgeoning poet trying to make sense of the terror he had witnessed he read a collection of poems from a fellow officer Siegfried Sassoon and was impressed by his portrayal of the soldier's plight One month later Sassoon himself arrived at Craiglockhart having refused to return to the front after being wounded during battle Though Owen and Sassoon differed in age class education and interests both were outsiders as soldiers unfit to fight as gay men in a homophobic country and as Britons unwilling to support a war likely to wipe out an entire generation of young men But more than anything else they shared a love of the English language and its highest expression of poetry As their friendship evolved over their months as patients at Craiglockhart each encouraged the other in their work in their personal reckonings with the morality of war as well as in their treatment Therapy provided Owen Sassoon and fellow patients with insights that allowed them express themselves better and for the 28 months that Craiglockhart was in operation it notably incubated the era's most significant developments in both psychiatry and poetry Drawing on rich source materials as well as Glass's own deep understanding of trauma and war Soldiers Don't Go Mad tells for the first time the story of the soldiers and doctors who struggled with the effects of industrial warfare on the human psyche Writing beyond the battlefields to the psychiatric couch of Craiglockhart but also the literary salons halls of power and country houses Glass charts the experiences of Owen and Sassoon and of their fellow soldier poets alongside the greater literary response to modern warfare As he investigates the roots of what we now know as post traumatic stress disorder Glass brings historical bearing to how we must consider war s ravaging effects on mental health and the ways in which creative work helps us come to terms with even the darkest of times I'm Not Going Mad, I'm Just Coming into Myself, After Living Through Dying Places Author J'Korey Mills,2011-04-06 A young man who was born and raised in a inner city drug infested community without any guidance he experienced the true struggle of survival and with his strength and trust in God he is still standing after having to battle HIV for twenty years plus Coming Soon I m Not Going Mad The 2nd Time Around After Living Through More Dying Places Author J Korey Mills ibwriting msn com
