Lippit,2018-10-26 This book first published in 1987 studies the forces promoting underdevelopment in China prior to 1949 and the character of the development that has occurred since then It presents a unified perspective for grasping the development process as a whole for relating this to the class structure of China and for considering development in the context of Chinese efforts to carry out a transition to socialism The Fate of British and French Firms in China,

1949-54 A. Shai,1996-10-29 This book takes a somewhat different view of international or diplomatic history by concentrating on the more profound elements of sino foreign relations namely the economic and the commercial especially with regard to Britain and France The immediate post revolutionary period in China is viewed here in the wider context of Britain and France s post imperial decline and expressions such as imperialism imprisoned and captive capitalism are some new and interchangeable terms employed in this context In contrast to the traditional interpretation that Chinese policies regarding the old imperial powers involved nationalization of foreign companies through the expropriation of their property this study shows that almost no such practice took place Rather instances of appropriation only occurred following an indirect subtle and protracted process It is precisely because of the uniqueness of the process and its relatively long duration that the new regime in China succeeded in achieving its goals perhaps even exceeding them This study is based on hitherto inaccessible public private and company archives in Britain France and China Routledge International Handbook of
