Korsgaard,2018-06-18 Christine M Korsgaard presents a compelling new view of humans moral relationships to the other animals She defends the claim that we are obligated to treat all sentient beings as what Kant called ends in themselves Drawing on a theory of the good derived from Aristotle she offers an explanation of why animals are the sorts of beings for whom things can be good or bad She then turns to Kant s argument for the value of humanity to show that rationality commits us to claiming the standing of ends in ourselves in two senses Kant argued that as autonomous beings we claim to be ends in ourselves when we claim the standing to make laws for ourselves and each other Korsgaard argues that as beings who have a good we also claim to be ends in ourselves when we take the things that are good for us to be good absolutely and so worthy of pursuit The first claim commits us to joining with other autonomous beings in relations of moral reciprocity The second claim commits us to treating the good of every sentient creature as something of absolute importance Korsgaard argues that human beings are not more important than the other animals that our moral nature does not make us superior to the other animals and that our unique capacities do not make us better off than the other animals She criticizes the marginal cases argument and advances a new view of moral standing as attaching to the atemporal subjects of lives She criticizes Kant s own view that our duties to animals are indirect and offers a non utilitarian account of the relation between pleasure and the good She also addresses a number of directly practical questions whether we have the right to eat animals experiment on them make them work for us and fight in our wars and keep them as pets and how to understand the wrong that we do when we cause a species to go extinct Gamified Spirit Ajani Abdul-Khaliq,2018-05-19 You can find yourself in unexpected places starting with the games you play or imagine Gamified Spirit introduces you to the world of active self representation through an easy to use game format which will

Nutrition in Crisis Richard David Feinman,2019-03-18 Almost every day it seems a new study is published that shows you are at risk for diabetes cardiovascular disease or death due to something you ve just eaten for lunch Many of us no longer know what to eat or who to believe In Nutrition in Crisis distinguished biochemist Richard Feinman PhD cuts through the noise explaining the intricacies of nutrition and human metabolism in accessible terms He lays out the tools you need to navigate the current confusion in medical literature and its increasingly bizarre reflection in the media At the same time Nutrition in Crisis offers an unsparing critique of the nutritional establishment which continues to demonize fat and refute the benefits of low carbohydrate and ketogenic diets all despite decades of evidence to the contrary Feinman tells the story of the first low carbohydrate revolution fifteen years ago how it began what killed it and why a second revolution is now reaching a fever pitch He exposes the backhanded tactics of a regressive nutritional establishment that ignores good data and common sense and highlights the innovative work of those researchers who have broken rank Entertaining informative and irreverent Feinman paints a broad picture of the nutrition world the beauty of the underlying biochemistry the embarrassing failures of the medical establishment the preeminence of low carbohydrate diets for weight loss diabetes other metabolic diseases and even cancer and what s wrong with the constant reports that the foods we ve been eating for centuries represent a threat rather than a source of pleasure
