The archetypal constellations shaping Vonnegut's early works are shown to be war and fragmentation while those in Bradbury's are family and the wholeness of the sun. Analysis is complemented by the explored significance of illustrations that featured alongside the stories in their first publications. By uncovering the ways these popular writers redressed old myths in new tropes and coined new narrative elements for hopes and fears born of their era, the book reveals a fresh method which can be applied to all imaginative short stories, increasing understanding and critical engagement.

Post Jungian Psychology and the Short Stories of Ray Bradbury and Kurt Vonnegut is an important text for a number of fields from Jungian and Post Jungian studies to short story theories and American studies to Bradbury and Vonnegut studies. Scholars and students of literature will come away with a renewed appreciation for an archetypal approach to criticism while the book will also be of great interest to practising depth psychologists seeking to incorporate short stories into therapy.

Clad in Light Linda L. Baldwin, 2020-01-03 Clad in Light By Linda L. Baldwin In this second part of the novel Clad in Light all the characters in the first part of the novel Even in Death encounter light in its entire spectrum both their visible and invisible capacities They learn that without the light they could not be transformed into better people Light is easier to understand if we were to say love provides the means by which light changes our nature We can see light We can't see love When we see the characters in this novel clad in light it's another way of saying they are clad in love When our characters in this novel are clad in light they grow to realize that light has unified them with the nature of light and how it renews life with its practical nature What they quickly learn is that light has an impractical nature and will not tolerate an abuse of the use of the light that wants to contain itself in their being This leads to the startling realization that light is masking itself as love in its infinite indestructible nature that extends beyond the source of our light the sun Light leads them to know the deep nature of love if one were to doubt that love exists Star Texts
