Gottfried Lindauer Briar Elizabeth R. Gordon, Gordon Briar, Gottfried Lindauer, Peter Stupples, 1989      Colonial Constructs Leonard Bell, 2013-11-01 How did the European settler perceive M ori What images of M ori society and culture did European artists create for their distant audiences What preconceptions and aesthetic models lay behind early European depictions of M ori These are some of the questions explored by art historian Leonard Bell in this major study of the relationship between the visual representation of M ori and the ideology of colonialism He explores the complex and unbalanced cultural interchange between Europeans and M ori in nineteenth century New Zealand in addition to showing how the great range and variety of pictures often revealed more about the artists and their society and its attitudes than they did about M ori themselves This lively and readable book is well illustrated with examples of the artists work and will be an important contribution to the understanding of colonial New Zealand and the role played by the artist in expressing and creating cultural patterns      New Zealand Sculpture Michael Dunn, 2002 This work charts the growth of sculpture in this former British colony from the era of British imports through a period of strong British influence to the more confident art of the 20th century using a wider set of sources and materials and more personal forms of expression      New Zealand Painting Michael Dunn, 2003 Completely revised and updated Chapters have been rewritten Also added in a substantial new chapter on contemporary Maori and Pacific Island painting as well as an acknowledgement of the coming wave of Asian artists      Gottfried Lindauer's New Zealand Ngahiraka Mason, Zara Stanhope, 2016 From the 1870s to the early twentieth century the Bohemian immigrant artist Gottfried Lindauer travelled to marae and rural towns around New Zealand and commissioned by M ori and P keh captured in paint the images of key M ori figures The book presents 67 major portraits and 8 genre paintings alongside detailed accounts of the subject and work followed by essays by leading scholars that take us inside Lindauer and his world from his artistic training in Bohemia to his travels around New Zealand as M ori and P keh commissioned him to paint portraits his artistic techniques and deep relationship with photography Henry Partridge s gallery of Lindauer works on Queen Street in Auckland where M ori visited to see their ancestors and the afterlife of the paintings in marae and memory Publisher information      Galleries of Maoriland Roger Blackley, 2018-10-18 Galleries of Maoriland introduces us to the many ways in which European colonists to New Zealand discovered created propagated and romanticised the Maori world summed up in a popular nickname describing New Zealand Maoriland But Blackley shows that Maori were not merely passive victims they too had a stake in this process of romanticisation What this book asks were some of the Maori purposes that were served by curio displays portrait collections and the wider ethnological culture Galleries of Maoriland looks at Maori prehistory in European art the enthusiasm of settlers and Maori for portraiture and recreations of ancient life the trade in Maori curios and the international exhibition of this colonial culture By illuminating New Zealand s artistic and ethnographic economy this book provides a new understanding of our art and our culture      A Cultural

History of the British Empire John MacKenzie, 2022-12-06 A compelling history of British imperial culture showing how it was adopted and subverted by colonial subjects around the world As the British Empire expanded across the globe it exported more than troops and goods In every colony imperial delegates dispersed British cultural forms Facilitated by the rapid growth of print photography film and radio imperialists imagined this new global culture would cement the unity of the empire But this remarkably wide ranging spread of ideas had unintended and surprising results In this groundbreaking history John M MacKenzie examines the importance of culture in British imperialism MacKenzie describes how colonized peoples were quick to observe British culture and adapted elements to their own ends subverting British expectations and eventually beating them at their own game As indigenous communities integrated their own cultures with the British imports the empire itself was increasingly undermined From the extraordinary spread of cricket and horse racing to statues and ceremonies MacKenzie presents an engaging imperial history one with profound implications for global culture in the present day

Tuhinga, 1995 Atlas of World Art John Onians, 2004 Combines a survey of world art with maps showing the associations and dissemination of culture across the globe The German Connection James N. Bade, 1993 The German connection with New Zealand during the nineteenth century is an important part of New Zealand's heritage but for various reasons it has remained a neglected part of New Zealand history James Bade and his team of contributors seek to redress the balance with this generously illustrated volume which examines not only early German settlement but also the contribution of German and Austrian scientists artists musicians businessmen and missionaries to the New Zealand way of life New Zealand Books in Print, 1987

The Social Life of Materials Adam Drazin, Susanne Küchler, 2020-06-08 Materials play a central role in society Beyond the physical and chemical properties of materials their cultural properties have often been overlooked in anthropological studies finished products have been perceived as social yet the materials which comprise them are considered raw or natural The Social Life of Materials proposes a new perspective in this interdisciplinary field Diverting attention from the consumption of objects the book looks towards the properties of materials and how these exist through many transformations in a variety of cultural contexts Human societies have always worked with materials However the customs and traditions surrounding this differ according to the place the time and the material itself Whether or not the material is man made materials are defined by social intervention Today these constitute one of the most exciting areas of global scientific research and innovation harboring the potential to act as key vehicles of change in the world But this materials revolution has complex social implications Smart materials are designed to anticipate our actions and needs yet we are increasingly unable to apprehend the composite materials which comprise new products Bringing together ethnographic studies of cultures from around the world this collection explores the significance of materials by moving beyond questions of what may be created from them Instead the text argues that the materials themselves represent a shifting ground around which relationships identities and powers are constantly formed and dissolved in the act of making and remaking The
