

Chapter 4 Concepts of Psychobiology

- The frontal lobe may play a role in the emotional experience, as evidenced by changes in mood and character after damage to this area. The frontal lobe may also be involved (indirectly through association fibers linked to primary sensory areas) in thinking and perceptual interpretation of information.
- The alterations include fear, aggressiveness, depression, rage, euphoria, irritability, and apathy and are likely related to a frontal lobe connection to the limbic system.
- The limbic system sometimes called the "emotional brain" is associated with feelings of fear and anxiety; anger and aggression; love, joy, and hope; and with sexuality and social behavior.

The Nervous System

- Neurotransmitters are chemicals that convey information across synaptic clefts to neighboring target cells.
- Neurotransmitters play an important role in human emotions and behavior and are the target for the mechanism of action in many psychotropic medications.
- Many neurotransmitters exist in the central and peripheral nervous systems, but only a limited number have implications for psychiatry.
- Major categories of neurotransmitters
 - Cholinergic - acetylcholine
 - Monoamines - norepinephrine, dopamine, serotonin, histamine
 - Amino acids - Inhibitory: GABA, glycine
-Excitatory: glutamate, aspartate
 - Neuropeptides - opioid, substance P, somatostatin

Uttal, 2014-06-27 Originally published in 1978 this book develops a conceptual synthesis of the field of physiological psychology the science specifically concerned with the relationship between the brain and the mind It was designed to elucidate the important questions under investigation the basic intellectual and technical problems that were encountered and the significance of the major empirical results of the time Of equal or even greater importance is the author's derivation of the general principles relating brain and mind that had emerged after decades of modern research into this important question Included in the volume are historical and philosophical perspectives on the mind brain problem as well as extensive discussions of instruments methodology empirical findings and theory Here is a powerful heuristic tool that informs the reader about the concepts and ideas implicit in this science rather than simply exhaustively listing experimental results The author does not ignore findings he organizes them into three broad categories localization representation and learning then emphasizes the relationships among experiments
