Form And Space Vision:

Form and Space Vision Yves Le Grand,1967      Form and Space Vision. Revised Edition Y. Le Grand,1967      James Turrell Craig E. Adcock,James Turrell,1990-01-01 A much needed antidote to Art Writing as it is encountered in the art mags his writing is fluent and the style attractive and engaging Stephen Foster University of Iowa      The Contemporary Review,1870      Knowing and Feeling: a Contribution to Psychology. With a Memoir. [With Portraits.] William Henry Smith (of the Middle Temple.),1874      Urban Spaces in Japan Christoph Brumann,Evelyn Schulz,2012 Urban Spaces in Japan explores the workings of power money and the public interest in the planning and design of Japanese space Through a set of vivid case studies of well known Japanese cities including Tokyo Kobe and Kyoto this book examines the potential of civil society in contemporary planning debates Further it addresses the implications of Japan s biggest social problem the demographic decline for Japanese cities and demonstrates the serious challenges and exciting possibilities that result from the impending end of Japan s urban growth Presenting a synthetic approach that reflects both the physical aspects and the social significance of urban spaces this book scrutinizes the precise patterns of urban expansion and shrinkage In doing so it also summarizes current theories of public space urban space and the body in space which are relevant to both Japan and the wider international debate With detailed case studies and more general reflections from a broad range of disciplines this collection of essays demonstrates the value of cross disciplinary cooperation As such it is of interest to students and scholars of geography and urban planning as well as history anthropology and cultural studies      Gravenhurst; Or, Thoughts on Good and Evil William Smith,1875      Contemporary Review,1870      Objects in Air Margareta Ingrid Christian,2021-06-07 Margareta Ingrid Christian unpacks the ways in which around 1900 art scholars critics and choreographers wrote about the artwork as an actual object in real time and space surrounded and fluently connected to the viewer through the very air we breathe Theorists such as Aby Warburg Alois Riegl Rainer Maria Rilke and the choreographer Rudolf Laban drew on the science of their time to examine air as the material space surrounding an artwork establishing its milieu atmosphere or environment Christian explores how the artwork s external space was seen to work as an aesthetic category in its own right beginning with Rainer Maria Rilke s observation that Rodin s sculpture exhales an atmosphere and that Cezanne s colors create a calm silken air that pervades the empty rooms where the paintings are exhibited Writers created an early theory of unbounded form that described what Christian calls an artwork s ecstasis or its ability to stray outside its limits and engender its own space Objects viewed in this perspective complicate the now fashionable discourse of empathy aesthetics the attention to self projecting subjects and the idea of the modernist self contained artwork For example Christian invites us to historicize the immersive spatial installations and environments that have arisen since the 1960s and to consider their origins in turn of the twentieth century aesthetics Throughout this beautifully written work Christian offers ways for us to rethink entrenched narratives of aesthetics and modernism and to revisit alternatives      The Transformation

Trinity Bruce H. McClintock, 2002 The world that lies in store for us over the next 25 years will surely challenge our received wisdom about how to protect American interests and advance American values With these words the Commission on National Security in the 21st Century captured the exciting challenges this study sets out to explore First this study develops a generalized model for United States military transformations in peacetime To develop the model the author combines observations made by several historians about recurrent trends in military strategic innovation The author concludes that after taking into account inevitable uncertainty there are three identifiable factors that occur in most cases of military transformation The three key factors are the need for a coherent congruent vision an emerging culture that bolsters the vision and develops competing theories of victory to fulfill the vision and a process for honestly assessing the maturing vision and its supporting theories of victory After defining the limitations of the model and its usefulness the author applies the framework to an important aspect of national security the future of space power The framework is used to study the recent approach to space power from a civilian policy and military application perspective Application of the transformation model highlights some important points about the present approach for developing space power First the civilian vision is not completely congruent with the military vision and the military vision is inconsistent Second the military primarily the Air Force has made moderate but hesitant progress towards nurturing a space power culture with some unexpected consequences Third the military has an uncoordinated haphazard approach to assessment that blurs the merit of the space power vision and associated theories

Public Places - Urban Spaces Matthew Carmona, Tim Heath, Taner Oc, Steve Tiesdell, 2012-09-10 Public Places Urban Spaces is a holistic guide to the many complex and interacting dimensions of urban design The discussion moves systematically through ideas theories research and the practice of urban design from an unrivalled range of sources It aids the reader by gradually building the concepts one upon the other towards a total view of the subject The author team explain the catalysts of change and renewal and explore the global and local contexts and processes within which urban design operates The book presents six key dimensions of urban design theory and practice the social visual functional temporal morphological and perceptual allowing it to be dipped into for specific information or read from cover to cover This is a clear and accessible text that provides a comprehensive discussion of this complex subject

Light, 1906 John McGahern John Singleton, 2023-11-17 John McGahern 1934 2006 believed that fiction could act as a window on the world Such windows however frame our fields of vision alter and shape our perspectives Far from being static the artist's perspective must continually evolve This book provides a literary analysis of John McGahern's artistic and poetic vision his ways of looking examining the shifting focus of this vision how and why it develops what effects such developments have on the work's forms and how these forms evolve at what times and in response to what stimuli This volume demonstrates that such developments mirror an analogous social expansion during the latter half of the twentieth century and argues that McGahern's literary spaces relate to his efforts to realise a more accommodating form to envelop the structureless society While the number of critical studies on McGahern has increased markedly in recent years research still tends to fall into the well established camps of social realism or literary aestheticism This text aims to explore the common ground between the material context and social worlds of each work and the hermeneutics of a traditional literary investigation It traverses such divides through close readings of McGahern s work with attention to the topo-poetical production of images of the house the home and the family unit The book ultimately shows how attention to McGahern s literary spaces provides a greater understanding of the aesthetic vision and form of each novel and allows us to understand those aspects relative to the social cultural and political undercurrents of the works individually and collectively Oral

Campbell,2004 The Kansas City suburb of Independence Missouri is associated primarily with its most famous son President Harry Truman Yet Independence is also home to a unique and complex religious landscape regarded as sacred space by hundreds of thousands of people associated with the Latter Day Saint family of churches In 1831 Joseph Smith the founder of the Latter Day Saint LDS movement declared Independence the site of the New Jerusalem where followers would build a sacred city the center of Zion Smith prophesied that Jesus Christ would return in millennial and glorious advent to Independence an act that would make the city an American counterpart to old world Jerusalem Smith s plan would have mixed the best qualities of nineteenth century American pastoral and urban psyche However the great splintering among returning Latter Day Saint groups has led to divergent beliefs and multiple interpretations of millennial place Images of the New Jerusalem culls viewpoints from publications and interviews and contrasts them with official church doctrines and mapped land holdings For example with a desire to attract mainstream American the Western LDS Church which holds the largest amount of land in northwestern Missouri keeps fairly silent on the New Jerusalem while the RLDS Church now the Community of Christ has dropped millennial claims gradually adopting a liberal secular style of pseudo Protestantism Smaller groups independent of these two see sacred space in more spatially and doctrinally limited ways The religious ecology among Latter Day Saint churches allows each group its place in the public spotlight and a number of sociopolitical mechanisms reduce conflict among them Nonetheless Independence has developed many traits of the world s most seasoned and conflicted sacred places over a relatively short time This book opens the field of scholarship on this region where profound spatial and doctrinal variation continues Craig S Campbell is professor of geography at Youngstown State University He has published articles in Journal of Cultural Geography Cartographica The Professional Geographer Political Geography and other journals

Spatial Orders, Social Forms Adrian Anagnost,2022-01-01 A fascinating look at modernist urban planning and spatial theories in Brazilian 20th century art and architecture Exploring the intersections among art architecture and urbanism in Brazil from the 1920s through the 1960s Adrian Anagnost shows how modernity was manifested in locally specific spatial forms linked to Brazil s colonial and imperial past Discussing the ways artists and architects understood urban planning as a tool to reorganize the world control human action and remedy social problems Anagnost offers a nuanced account of the seeming conflict between modernist aesthetics and a predominately poor and historically disenfranchised urban public with particular attention to regionalist forms of urban development Organized as a series of case studies of projects such as Fl vio de Carvalho s performative urbanism the construction of the Ministry of Education and Public Health building Lina Bo and Pietro Maria Bardi s efforts to modernize Brazilian museums and H lio Oiticica s interstitial works this study is full of groundbreaking insights into the ways that modernist theories of urbanism shaped the art and architecture of 20th century Brazil Disturbances of the Visual Functions Wilhelm Lohmann,1914
