Fate and Fortune in European Thought, ca. 1400-1650 Ovanes Akopyan, 2021-04-26 If the universe were conceived to fulfill a certain divine plan or to manifest God's will and glory what would the place of an individual be within this plan What is more if from the very beginning of its existence and through divine providence it were predestined to be driven toward a certain end how could people adjust their individual lives to the incognizable universal design and react to the obscure future fraught with both luck and failure These questions which have occupied humanity for centuries formed a remarkable element of early modern European thought This collection of essays presents new insights into what shaped and constituted reflections on fate and fortune between roughly 1400 and 1650 both in word and image This volume argues that these ideas were emblematic of a more fundamental argument about the self society and the universe and shows that their influence was more widespread geographically and thematically than hitherto assumed Contributors Damiano Acciarino

Library of Famous Fiction, 1873 The Conquest of Canada Wendel Messer, 2008-08 Disputing New France Helen Dewar, 2022-01-15 From the early sixteenth century thousands of fishermen traders from Basque Breton and Norman ports crossed the Atlantic each year to engage in fishing whaling and fur trading which they regarded as their customary right In the seventeenth century these rights were challenged as France sought to establish an imperial presence in North America granting trading privileges to certain individuals and companies to enforce its territorial and maritime claims Bitter conflicts ensued precipitating more than two dozen lawsuits in French courts over powers and privileges in New France In Disputing New France Helen Dewar demonstrates that empire formation in New France and state formation in France were mutually constitutive Through its exploration of legal suits among privileged trading companies independent traders viceroys and missionaries this book foregrounds the integral role of French courts in the historical construction of authority in New France and the fluid nature of legal political and commercial authority in France itself State and empire formation converged in the struggle over sea power control over New France was a means to consolidate maritime authority at home and supervise major Atlantic trade routes The colony also became part of international experimentations with the chartered company an innovative Dutch and English instrument adapted by the French to realize particular strategic political and maritime objectives Tracing the developing tools of governance privilege granting and capital formation in New France Disputing New France offers a novel conception of empire one that is messy and contingent responding to pressures from within and without and deeply rooted in metropolitan affairs
