are ready for adoption or adaptation and exemplars to assist with designing and implementing writing lessons across the middle years of school. It addresses writing from a multimodal perspective while also highlighting the importance of teaching linguistic aspects of text design such as sentence structure, vocabulary and spelling as foundations for meaning making. Contributors argue that students need to continue to develop their skills in both handwriting and keyboarding. Examples of the teaching of writing across disciplines are presented through a range of vignettes. Strategies for assessing student writing and for supporting students with diverse needs are also explored. With contributions from leading literacy educators, Teaching Writing is an invaluable resource for primary, secondary and pre-service teachers.

Practise Foundation Handwriting: Stage 1 Year 2 Helen Lalic, Karen Francis, 2006      Australian Journal of Remedial Education, 1986      NSW Foundation Handwriting: Year 2. Looking legible Christine Evely, JH1NSW06, Murray Evely, 1994      Victorian Targeting Handwriting Tricia Dearborn, Jo Ryan, Stephen Michael King, 2004. Targeting Handwriting Victoria Year 6 Student Book focuses on developing students' own styles while emphasising fluency and legibility. The book includes mature real world applications e.g. developing a signature and tips for note taking. Teaching pages with two sets of copying lines for reinforcement and extra practice, a section on calligraphy. The Targeting Handwriting Years 3-6 Student Books have been designed to make learning cursive handwriting as easy as possible for students. New skills are introduced sequentially so that students build on skills one by one and aren't called on to use skills that haven't been introduced yet. Wherever possible, students copy words underneath models so that left-handers aren't disadvantaged and practice of numerals and punctuation is integrated into the writing activities. The books also encourage and support student self-assessment.

Developing Writers Across the Primary and Secondary Years Honglin Chen, Debra Myhill, Helen Lewis, 2020-03-09. Writing development and pedagogy is a high priority area, particularly with standardised testing showing declines in writing across time and through the years of schooling. However, to date, there are relatively few texts for teachers and teacher educators which detail how best to enable the children to become confident, autonomous and agentic writers of the future. Developing Writers Across the Primary and Secondary Years provides cumulative insights into how writing develops and how it can be taught across years of compulsory schooling. This edited collection is a timely and original contribution addressing a significant literacy need for teachers of writing across three key stages of writing development: covering early 4-7 years old, primary 7-12 years old and secondary years 12-16 years old in Anglophone countries. Each section addresses two broader themes: becoming a writer with a child-oriented focus and writing pedagogy with a teacher-oriented focus. Together, the book brings to bear rigorous research and deep professional understanding of the writing classroom. It offers a novel approach conceiving of writing development as a dynamic and multidimensional concept. Such an integrated interdisciplinary understanding enables pedagogical thinking and development to address more holistically the complex act of writing.
