Frying Tonight:

Fish and Chips Panikos Panayi, 2022-08-22 Deep fried in facts and cultural insight a mouth watering history of this briny staple complete with salt and vinegar mushy peas and tartar sauce Double decker buses bowler hats and cricket may be synonymous with British culture but when it comes to their cuisine nothing comes to mind faster than fish and chips Sprinkled with salt and vinegar and often accompanied by mushy peas fish and chips were the original British fast food In this innovative book Panikos Panayi unwraps the history of Britain's most popular takeout relating a story that brings up complicated issues of class identity and development Investigating the origins of eating fish and potatoes in Britain Panayi describes the birth of the meal itself telling how fried fish was first introduced and sold by immigrant Jews before it spread to the British working classes in the early nineteenth century He then moves on to the technological and economic advances that led to its mass consumption and explores the height of fish and chips popularity in the first half of the twentieth century and how it has remained a favorite today despite the arrival of new contenders for the title of Britain's national dish Revealing its wider ethnic affiliations within the country he examines how migrant communities such as Italians came to dominate the fish and chip trade in the twentieth century Brimming with facts anecdotes and images of historical and modern examples of this batter dipped meal Fish and Chips will appeal to all foodies who love this quintessentially British dish

A Fish Supper and a Chippy Smile: Part 1 Hilda Kemp, Cathryn Kemp, 2015-07-02 A FISH SUPPER AND A CHIPPY SMILE can either be read as full length eBook or in 3 serialised eBook only parts This is PART 1 OF 3 Oi Hilda the sign outside says you're frying today but I ain't seeing nothing done in ere The voice cut through my daydream startling me into remembering where I was standing in the fish and chip shop I worked in We opened for business at 5 p.m. and already there was a queue of hungry customers on the cobbled street of London's East End In 1950s and 60s Bermondsey the fish and chip shop was at the centre of the community And at the heart of the chippy itself was Hooray Hilda Kemp a spirited matriarch who dispensed fish suppers and an abundance of sympathy to a now vanished world of East Enders For Hooray Hilda knew all too well what it was like to feel real aching hunger Growing up in the slums of 1920s south east London the daughter of a violent alcoholic who drank away his wages rather than put food on the table she could spot when a customer was in need and would sneak them an extra big portion of chips on the house As Hilda works in the chippy six days a week cutting the potatoes and frying the fish yesterday's rag becoming today's dinner plate she hears all the gossip from the close knit community There are rumours that the gang wars are hotting up the Richardsons and the Krays are playing out their fights across south east London And the industrial strike is carrying on for a painfully long time for the mothers with many mouths to feed At home Hilda's children are latchkey kids letting themselves in from school and helping themselves to whatever is in the larder until she gets in from her long hard day at work Despite tragedy striking her family Hilda never complained of the loss of her daughter at a tragically young age nor the tough upbringing she narrowly escaped With a cast of colourful characters dirty ragamuffins struggling housewives rough diamond gang members Hooray Hilda's story is one of grit romance nostalgia and British endurance Told to her granddaughter Cathryn this memoir is the uplifting sequel to WE AIN'T GOT NO DRINK PA and is a testament to a woman who lived life to the full who enjoyed laughter and loved fiercely even though her heart was broken many times over Crime & Detection Victor Canning, 2015-10-16 Thirty seven stories of crime and detection by Victor Canning originally published in newspapers and magazines in the 1950s and 1960s

'We Ain't Got No Drink, Pa' Hilda Kemp, Cathryn Kemp, 2015-02-26 We ain't got no drink Pa I trembled as I spoke Then somewhere inside me I found the anger the courage to answer him back We don't have no grog cos you drank it all I knew he was going for me tonight so I reckoned I might as well go down fighting after all Growing up in the slums of 1920s and 30s Bermondsey Hilda Kemp's childhood was one of chaos and fear Every day was battleground a fight to survive and a fight to be safe For Hilda knew what it was to grow up in desperate poverty to have to scratch around for a penny to buy bread to feel the seeping cold of a foggy docklands night with only a thin blanket to cover her to share her filthy mattress with her brothers and sisters fighting for space while huddling to keep warm She knew what it was to feel hunger not the impatient growl of a tummy that has missed a meal proper hunger the type that aches in your soul as much as your belly The eldest of five children Hilda was the daughter of a hard drinker and hard hitter as well A casual dockworker by day a bare knuckle fighter by night and a lousy drunk to boot her pa honed his fists down the Old Kent Road and Blackfriars and it was Hilda or her ma who bore the brunt of them at home This is the powerful and moving memoir of Hilda's childhood growing up in dark filthy crime ridden Bermondsey a place where you knew your neighbours where you kept your eyes down and your ears shut as defence against the gangs at war in the streets It s a time when days were spent running wild down the docklands jumping onto barges and stealing coal racing through the dank back streets of east London like water rats dodging the milk cart or the rag and bone man And out of this bleak landscape emerges a brave resilient young girl whose life is a testament to the power of love and good humour Moving dazzling and sombre by turns once opened this brilliant seductive book will not let you rest
